KILLED IN ACTION

Walter R. Hall, Sergeant, was killed in action last week in France. Sergeant Hall gave as his home, Pomona, Md. He lived there some years ago but had not been in Kent for15 years. W. T. H. Whiteley says he remembers him as a schoolmate. His father was a blacksmith and he worked on a farm with the Youngers.

GRANGE NOTES

Kent Pomona Grange met at Kennedyville Saturday, August 17. Galena, Still Pond, Worton and Kennedyville were represented, due to some unavoidable cause no doubt, Fairlee and Rock Hall were not. Only about 65 persons attended. The principal business was discussions relative to the Community Fair to be held this fall. The Worthy Masters of each Subordinate Grange constitute the committee for this. Our Pomona Mastor favors holding this at Chestertown this year if a suitable building and a sufficient amount of interest among town folks can be found.

No doubt the stress of times has caused some to think that the Grange is of secondary importance just now. But when we remember that its from our occupation we get the brawn and sinew (hard cash) to assist and carry on the war work, such as Red Cross, W. S. S., Liberty Loans. It behooves us to keep our Granges going for the Grange is the only organized power that looks after the pennies interest in the halls of Congress and State Legislation. A Granger sent to Washington to confer with Government officials relative to some war administration met somewhat this remark: Well, I wondered who on earth represented the farmer. Every other vocation has had its committees busy looking out that it receive a square deal, but you are the first from the farmer. So fellow farmers what we want at Washington or in the world at large, we have to at least express a desire for and the reason why we should have it.

These tactics will bring results and the old moss backs will realize that the Grange is an influence and they will stop biting the hand that's feeding them. Telegrams were ordered sent to our Senator and Representatives at Washington favoring adoption of the National Prohibition for term of war.

The Lecturer thinking Saturday would be a hot day due to the excessive weather we had been having prepared a light, airy program and lo, it was a very cool damp day, but we enjoyed the program very much.

Our County Agent, Mr. Burrell, gave a very interesting and instructive talk on hog cholera. If only the farmers would heed these remarks. Then the ball of fun was unwound. Many yards of inch-wide muslin containing one request per foot was unwound, a request at a time each member taking one. It was some fun and parts were very interesting and instructive as well.

Several quartets by the renowned Kennedyville quartet. Solo, The Star Spangled Banner, was beautifully rendered by Miss Helen Baxter. Also a popular war song by Miss Nellie Othoson. Many amusing incidents that brought volumes of laughter were unwound. After a vote of thanks to Kennedyville for her hospitality and good dinner and supper we adjourned to meet at Worton in the fall when we hope to see all the old war horses we so much missed this time.

DEATH OF MRS. MASLIN

Mrs. Kate A. Maslin, wife of Jackson W. Maslin, died at her home on South Washington street, Havre de Grace, at 3 o'clock Friday morning. The deceased was born April 17, 1863, and before her marriage was Miss Kate A. Bristow.

For the past fifteen years, Mrs. Maslin has been an invalid, and has been confined to her home during that long period, but with a true woman's courage and stamina, she has bravely borne her affliction and suffering, and made every effort to keep cheerful those about her.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Maslin leaves three children, Alice Marie, Katherine Bristow and Jackson W. Maslin, Jr. Four sisters, Mrs. W. N. Adams, of Aberdeen; Mrs. W. N. Coale, Mrs. Clarence L. Wright and Mrs. Clarence M. Haward, of this city, and two brothers, H. R. Bristow, of this city, and Dr. C. C. Bristow, of Philadelphia, also survive

The funeral was held from her late residence, on Sunday afternoon, at 2.30, the Rev. Harry D. Stewart, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, officating; the pall-bearers being her six nephews; interment in Angel Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. C. C. Wood, S. J. Wickes, John Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Maslin, Mrs. James C. Wood and several others went to Havre de Grace on Sunday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Maslin.

Mrs. James Patton, Sr., and little son, James, Jr., of Haddonfield, N. J., are visiting her aunt, Mrs. Annie Price.

WILL WIN THE WAR SURE

Eighty American divisions of 45,000 men each, which will be placed in France by June, will win the war next year sure.

Every single man in Class 1, between eighteen and forty-five years, is needed to carry out that program. Every one in Class 1 will be called no later than early next spring.

