AN APPEAL TO KENT COUNTAINS

Some weeks ago at a formal meeting of a goodly number of representative citizens from our county, in the interests of the Workshop for the Blind in Baltimore, a committee was appointed to raise in the county our proportion of $100,000 in the State for the better equipment of that most worthy and most needed institution. The main committee has appointed a sub-committee for each of the seven districts in the county and has deputized to each of these committees the duty of raising $225 from their district to that end.

The effort is, one not only to make more ample provision for the 1300 blind in the State. But to be prepared to take care of any of our young men who may return from the war blinded by their trench life. As yet we have been called upon to give outright but very little as an evidence of our patriotism. The Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. are the only causes to which we have actually given. In the case of the blind, we are making an effort to take care of our own. And to enable these unfortunates to become useful self-supporting citizens. It is hoped that all to whom application is made will respond promptly and liberally with willing minds and glad hearts.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE PRESIDENT

President Lewin W. Wickes and Wm. W. Beck, of the Board of Visitors and Governors of WashingtonCollege, on Wednesday conferred with President Goodnow, of Johns Hopkins University, on the selection of a president of the institution, to succeed Dr. Cain, who has resigned, and who has entered commercial life.

Messrs. Beck and Wickes, who represent the college, invited Dr. Goodnow to present recomendations for a president. Their conference was preliminary and took a wide range, without a specific recommendation. During the conversation Mr. Wickes suggested that a Southern educator would probably come nearer meeting the demands of the college than an educator from the North. President Goodnow said that the suggestion was prabably in line with the environment of the college. He said his acquaintance with Northern educators was more extensive than with Southern. He advised a full survey of the field before a final decision was made.

The trustees of the college have determined to infuse new life into it, to broaden its curriculum and enlarge its attendance. The annual salary of the president is $3,000, with free house rent.

A BIG LOSS OF HOGS

A. Carroll Willson, near Rock Hall, has been losing hogs from cholera hereto fore and thought he was going to raise a fine pen this year but has changed his mind. Last Friday night he lost 13 one hundred pound shotes and three big sows besides a fine horse. It seems that a lot of spoiled asparagus had been emptied into the garbage barrell and was fed to these hogs causing their death. The horse also ate some of the poisoned grass with fatal results.

WHEAT YIELDS DISAPPOINTING

The drought which has settled over Kent has made threshing quite general and the grain comes out in fine shape. The yield, however, in most instances is disappointing.

Thomas Bryan on the Crew farm did got over 18 bushels to the acre on an average, nor did Wm. E. Deford on the Crosby farm. Josiah Massey got 21 bushels and Edward Robinson on the Barroll farm got over 20 bushels. Henry Diker in lower Kent got 15 bushels. Mr. Goodman on the Jarrell farm got about 16 bushels while Howard Reese on the Jump farm fell far below that. Kennard Aldridge got 21 bushels per acre.

Local buyers state that nearly all the wheat in Kent grades No. 3 for which they offer $2.20.

P. Medford Brooks states that under the new rules he will be unable to store wheat for farmers and deliver flour for same as desired. Only small quantities can be received for grinding into flour. He will tell you the details.

HAND OF DEATH

William B. Reed, Jr., a former resident of Centreville, was run over and killed by an auto truck Monday last in New York.

Jacob B. Maxwell, son of the late Alexander Maxwell, of Middletown, died in Chester on Saturday. He lived in Philadelphia and worked in an Eddystone plant and was taken sick upon his arrivel there.

Early Wednesday morning of last week Mrs. William C. McFarland, of Burrisville, fell from a hayloft a distance of only ten or twelve feet, receiving injuries which caused her death in less than two hours. She had gone to the barn and went up into the loft to get a barrel of potatoes, and it was while attempting to get down with the potatoes that she in some way missed her footing on the ladder and fell, breaking five ribs, the points of which punctured and lacerated her lungs. In this horribly injured condition she crawled to her dwelling a considerable distance away, and feebly called for help. Ready hands lifted her tenderly and a physician was hurriedly summoned. She is survived by her husband, William C. McFarland, and the following children: Mrs. Humphries Chance, of Kent county; William E. McFarland, of Baltimore; Rev. Blanche McFarland, of Idaho; and Allen, who lives at home.

Joseph B. Reed, son of George R. and F. P. Reed, formerly of Kent county, passed into internal rest at his home in Lebanon, Del., on Tuesday, July 9, 1918, at 1.15 a. m., aged 58 years. Will be buried in Silver Brook Cemetery, Wilmington, Del. Joseph B. Reed was born in Kent county, Md., on the old Usilton homestead on Noyember 14, 1850. On December 29, 1874, he married Mary Bowers, daughter of James L. and Rebecca R. Bowers, who still survive him, also a son, Joseph B., Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Lucretia M. Dame, and two granddaughters.

Emily Elizabeth Glenn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar S. Glenn, died June 25th, 1918, age 5 months.

David C. Elburn, one of Kent's best citizens, died at his home in Piney Neck Thursday, aged 72. He leaves a widow and one son, Owen. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias and a generous and highly esteemed citizen. The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock today, interment at Wesley Chapel Cemetery, Rev. T. C. Smoot officiating.

George H., the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hopkins, of near Turners Creek, died last Wednesday, aged 1 year and 3 months. Funeral was held on Friday conducted by Rev. P. Schauer; interment at Crumpton, the following little boys acting as pallbearers: William Anthony, Frank Moffett, Robert and Donald Schauer. Undertaker W. H. Kruesen had charge of arrangements.

LICE ON TOMATO PLANTS

Growers are busy spraying their tomato vines to kill the lice which have infected nearly all the patches in this section. The growers have never before been troubled with lice and the pests are a new one to them. The pest is the Aphis a small gree, pink and grayish plant lice, which attacks the tender part of the plant leaves such as tomatoes, potatoes, cabbage, beans, etc. They are usually found near the stem of the growing plant under the leaves. It is a sucking insect and therefore cannot be killed by a stomach poison, such as paris green, but must be destroyed by a contact poison.

Nicotine sulphate is the best substance to destroy the pests, and it is sprayed on the plants. The most difficult part of this operation is to get the substance under the leaves. While they have done great damage it is thought that they will soon be checked, and all growers are spraying their patches.

During July and August Dr. Julian T. Power will discontinue his visits to Millington and Galena and will be in his office at Chestertown entire week.
