Farmers who are discouraged because of unfavorable planting conditions may get some consolation from the experience of a Jarrettsville agriculturist. He declared that five years ago because of pneumonia he was unable to plant corn until May 31st. The grain sprouted promptly, grew rapidly and when finally husked yielded as well as any crop he had ever grown. Fortunately the ground is well settled now so that once we have a little sunshine and wind it will soon be dry enough to plant.

Kent county dairymen are losing on an average of more than $100 a day, because of garlic in milk delivered at the various cooling stations. D. A. McCarthy, Field Representative of the Philadelphia Inter-State Dairy Council, has been visiting on the Shore and finds it serious in this county. But Kent cannot compare to Queen Anne's. Last Wednesday he found that over 3,000 pounds had been rejected at the Centreville cooling station. In other sections of this county the daily rejection vary between a ton and a ton-and-a-half. Because of the late spring the garlic bulblets are dotted everywhere thruout pastures, and whenever dairymen are compelled to depend upon pastures to find food for their live-stock the difficulty with onions is being encountered. Officers of the Dairy Council strongly advise that every effort be made to minimize the terrific loss occasioned by the rejected milk.

We miss thee from our home, dear mother,
We miss three from thy place,
A shadow o'er our life is cast,
We miss thy loving face,
We miss thy kind and loving hand,
Thy fond and earnest care,
Our hearts are sad without thee,
We miss thee everywhere.
Thy gentle voice now is hushed,
Thy warm true heart is still,
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled,
Thy hands are clasped upon thy breast,
We have kissed thy lovely brow
And in our aching hearts we know,
We have no mother now.

Children.

Sleep in peace, yes, sweetly sleeps,
Her sorrows, all are o'er,
With her the storms of life are past,
She's found the Heavenly Shore.

PICTURES OVER TELEPHONE

Transmission of photographs from Cleveland to New York city, a distance of 575 miles, over long distance telephone lines was accomplished on Monday in a demonstration by laboratory experts of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

In sending a picture the original is placed around a cylinder within which there is a phot-electric cell. On another cylinder in the receiving office an unused film is placed. Both cylinders revolve in synichronization. During the operation a very small but intense beam of light is thrown on the original photograph, passing thru the film to the photo-electric cell, with an intensity proportionate to the lights and shades of the original picture.

The white schools of the county have been ordered closed by the School Board on June 13; the colored schools on May 30.
