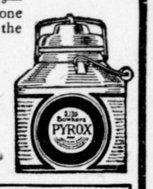
"For Potato Blight, I don't think PYROX can be Beaten."

"I have used Pyrox this season against bugs and blight. It certainly does the trick with the bugs, and for blight, I don't think Pyrox can be beaten."

Such is the experience of Mr. E. R. Dissinger, Campbelltown, Pa., who ends his letter by saying—"I certainly would not do without Pyrox when growing potatoes."

No Fruit or potato grower can afford to overlook Pyrox. The fact that it serves two purposes is not a mere chance—but the result of scientifically uniting powerful insecticides and fungicides—thus making the one application do the work of two.



We shall be glad to send you the Pyrox booklet, and can supply any quantity you want, in small crocks, kegs, or barrels.

THE object of the Bill filed in the above entitled case is to procure a Divorce, "a vinculo matrimonii," for the Plaintiff, a resident of Kent county, Maryland, from the Defendant.

The Bill states:

1st. That on the 17th day of September, 1917, he filed a Bill of Complaint in this cause against his wife, Dorothy M. Mason asking that he be divorced a vinculo matrimonii from his said wife, Dorothy M. Mason.

2nd. That he alleged in said Bill of Complaint that the said Dorothy M. GERMAN DELUSIONS

Commenting on the part that the United States has played and is to play in the war, one of the leading German newspapers admits that Germany entirely misunderstood American sentiment. This is a frank admission. It shows that Germany's sources of information in this country were faulty. Germany had her agents here during the long period of neutrality, agents who were supposed to be gauging American sentiment and also under cover doing all the damage they could to this country. If the Kaiser's government at that time misunderstood sentiment in the United States, there are many indications that there is still much misunderstanding, for the German newspaper referred to is an exception to the rule. For instance, another German newspaper declares that American economic assistances to the Allies has now passed its zenith. How utterly foolish such a statement. But it may be necessary, from the German point of view, to bolster up the morale of the German people. Instead of having passed its zenith, American economic and every other kind of assistance has only begun. The country is just beginning to make itself felt. Not only this, but the President's recent statements regarding the use of force without limit must have escaped the attention of the German writers.

The German people have been deluded by most of their newspapers. Apparently they do not realize what American aid to the Allies really means. American conceptions of government, fair play, differ entirely from those conceptions of Prussia. There is no common meeting ground. The ideas are irreconcilable. Autocracy cannot be a bedfellow of democracy. Had the German empire been located in this hemisphere, sooner or later it would have sought mastery and the subordination of other people on the continent to its imperil will. Some day the Germans will be rudely awakened from their delusion. And in more ways than one will pay a heavy penalty. Retribution will overtake a nation that has drenched the world in blood in an attempt to satisfy the imperialistic ambitions of arrogant ruling caste.

$25,000 IN PRIZES

Through a co-operative plan of campaign worked out today between the Maryland State Food Administration and the National War Garden Commission of Washington, the war garden drive will be carried into every county in the State.

Mr. Baetjer and Mr. Nelson are anxious to see as many as possible of the patriotic home producers of Maryland, entered in the contest for $25,000 in prizes which have been offered to those who make the best records in their gardens.

"These prizes are given with no other thought than to increase the food supply," said Mr. Nelson. "In joining the contest no one pledges himself to anything. All he does is to announce his desire to try for one of the money prizes. He is not bound by any rules to produce or to save any certain amount of food. He is not being paid for his patriotism, but merely strives for his own individual benefit, as well as to help the nation win the war, to raise and then to can and dry as much food as possible.

"The State Food Administration feels that every gardner in Maryland should consider it the higher honor to be a contestant in such a race. Whether the home 'soldier of the soil' wins one of the prizes or not, he will have performed patriotic service which cannot be measured in money value. No matter when the garden was planted, anyone who is cultivating a plot this year is eligible."

The cards are being distributed to the war gardeners by the various county representatives of the food administration.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of I. MEDFORD YOUNGER, who departed this life six months ago, November 30, 1917.

Out in old Union church-yard,
neneath the sod and dew;
Never a moment forgotten,
In silence we think of you.
Our hearts are sad and lonely,
Our grief too deep to tell;
But the time will come, we care not when,
When we shall with you dwell.

LOVING WIFE AND CHILDREN.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband, A. A. ALEXANDER, who departed this life six years ago to-day, June 8th, 1912.

My life is so weary, so full of sadness and pain,
Each day brings its shadows, its mists and its rains;
There is no ray of runshine my pathway to cheer,
But my sorrow would vanish if my husband was here.
Each day hope for me is blooming, but blooms to decay,
Each joy that I treasure soon withers away;
My dreams full of sadness alone disappear,
But now all would brighten if my husband was here.
Gone, but not forgotten.

BY HIS LOVING WIFE, ANNIE ALEXANDER.

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, MARY E. DOWNEY, who departed this life April 4th, 1918.

Thy hands are clasped upon thy breast,
We have kissed thy loving brow;
And in our aching hearts we know
We have no moteer now.
Dear mother, how can I give you up,
You whom I loved so well;
How can I drink this bitter cup,
And say the word farewell. ANNIE.
When we saw our precious mother,
Whom we tended with such care,
Slowly fading from our presence,
How our aching hearts despaired. LENORE.
No words will ever be so sweet
As the words she used to say;
No hour will ever be so sad
As the hour she passed away. LEMUEL.
Nobly at her post she stood,
My mother, fond and true;
Loved by all her friends so well,
And kind to all she knew. MINNIE.
Peaceful be thy rest, dear mother,
It is sweet to breathe thy name;
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same. ROBERT.

BECK.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear son and brother, Herbert R., who departed this life one year ago, June 11, 1917.

The days have been long since you left us dear son,
And the nights are lonely and drear;
But our home would be full of life and light,
If you were only here.
If you were only here, dear brother,
Our joy would be complete;
For you always had a smiling face
For every one you would meet.
A faithful son and brother dear,
But God took you away from us,
Just in your youth and brightest hours,
But God's will be done, not ours.
When we think of all the sorrow
Of this sinful world at best,
Then it is I softly say,
That I am thankful you're at rest.

By his broken-hearted Mother and Sister Hattie.