Youths between eighteen and nineteen will be called last; men between thirty-one and thirty six first, but all must go.

Marriage is no cause for general exemption. Married men not supporting their families or engaged in useful work will be called.

The shipping program will take care of transportation.

Soldiers are going over now at the rote of 250,000 a month, and this rate will be exceeded later.

GAVE SHERIFF A CHASE

Tylden Pinkind, aged 18, a former resident of Kent, gave the Sheriff and his deputy a wild chase this week, besides furnishing excitement to many residents. He took a Ford car in Washington and drove it to Tolchester. Sheriff Carter and Deputy Perkins went to the Beach and soon found Tylden. The Sheriff put him in his car, while Mr. Perkins drove the Washington car. When near Fannell's branch Tylden called the Sheriff's attention to a hole in the road, and as the car slowed down Tylden jumped out. He made his escape through a corn field to his old haunts in Broad Neck. He went to Herbert Fletcher's, where he found a Chevrolet car, and started out of the Neck. Several residents fired at him as he went by, but failed to puncture his tires. When near Hibernia he ran out of gasoline and abandoned the car. He was given lodging by residents of that neighborhood and "rounded up" Wednesday night and brought to Chestertown jail.

Local Notes

County Commissioner John N. Bennett, who will retire from farming and remove to Chestertown to engage in the automobile business, has purchased of A. Parks Rasin, the desirable building lot on Washington Ave., between the homes of W. Bradford Copper and James Brice, Jr., The purchased price is said to be $1,700. It is reported that Mr. Bennett has contracted with George H. Cannan to build a fine residence beginning construction in the early fall.

Earle Joyner on his motor cycle Saturday in turning a corner crashed into a telephone pole near Gratitude and injured one foot very badly. He was taken by motor to Easton Hospital by his uncle, T. E. Joyner, and Herman Jacobs. The accident was witnessed by a surgeon, Dr. Mackelford, of Pittsburgh, who is staying at Charles Strong's and he also accompanied the young man to the hospital.

W. C. Brown has purchased a large Menominee truck for use in his transfer business in Chestertown. P. M. Brooks, proprietor of Radcliffe Mills, has a new truck of the same make in service.

Wm. T. H. Whiteley will tenant the Stewart "White Hall" farm next year, John Jackson, the present tenant removing to Wilmington.

A number of Dunkards passed through town one day last week enroute from Ohio to Norfolk, Va. Their peculiar garb and appearance was a curiosity to some of our people.

The only inhabitant of Poole's Island now is said to be a dog who refused to leave when the tenants moved off. We have not heard what is to become of the fine peach crop.

The shells fired from Aberdeen proving ground struck the Kent shore Monday night and residents of the bayshore could see the splash in the water of many.

Tomato pickers are having a bonanza. Mr. Coleman, wife and five children, of Piney Neck, have contracted to harvest Miller Strong's crop at five cents per basket. Others are paying four cents.

The J. W. Russell Realty Co. has purchased the John E. Myers farm in Worton. The price was a shade below $7,000.

Mrs. Sallie Merchant, of near Chesterville, has bought of J. Thomas Parsons his farm of 163 acres. The deal was made by the J. Waters Russell Realty Co.

The Marvil Package Company shipped last week 1500 tomato baskets to a customer in Pennsylvania by Adams Express.

One of the Bohemian boys broke his arm last week by falling from a large truck at the Chestertown Cannery.

W. Edw. Ringgold has rented the Hicks shops on Court street and started to work Wednesday. G. E. Sheats has removed to Church Hill.

After being indicted by the Federal Grand Jury, of Baltimore, and tried before Judge Rose of the Federal court, Beverley N. Sparks was sentenced to thirty days in city jail for the larceny of a $50 Liberty Bond, and 2,000 meal tickets, valued at approximately, $666.00. He was also charged with taking $84.00 in cash. Local influence, it is believed, mitigated his sentence to a very great extent.

The local milk stations are paying $3.06 for milk.

"Kent News Building" has put on a new dress—war paint. It has been ordered for two years. M. Ellwood Baker and George H. Burk were the artists.

The sales advertised in the News have been well attended and stock and implements are bringing fine prices.

Schools in Kent will reopen September 16th.
