Local Notes

The hail storm of last Friday injured crops on the farms tenanted by Roy Walbert, Howard Hadaway, W. E. Davis and Will Shriley.

Capt. H. U. Fletcher, of Broad Neck, has purchased of Capt. J. H. Kelley, of Solomon's Island, the trim little bugeye, H. Hanie, and will do a freighting business out of Lankford's Bay and Chester river.

W. T. Brice received a new Alman & Taylor threshing outfit last Tuesday and is busily engaged threshing in the vicinity of Lankford. Lewin U. Skirven also purchased a new outfit.

The bridge at Morgan Creek is about completed and is now open to the traveling public.

Grain dealers at Chestertown, Worton, Lynch, Kennedyville and Millington have shipped thousands of bushels fine grain the past ten days.

The Noland Motor Company has not changed owners. Conlyn Noland and E. H. Strong having been called into war service, Jacob F. Thompson, former owner of the business, has been engaged to assist Mr. Noland, Sr., until the return of the junior members of the firm.

A rick of straw on the Whiteley farm, in Morgnec, owned by P. A. M. Brooks, was destroyed by fire Monday afternoon, under almost identical circumstances as the Truslow fire, the straw being ignited by a spark from the engine as the machine was leaving the field.

The Candy Kitchen, Chestertown, will undergo a change in management. "Chris" has sold out his interest to Jimmy and Tommy. Jimmy married Miss Patrick whose return here will be welcome.

A stack of straw on the chicken farm of W. H. Truslow & Son, over the river, fire caught Monday afternoon and was consumed within fifteen minutes. The threshing rig of B. F. Potts had just finished threshing their crop of rye and was leaving the stack yard when a spark from the engine ignited the rick of straw which burned like oil-soaked paper. Arthur Potts who was running the engine, in an effort to get beyond the reach of the flames, got the engine embedded in the sand and with much difficulty the same was extricated.

Lettes uncalled for July 17th at Chestertown: Miss Hester Bailey, Mrs. Charles Frances, Miss K. M. Powell, Mrs. Emond B. Rolderson, Miss Nannie and Katie Watkins, Mrs. Elnor Wilmer, Miss Daisy Williams, Miss Annie White.

Big bass were caught in the mill pond at Brooks' mill this week by Clarence Armstrong.

The management of Radcliffe Park Driving Association are making preparations for the Sixth Annual Kent & Queen Anne's Fair, to be held July 30, 31, August 1 and 2. The management promises the best-ever fair this year, and hope for a large attendance each day. The racing card for each day, three races each, for good sized purses, are receiving many entries and the out-look is for the greatest number of horses ever seen at the local stables. The latest arrivals are W. E. Miller, the Washington trainer, with his string of classy ones, S. Powell Peacock arrived Saturday night with several more of his good ones, among which were Betty M., Walter B. and Nugget Boy; H. R. Tyson, the grand circuit driver, is with a number of his steppers; W. J. Dougherty has six head here and more to come.

The first tent show to appear here this summer will be the Reno Stock Company, presenting Human Hearts, Ten Nights in a Bar Room, The Girl of the West, and the famous Uncle Tom's Cabin. These favorite plays will be produced on a large portable stage in a waterproof tent Theatre and each play will be staged with special scenery, the opening production being Human Hearts. A good band is carried by the company and will parade each day.

There were several arrests made Saturday night by Officer Cooper of persons for hitching their horses to trees in the town park.

What it costs to grow wheat has been threshed out in Kent long ago and at 89 cents per bushel the farmer planted just as many acres as he does at $2.20. What does it all amount to? Respectfully referred to the Kent Granges.

A number of sales of personal property in the News this week. If you want to sell or buy consult the Kent News.

S. B. Russell, of Lewistown, Pa., has arrived at Chestertown with four fine race horses. One of them is J. L. Mack with a mark of 2.02¼. He will be ready for the Free-for-All.

From present prospects all the cattle stable at the Kent & Queen Anne's Fair will be taken and more applications coming in daily. The exhibits promise to be large. Premium lists are ready for distribution. You can get them by calling J. G. Beck, President of the Fair Association.

Wm. W. Beck, Esq., has rented his home in Chestertown to H. Clay Brown and wife. The former will retain the third story of the house. He expects to be in Baltimore most of the time to give all his time to his duties as a member of the State Tax Commission.

Billy Usilton, of Chestertown, is visiting his uncle, Dr. M. E. Usilton, at Ocean City, New Jersey.

H. E. Wood, local Delco-Light dealer, of Chestertown, has returned from Dayton, Ohio, where he attended a rousing Delco-Light Convention.

WHEN THE WAR WILL END

Absolute knowledge I have none,
But my aunt's washerwoman's sister's son
Heard a policeman on his beat
Say to a laborer on the street
That he had a letter just last week
Written in the finest Greek
From a Chinese coolie in Timbuctoo,
Who said the negroes in Cuba know
Of a colored man in a Texas town'
Who got it straight from a circus clown,
That a man in Klondike heard the news
From a gang of South American Jews
About somebody in Borneo,
Who heard a man who claimed to know
Of a swell society female fake,
Whose mother-in-law will undertake
To prove that her seventh husband's sister niece,
Had stated in a printed piece,
That she has a son who has a friend
That knows when the war is going to end.

The Bordley Brothers

of the firm of

Bordley & Sons

wish to make the following

Announcement

So long as the Government does not require our services on Saturdays, we shall both endeavor to be at our place of business every Saturday evening during the business season to look after the interests of our own particular customers, and we wish to suggest to them that, whenever it is possible, they wait for us before going elsewhere to buy. It will be our pleasure to see that all their needs are taken care of promptly as usual.

We wish also to take this opportunity to express our appreciation of the many kind inquiries and good wishes that have come from our customers since our temporary withdrawal from the firm.

Think up all your needs in the hot weather wear and run in Saturday evening and let the "boys" look after you. We shall always see that the newer and best goods are still handled in this shop and you can always find them at slightly lower prices than elsewhere.

Yours very cordially,

BORDLEY BROTHERS.
