ROCK HALL

Rev. D. J. Moore, of Millington, in the absence of the pastor occupied the M. E. pulpit on Sunday morning at this place and preached a most interesting and timely sermon in these times of the worlds mad conflict. His text was "I looked on my right hand, and beheld, but there was no man that would know me, refuge failed me; no man cared for my soul." Rev. Mr. Moore and wife were guests of Mrs. Moore's mother, Mrs. Kate Casey.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Carter, their son, Millard and friend, of Shiloh, N. J., were week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Leary.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ryan, of Baltimore, spent over Sunday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Harrison.

David Joiner will dispose of his fishing rig and boats and move to New Jersey in a week or two. He has been offered big inducements on a farm.

The Town Council here has posted timely instructions at the various town limit points and crossings for use of automobile and team drivers. It is hoped that these instructions will not be disregarded, as is the vehicle Light Law.

Tomato pickers here abouts are making all kinds of good money these days. Many crabbers have cut out and gone into the tomato fields, even the few loafers here and there have succumbed to the lure of the tomato fields.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, We the Vestry of St. Paul's Church realizing most deeply the loss we have sustained in the passing from our midst, our friend and co-worker, Mr. George Beck. Therefore Resolved, That we desire to place upon record, our appreciation of his fidelity to the interests of St. Paul's Church. Having been for forty-three years a member of the Vestry and for thirty years the Treasurer, he was thoroughly conversant with all church affairs. No one had the interests of the church more at heart than he. We recall with grateful memory, his conscientious business integrity, his efficient care of the church property, his wise and prudent counsel and advice, and his always open purse ever ready to supply all deficiencies. The door of his hospitable home was always open to his many friends, and was a center of social and church life. And we extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

To the widowed mother, as the shadows of life grow longer, and to the faithful daughter who hath truly "done what she could" and to the son who has gone out from under the home roof, and bid them rejoice and take comfort in the precious memory he has left them of a kind husband, a good father, a thoroughly honest man.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, and that they be spread upon the minutes of the Parish Register, as a memorial to the life and character of Mr. George Beck.

"Children in War Time"

Lecture by OWEN R. LOVEJOY

At Chautauqua

Dr. Felix Adler says: "Owen R. Lovejoy well deserves the title of 'Children's Statesman.'"

He is a platform speaker of exceptional distinction and power. He possesses qualifications not often united in a single personality; a very exact knowledge of his subject; a large outlook; humane feeling; a sense of humor that gives a welcome relief to his treatment of even the most sombre subjects. In a word, Mr. Lovejoy on the platform possesses both strength and charm. He speaks to an audience of school children one day, of laboring men the next, club women the next, and business men the next, and to all he carries his message with conviction, for he knows that child labor is not merely a "cause," but that it is a fact to thousands of American children—a fact that will follow them all their lives.

"He is a practical public speaker of exceptional gifts. In addition to being a master of his subject he has a way of expressing himself that is full of delightful surprises at every turn and which challenges your interested attention every minute."—George W. Coleman, Director, Ford Hall Meetings, Boston, Mass.

"He has a rich fund of knowledge and understanding, regarding the whole field of social problems which gives him a steady sense of proportion in presenting his own subject. He is always interesting, has a quick wit and a reassuring union of sympathy and common-sense. His unaffected and charming manner, and his directness, without frills or peculiarity, make him one of the most agreeable speakers to whom I have ever listened."—Julia C. Lathrop, Chief, Children's Bureau, Department of Labor, Washington, D. C.

Hold the Home Lines!

Chautauqua

Every home in the land has been affected by the requirements of the war.

In every community the customary methods of action and control must be reorganized.

New and far-reaching measures of collective effort have had to be adopted suddenly.

Welfare agencies and institutions that before were overloaded, are now struggling with an additional burden of baffling new problems.

The Home CASUALTY LIST:

Children neglected and gone astray.

Homes broken under strain of war.

Sickness and poverty grown apace must be kept as low as possible.

And what of preparation to receive the handicapped returned soldier?

What of the day of reconstruction?

Are the nine-tenths of us who must remain at home doing our utmost, and doing it intelligently?

