Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys most, because they do most and should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best.

Home of Swamp-Root.

Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

A Dinner That Walked Away

A THANKSGIVING STORY BY FRANK H. SWEET

nah. "Sure, and can it be the one I picked myself this evening has come to life?"

"How did you kill it?" asked Mr. Winslow.

"I didn't kill it at all. The botherin' crater killed itself atin' beans that got soaked in my brandy, and I had to stop my work and dress it before it cooled."

"Well, it evidently was not dead," said Mr. Winslow. "But now it's dressed you better cut off its head."

"Oh, no, papa!" cried Margery, who stood on the steps. "Don't kill the poor thing! I'll take care of it somehow."

"PLEASE LET ME," PLEADED MARGERY.

"But it'll freeze, dear," said papa, going back into the kitchen.

"No; I'll fix it up. I'll make it something to wear. Please let me," pleaded Margery earnestly.

"Well, I don't care, child," said her father, laughing. "Do as you like and dress it up. I want a fat gobbler and not a five pound hen turkey for Thanksgiving."

After some trouble the shivering, naked turkey was caught and carried into the warm kitchen. It was carefully wrapped in an old skirt for the night and tied into a basket.

The astonished creature rebelled and fought against the indignity of wearing a flannel skirt, but cold conquered it, and at last it cuddled down quietly in its strange new bed.

Through the long Sunday that followed the turkey was kept a close prisoner, and by the next morning many plans had been thought out for its comfort.

That was a great day for Margery, who was confined to the house by delicate lungs and who longed for something to pass away the hours when lessons were over and the daily sewing "stint" finished.

Here was something to do! The new pet was fed and the lessons and sewing hurried through, so that by noon she was free to carry out her plans.

MARGERY FED HER.

By this time the turkey had found out that Margery wouldn't hurt it and was not so frightened as it had been last night, so when the little girl took it in her arms it made little objection.

"Now you must have a name," said Margery softly, carrying her new plaything off into her especial corner of the big kitchen, where work and Hannah never came. "Let me see," she went on. "I'll name you after my lovely doll that got broken—Kristine—and I must make you some clothes so you can walk around and not be hobbled up so."

With the help of mamma the busy little girl contrived a sort of coat for Kristine. It was made of an old shawl and was bright scarlet, with black and white plaid.

It came pretty well up on the neck and of course covered the naked legs. The wings were left inside. It was fastened together at the breast and
