WHEN THE BOYS COME HOME

The people of old Kent gave the soldier boys of our county a Godspeed when they went off to the different camps which helped them in the great conflict. These boys will be coming back, how soon, we cannot say, and it is well to commence to prepare for their coming. Everyone should join in this welcome and make it a grand community affair.

This has been Thanksgiving week. Lets make every week one of thanksgiving.

Total casualties in the American Expeditionary Forces up to the signing of the armistice were divided as follows: Killed and died of wounds, 36,154; died of disease 13,811; died from other causes, 2,204; wounded, 179,625; prisoners, 2,163; missing, 1,160.

Troops now in the United States will be mustered out at the rate of 30,000 a day when the demobilization machinery now being set up by the war department gets in full operation. This announcement was made by General March, chief of staff. Orders already have been issued for the discharge of 200,000 men within the next two weeks.

The first American troops to depart homeward as a result of the signing of the armistice will be 18,000 men stationed in England. The American army expects to start the first shipload of these soldiers homeward within a week and have all the men on their way back to the United States ten days later. Most of the 18,000 men are helping the British air force.

Final legislative action was taken by the senate on the national "wartime" prohibition bill, effective July 1 next. As transmitted to President Wilson the prohibition feature would stop sales of distilled, malt or vinous beverages June 30, 1919, and thereafter during the war and demobilization. Manufacture of distilled spirits now is prohibited.

Spanish influenza caused more deaths in the United States than occurred among the American troops abroad from the time the first detachment set foot in France. The total loss of life throughout the country is not definitely known. The Census Bureau gives 82,000 as the figures for 46 cities having a population of 23,000,000. Casualties abroad are estimated at 40,000.

There are all sorts of propositions being made as to a suitable memorial for the boys who gave their services in the great conflict just closed. The News would suggest that the memorial in Kent be in the form of a Hospital to be located in Chestertown, on Chester river or near the College and having the names of all our boys engraved on tablet at the front. It would be a most beautiful and fitting tribute to our heroes.

The Belair Aegis says, "We extend our congratulations to the Chestertown (Kent County) citizen who recently filled out seventeen questionnaires in one day. If there ever was a more wearing job we have never met up with it and in many cases one or two per day were a plenty for an honest day's work. Incidentally, we were impressed with the genuine gratitude shown by registrants for the aid thus generously rendered them."

All the draft boards in the State have been requested by Adjutant General Henry M. Warfield to speed up their work so that it will be ended by December 9. The boards, it is said, will go out of existence shortly after that date. The local boards will continue to receive the questionnaires, up to December 9, of those men between the ages of 18 and 36, which will be classified but the work on those of men between 37 and 45 was discontinued several days ago. The records of the draft boards will be sealed and kept as permanent records by the government.

SIDNEY P. TOWNSHEND

THEIR BEST GIFT

One of the most gratifying features of the recent Community Drive in Kent was the very substantial sum of over twenty-seven hundred dollors raised through the efforts of school boys and girls throughout the county from twelve to twenty years of age. Dr. E. J. Clarke and Miss France had them well organized and the results speak loudly to this effect. And the best feature of their work is that the money thus contributed by them is to be earned by the donors, not begged from other persons. From a business standpoint it is much to have the young learn the possibilities of their own endeavors and from the altruistic standpoint it is worth much more to have their efforts thus early extend beyond selfish ends. In short, many of our young have through the thrilling events of the past two years thus learned "to do by doing," they have learned to do for others, they have learned that "Life is real life in earnest."

Hundreds of children are now and will be busy for the next three months in earning their money so as to meet their obligations. Interesting indeed, are the many ways in which children are making themselves of use to their parents and other employers.

Their efforts will alkays help them towards a higher manhood and womanhood to recall that they lent a hand in such work during their child life.

PRESIDENT TO SAIL NEXT MONTH

President Wilson will go to France early in December to take part in the discussion and settlement of the main features of the treaty of peace.

How long he will remain abroad is not known. He has indicated his intentoin not to stay throughout the sessions of the conference but since the delegates probably cannot be assembled until December, he will be absent from the United States for several weeks at least.

Mr. Wilson will be the first President to visit Europe and also the first to attend a peace conference for the settlement of issues growing out of a war in which the United States took part. He regards his presence as necessary in order to obviate the manifest disadvantage of discussion by cable in determining the greater outlines of the final treaty.

STEEPLEJACK KILLED

King W. Agnew, of 815 East Eager street, Baltimore, the well-known local steeplejack, who gained fame by volunteering to repair the lanyards on the City Hall flag pole when they broke a year or so ago, was instantly killed Tuesday afternoon when he fell 100 feet while painting the smoke stack of the W. W. Boyer Can Company, 2313 Boston St. His neck and skull were broken. He was pronounced dead at St. Joseph's Hospital where his body was taken in the Eastern Police ambulance.

Corbertt Wright, colored, of Rock Creek Md., who was helping Agnew, was the only witness to the accident.

Agnew was well-known for his daring performances and on several occasions he volunteered to paint steeples and flag poles which others would not venture to work upon. He worked upon nearly all of the flag poles in the city parks as well as smoke stacks in the Eastern section of the city.

His activities were not confined to Baltimore, and he did a great deal of work on the Eastern Shore of Maryland and in Delaware and Pennsylvania. He had just finished gilding the cross on the Chestertown M. E. Church besides other jobs and expected to return here later.

ROCK HALL

By mutual agreement, our places of business were closed on Thanksgiving Day.

S. J. Harrison formerly of this section, but for the past year or two residing in Baltimore, was a week end visitor together with his children, amoung relatives here.

Mrs. Alie Harrison will move to Baltimore the coming week. Her son has been employed there for some time and is making good. Now her two daughters have secured good positions in the City.

Mrs. Charles Crouch, Mrs. Edgar Judefind, Mrs. Josh Thomas and other ladies are interesting themselves in behalf of a needy family in Pine Neck, who through sickness and deaths are placed in need of help.

Albert Nicholson who has retired from farming, has moved to the Wm. Wilkins property in this town.

Miss Edith Moffett daughter of W. S. Moffett, of Rock Hall, was married Tuesday of last week to H. W. Edmonson, of New Mexico, a machinist in the Naval Reserves. They will reside in New Mexico. Miss Moffett was well known in Chestertown, where she was a popular clerk in the store of A. L. Sparks.

You couldn't have chosen a more appropriate gift for him. The Folding Brownies are Autographic, like the Kodaks. They are built for hard service—easy to focus and simple to operate.

GIVE him a watch, or books, or money—but nothing will please a boy like a Kodak or Brownie camera. It's a Christmas gift for all the year. Besides, the picture story of the good times with his playmates—pictures of the winter fun both indoors and out—will be interesting always, and increase in value with each succeeding year.