SOUND SOCIAL CONDITIONS MAKE FOR NATIONAL STRENGTH AND VICTORY.

"The Fortune Hunter"

Recent Popular American Play by Winchell Smith

THIRD DAY AT CHUAUTAUQUA

Many have heard of the four-act comedy, "The Fortune Hunter." A few have enjoyed seeing it. All will be given the opportunity to see it on the thrid evening of Chautauqua this year. It is to be presented by the famous College Players. "The Fortune Hunter" is a typical American play very much akin to "The Man From Home," which many Chautauquans will doubtless remember. It is predicted that "The Fortune Hunter" will be one of the best plays ever given on any Chautauqua program.

It involves the story of a fellow who although he had money while in college—yes, too much money—at the opening of the play has nothing. He is shiftless and on the brink of ruin. He has a friend upon whose friendship he refuses longer to profit. He starts to make a fortune with a pledge to follow religiously all of the directions and rules of this same friend, who has just been made a partner in a big firm, although while a roommate of our hero in college he had nothing. It is a story of American humor, ingenuity and grit, and can be thoroughly enjoyed by all loyal Americans.

START YOUR FIGHT AGAINST HOG CHOLERA—NOW

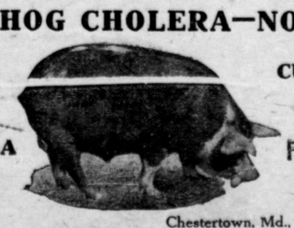
HAD HOG CHOLERA



CURED WITH FER SUL

Chestertown, Md., October 20, 1916.

The Westmoreland Chemical and Color Co.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sirs:—The hog you refer to is all right and is fat enough to kill.

I bought some more hogs on September 30th, and put them in the pen where the other sick ones had been. Sprayed the pen with "FER-SUL," and they are all right so far.

Yours truly,
E. J. WATSON.

HARRINGTON FARMERS FOOLED

It does not always pay to go far from home to buy seed and other things. Down in the vicinity of Harrington and Farmington fully fifty acres of tomatoes planted by growers in that section have developed to be yellow tomatoes, which are full size and the vines especially of luxuriant growth.

Dr. Thomas Howard Fowler took the special civil service examination held here last week and qualified in modern languages. Dr. Fowler is a member of the faculty of Wells College, New York, but will prepare himself for government service.

Weigh and Measure Children

Parents of children, up to six years of age who have not been weighed and measured for the Federal Children's Bureau, are requested to attend to the matter. All who can do so are urged to weigh and measure their own children. Those who can not will find the following ready to help:

Mrs. Robert Harris, Chestertown.
Local Stores at Rock Hall.
Mrs. R. D. Moore, Still Pond.
Mrs. J. W. Urie, Kennedyville.
Mrs. E. A. Scott, Galena.
Mrs. Merritt Brice, Millington.
Miss Minnie Brooks, Quaker Neck.

Colored children will be handled at their local churches later.

The Peoples Bank

CHESTERTOWN, MD.

Depositors in the several Banks in Kent County are receiving approximately

$20,000 Per Annum MORE INTEREST

on their Savings Accounts than they would be receiving but for the action of this bank in advancing the rate of interest from three to FOUR per cent. thus forcing all the other banking institutions to do likewise.

And the FOUR per cent rate is being maintained today solely by the refusal of this bank to enter into any agreement or combine to put the rate back to three per cent.

Many depositors are showing their appreciation of the benefits accruing to them as the direct result of the action of this bank, as is evidenced by the continued steady growth and increase in deposits—many more would place at least a part of their deposits here if they would take time to carefully consider the situation and conditions.

Because this bank declines to enter into any agreement or combine to reduce the interest rate to Three per cent. it is subjected to unfraternal proscriptions and indignities unknown in banking circles of any other community.

But still we "Carry On."

The Peoples Bank is now OFFICIAL DEPOSITORY, for the U. S. Government, State of Maryland and Kent county.

Good enough for "Uncle Sam," should be good enough for you.

You may deposit in this bank under any or all of three distinct kinds of accounts, viz: Active or Checking Account; Ordinary Savings Account; and Certificate of Deposit, or Time Account.

It will pay you to call and investigate. You will be cordially received whether you do business or not, at
