The following letter has been received by J. G. Moore from his son, Private Elwood D. Moore, somewhere in France:

I will write you these few lines to let you know I am still among the living. I have been away from my company for a short period, and for that reason have not received any mail recently. I am located at one of the Base Hospitals at present. You need not worry for there is nothing serious enough wrong with me for that. I was sent here for a slight wound in the right shoulder, and also was gassed slightly. The wound is about healed at this writing but I still feel the effects of gas to some extent.

I hope these few lines find you all in the best of health. I have read some very pleasing news during the past few days. I do not think it will be long before all of we boys will be homeward bound.

I was issued a coupon this morning which entitles me to a three-pound Christmas package. Enclosed will find said coupon. I will suggest chocolate candy to be sent in the package, as it is not perishable and chocolate which you get over here is not even a comparison with that of the U. S. A. I must close for this time, will write a more lengthy letter soon, with love to all.

Lieut. Smith, in charge of the Washington College S. A. T. C. Unit, received a telegram Wednesday that he had been made captain in the U. S. Infantry.

His friends were glad to see him looking well and fat since he has had the flu. He is going to be made sergeant about the last of this month.

Miss Margaret H. Cornelius, of Kennedyville, encloses an interesting letter received from a French soldier: Little Sister of America:

Before going farther I want beg your pardon for the great liberty I take dropping you few lines. But I know by one of your letters that you like to send letters to the soldiers, because you know the pleasure they have receiving them. Who is writting to you? A little French soldier of eighteen years old.

Here is the story: I was moving last week from a aviation field to another one before I go to the front line. When stopping in a little village I found on the railroad a big package of letters—they were the letters you wrote three months ago to your brother.

And as I like very much the American boys (I am interpreter amongst all your "brothers") I should be much pleased to know the orders of your brother, William, to send him the letters.

I hope you will give me the pleasure to write me sometimes, because I'm very sorry without receiving letters and don't receive many.

Any news from you and from the States will be sunbeams in my life of soldier.

Now I must close and begging once again your pardon for my curious mind I send you all my best wishes of luck and present you my best regards.

Serviceable School Shoes

FOR ALL AGES OF CHILDREN
FROM KINDERGARTEN TO HIGH SCHOOL

The two cardinal points in the selection of children's shoes are FIRST—Correct Fit. SECOND—Sturdy wearing qualities—

This is, however, not so easy as it sounds, as years of experience are really required to determine just how growing feet should be fitted and just how to strengthen shoes where the wear comes hardest—

We offer to you our years of expert study on these very points and ask that you entrust to us the care and safety of your children's feet as well as the protection of your own purse—
