Dear Sirs:—The hog you refer to is all right and is fat enough to kill.

I bought some more hogs on September 30th, and put them in the pen where the other sick ones had been. Sprayed the pen with "FER-SUL," and they are all right so far.

Yours truly,

Maryland To Aid Y. W. C. A. War Work

Five District Chairmen Named To Put State Over The Top In November Drive.

John R. Mott, president of the International Y. M. C. A. has been appointed generalissimo for the united war work campaign which will start November 11 and through which it is expected that $170,500,000 will be raised for war relief work by the Young Women's Christian Association and the six organizations joining with it in the drive.

A big setting-up meeting of the Eastern departments of the seven organizations was held Wednesday, September 12, in New York, at which time campaign plans were discussed. Department staff members, members of the state directors' committee and the state organizers of the association were present.

The sum of $170,500,000 is the largest gift ever asked of the nation and it has the endorsement of the War Department, the officials of which realize the need for raising this war relief fund. At the meeting Friday arrangements were made to send speakers throughout the country and Maryland will hear many noted persons.

That all Maryland may know what comfort and aid the workers of the Young Women's Christian Association are giving the soldier in France, and how The Girl He Left Behind Him and The Girl Who had to Take His Place are being cared for, virtually every preacher in Maryland on Sunday, September 22, will tell his congregation what is being done by the girls of the Blue Triangle.

That day has been christened Blue Triangle Sunday and letters requesting the pastors to help in its observance are being sent out this week by Miss Florence Wilbur, organizer for Maryland. Every Sunday School superintendent will also be asked to tell hisschool of the wonderful work being done by the devoted women of the state and country.

The Y. W. C. A. is one of the seven efficient organizations which has won the approval of the government and of the War Department because of the way it is handling its war relief work both in Europe and in this country. Its hostess houses have proven to be one of the best forces for good and the way its organization has mobilized the women power of the country to take the places of men released for military duty has been highly commended.

MRS. JAMES S. CUSHMAN

Chairman of the National War Work Council of Young Women's Christian Association who has received a letter from President Wilson and other important persons commending the splendid welfare work of the council both at home and abroad.

In order that Maryland may not be behind any other state organization in the Y. W. C. A. forces, active work on the part of the leading women of the state is under way. Maryland has been divided into five districts as follows:

District No. 1:—Caroline, Dorchester, Kent, Queen Anne, Somerset, Talbot, Wicomico and Worchester counties.

District No. 2:—Baltimore, Howard, Harford and Cecil counties.

District No. 3:—Anne Arundel, Calvert, Charles, Prince George and St. Mary's counties.

District No. 4:—Carroll, Frederick, Montgomery and Washington counties.

District No. 5:—Alleghany and Garrett counties.

For each of these districts a chairman has been appointed. Mrs. E. Stanley Toadvin, of Salisbury, is chairman of No. 1 district; Mrs. Robert Garrett, Baltimore, chairman of District No. 2; Mrs. John B. Rippere, Annapolis, chairman of No. 3; Mrs. Arthur D. Willard, of Frederick, chairman of No. 4 and Mrs. E. Z. Tower, Oakland, is chairman of District No. 5.

Each district chairman will have her county organization in each county, including a publicity chairman who will handle the speakers and arrange for meetings, etc.

On November 11 the big Union drive for war relief funds for the Y. W. C. A. and the other six organizations will begin. As usual, Maryland will "go over the top."

That the Maryland Council of Defense is planning to lend its hearty co-operation and support to the present educational campaign of the War Council of the Young Women's Christian Association is shown by the following letter sent by Mrs. Edward Shoemaker, the State chairman of the Maryland Branch, to every County Chairman of the Council of Defense throughout the state.

To the County Chairman.

"The National War Council of the Y. W. C. A. will inaugurate a campaign about November 1st to raise funds to carry on their work during the coming year.

"The Maryland Council of Defense, Women's Section, has been asked to recommend Chairmen to take charge of the work in the counties. Miss Florence Wilbur, Campaign Director for the State of Maryland will communicate with you regarding the appointment in your county, and I hope you will be able to suggest a suitable person. It would be advisable for you to find out whether or not the woman you would suggest can serve before sending her name to the Campaign Director.

The campaign will not be under the direction of the Council of Defense, and the Chairman will not be appointed by our County Chairmen, but, I trust you will give the Y. W. C. A. all possible assistance in securing a Local Chairman.

Sincerely,
"ELIZABETH T. SHOEMAKER."

MARYLAND GIRL IN Y. W. WORK

MISS CATHERINE CHILDS

A Maryland girl who formerly was dietician in John Hopkins Training School for Nurses in Baltimore, is in Russia, introducing Y. W. C. A. cafeterias to Russian girls.

The War Council of the Y. W. C. A. is engaged in the task of carrying out the wishes of the Government of the United States and looking after "the girl he left behind him." In other words they are appointed by Uncle Sam as the guardian of the vast army of women who have stepped into the "jobs" left vacant by their soldier husbands, brothers, sweethearts and friends. In doing this work the organization needs the support both moral and financial of every patriotic citizen of the United States.

PROPAGANDA IN FRANCE.

The Germans in their propaganda in France tried it first on the women in the munitions factories," Miss Henrietta Roelofs, head of the Y. W. C. A. work in France stated recently. Miss Roefols is in this country on a short leave of absence.

"The Germans quickly discovered," Miss Roelofs said, "that their most fertile field for breaking down the morale of France was through the women. Women were the ones who first heard insiducus whispers for universal peace. The whispers started at a time when the War had been progressing a year or two and when France was suffering defeat. By that time the women who worked so hard making shells and heavy guns were tired. They were working and suffering far removed from the first line. They did not share in the glory given the man in uniform. They had none of his excitements or the spirit of a great mass of people back of them. They worked at their machines as individuals and as individuals they faced long hours and cheerless, toilsoaked days.

"The Germans planned on an easy civil revolt because they counted on the women being easy prey to their whispers of an early peace. Added to that thy had in their favor the strain the women were working under and the "hope deferred" for a victory which seemed to slip away with the months. Then always there was ever increasing the sight of mutilated men returned to their homes.

"German propaganda counted on the tension of the women's nerves and the mongtony of their lives. It was carefully planned. In spite of themselves the morale of the women of France was breaking under the terrible emotional strain.

For a while it seemed as if everything tended toward breaking down the Womans will-to-fight in France—and the Germans knew it.

"It was just at this point that both the French and American Governments came to the Y. W. C. A. and asked for their help in bracing up the morale of the women of France.

"With a quick understanding of the situation, American Women went over to bring recreation and some degree of comfort to French women. The first thing the Y. W. C. A. women did was to strengthen the ideals of the women in munitions factories and to inform them that the success of the War dependede largely on them. The Governments of the Allied Nations knew as did the Y. W. C. A. did that
