A very quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Weist on Thursday evening, June 20, 1918, when Miss Clara Elizabeth, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benj. E. HAND OF DEATH

Adam F. Huey, one of the most widely known citizens of upper Kent, died at his home in Massey Sunday morning about 10.30, aged 70. He had been a great sufferer for several years with heart trouble and Bright's disease, and while his death was not unexpected, it came suddenly. He was sitting in a chair and had just taken a glass of milk handed him by his daughter, when he complained of a pain in the region of the heart, and expired instantly.

He was a man big of heart and generous indeed. He conducted for many years the largest hardware and implement house in this section and made it a success. He was an active Democrat but never held any office except that of an executive character. He was a vestryman of Massey P. E. Church and a liberal contributor to this and all other worthy purposes. He was one of the charter members of the Third National Bank and one of its active supporters.

He is survived by a devoted and loving daughter, Miss Margaret, and two brothers, Isaac N. and James Huey, residing in and near Massey, Messrs. I. Frank Huey, of Massey and W. Robert Huey, of Chestertown, are nephews. The former has been associated with his uncle in business at Massey. Funeral services were held Wednesday at St. Clement P. E. Church Massey, interment in cemetery at Massey. A large crowd attended the funeral.

Clarence Leigh Boone, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Boone, died at his home near Betterton, on last Friday after a short illness of Bright's disease, aged 21 years and 6 months. He was a young man of fine qualities and was respected and loved by the entire community, and his death cast a shadow over the neighborhood. His funeral was held at the Betterton M. E. Church on Sunday at three o'clock, and a large concourse of friends and neighbors witnessed the high esteem in which he was held. The bearers were: Allen Robinson, Wm. Owens, Edward Myers, William Smith, with interment at Still Pond Cemetery. Undertaker, Wm. H. Krusen.

Mrs. Mary A. Anthony, wife of James T. Anthony, died at her home in Chestertown, last Saturday night, aged 67 years. She was devoted wife, a sacrificing mother and a Christian. She had been ill for several years following an operation for tumor. Besides her husband she is survived by seven children, viz: Randolph Anthony, of Ohio; Mrs. F. T. English, of New Jersey; Mrs. Clements Jester, of Virginia; Mrs. J. S. Kreeger, Chestertown; Miss Estelle, who has been employed in government work in Washington; Rumsey, farmer and florist, near Chestertown, and Townsend, who is farming near Kennedyville.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from her late residence, conducted by the Rev. T. F. Beauchamp; interment at Hillsboro, Caroline county. The pall bearers were her sons and sons-in-law. Undertaker, W. T. Hicks.

Bradford Camp, formerly a well-known resident of Broad Neck, this county, died last Sunday, June 23, in Baltimore, aged 81 years. He leaves a widow and two daughters, Mrs. Carroll C. Perkins and Mrs. Mary H. Duvall, all of Baltimore. His remains were brought to Kent via Tolchester on Tuesday and interred at St. Paul's, after religious rites by the Rev. Dr. Dickerson. The pall-bearers were: S. Scott Beck, Hynson Beck, Dr. C. W. Whaland, John L. Deputy, Walter B. Strong and Thomas W. Trew. Undertaker, Charles L. Dodd.

Wilbur B. Stephens died Saturday morning at St. Joseph's Hospital, Nashua, where he had been for the ten days previous. An operation for appendicitis was too late to save his life, as peritonitis had set in before Mr. Stephens reached the hospital.

The deceased was 46 years of age and is survived by his widow, daughter and five sisters. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon and burial was in Laurel Hill Cemetery. Rev. E. P. Daniels was the clergyman and the bearers were Henry P. Herlihy, Stanley H. Abbott, Geo. Badger and Lester Richardson.

Mr. Stephens was a native of Kent county and went to Wilton about ten years ago. There he purchased the George Burton farm on the eastern edge of Wilton, near Abbott hill, and partly in Milford. He has added much to his holdings and especially has planted fruit trees. Last year he sold more than 5000 baskets of peaches and 1000 barrels of apples.

Last fall Mr. and Mrs. Stephens started on an automobile trip to Washington, D. C., and his old home here. Soon after they started fire destroyed his barn with six horses, 15 cows and much other property.

Mr. Stephens left, besides his wife and child, his mother and five sisters, Mrs. Charles B. Felch of San Francisco, Cal., Mrs. E. R. Bates, of Merrimack, Miss Martha B. Stevens, of Baltimore, and Misses Annie L. and Alinda M. Stephens, Washington, D C.

For several years Mr. Stephens was connected with the Library Bureau in Boston. In 1898 he married Miss Edwina Monroe and they lived in Roslindale until 1902 when he went to Wilton.
