NEWSY TIDINGS FROM OUR BOYS

The "News" Will Be Glad To Mention Any Items of Interest You May Send About Your Soldier Lad

Camp Jackson, S. C.,
August 8th, 1918.

My Dearest Father:

This is to inform you that our Yale Unit Camp Jackson and this is the hottest place I ever struck. When we left New Haven on Sunday night, we were supposed to follow the Federal Express that left at 11.55 p. m. There was a great deal of delay as usual and we did not get started until 1.20 a. m.

We were put in old fashioned wooden coaches that have three men to two seats and you can imagine how well we slept and this we did for two nights. The old coaches that we came down in were lighted by gas and when we went to go down through the tunnel at New York under the East river and on through the Hudson tube, they would not allow cars carrying gas or oil to go through, so we had to stop and wait for a long time and finally they got all the gas pumped out of the tanks and it was therefore 5.30 a. m. when we reached New York. We waited some time and were due in Baltimore at 7.21 yesterday morning where we were to take on coffee for breakfast, and we got there in time for lunch and as we were 13 hours late in arriving at Camp Jackson and our meals being five and six hours behind scheduled time, we all chipped in and made up $30.00 and bought some extra fruit, etc., on the trip, which we enjoyed very much.

Just outside of Washington the Red Cross has installed public baths for soldier boys right near Pennsylvania Station and it was the greatest treat imaginable that on the hot trip we had taken, to be allowed a few minutes to get something more to eat and take a bath and when we left this place we all blessed the Red Cross and gave them a cheer. When we arrived here yesterday the thermometer was 110 in the shade and in order that we might present a good appearance we were commanded to march with our coats on, and I think it was the hottest weather that I ever struck. They never let us see a thermometer, and I guess it is a good thing.

As soon as we arrived here they put us to drilling new raw recruits and during this extensive hot weather, it is with the greatest difficulty that we can keep up a snappy and wide awake appearance, which is necessary to have in military training, before any new men especially that we happen to be training for there is everything in the example one sets and we have to be more careful as instructors than we did when we were privates.

We are of course exceedingly fortunate in getting these jobs as instructors and having the rank of Officer Candidate. I thought the job would be too big for us, but all of the men are doing remarkably well and I believe that it is responsibility that makes a man and all of this responsibility of course comes through Col. Danford, the head of the Depot, the man who used to train us and started the Yale R. O. T. C. and is much interested in our success. Col. Danford is in charge of the Field Artillery Replacement Depot and the entire camp is under the command of a Brigader General. This camp holds about 60,000 men and there are now between 35,000 and 40,000 here, for the camp was cleaned out about two weeks ago and sent them all across. I understand they are going to enlarge this camp to hold about 150,000 men.

Yesterday while I was drilling my bunch of men, five of them, were overcome with the heat and had to be carried off the field and one of them in a weak voice said "If I die and go to H——— I believe I'll freeze." Last night we had a sand storm, as all of South Carolina is made up of sand, and when the sand began to blow it reminded me of the fake sand storm in the Garden of Allah. All of the boys eyes got full of sond and dust.

All of the R. O. T. C. men are now rooming together in huge rooms 50 to 100 in a room. Our beds are little iron cots 2½ feet wide and our mattresses are of cloth, which we carried to the stable and filled with straw. We have tin mess kits to eat out of and stand in line about twenty minutes while they slop food on the tin mess kits.

It is reported that within a few days we will be reorganized into R. O. T. C. Batteries and will have some actual firing out on the range. They have a large reservation which is used for firing. This will be a wonderful opportunity, as there is very little actual firing in this country and a good many of the first officers that went to Europe had never seen a gun fired.

I certainly wish that you would all come down and see me before I leave here. With oceans of love for mother and sister and kind regards to all my friends at home, I am as ever your devoted son,

WILBUR HUBBARD.

Harry J. Rouse, son of Town Commissioner, Geo. R. Rouse, writes very encouraging letters from Texas College where Uncle Sam is putting him through a technical course of training for the Signal Corp. Henry Thomas Hollingsworth, of Denton, another Washington College graduate of this year, is also at this Texas training school and doing fine.

Mrs. George Biddle, Jr., has received a letter from her husband, Corporal Biddle, telling her of his safe arrival overseas. Corporal Biddle is somewhere in England, and says he had a lovely trip over, and is in the very best of health.

Sergeant Julian R. Carter, who is somewhere in France wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Carter, Sr., last week that he is well and had a beautiful trip over.

Letters have been received by the families of Private Charles Stradley and Jam[illegible] Sc[illegible]w, saying they had a safe jou[illegible] [illegible]verseas" and had arrived safe[illegible] [illegible]land.

William Ha[illegible] [illegible]eceived word last week from his [illegible]ther, Private Goldey Haddaway, [illegible] was with the American Expeditionary Forces, that he had been gassed and was now at the army hospital, Ellis Island, New York.
