POULTRY

THE POULTRY INDUSTRY is one of the largest crops of our state to-day. It is now almost as valuable as Maryland's Wheat Crop.

If then, as an industry it is one of our best producers, it would seem that we should use modern methods of production and growing.

We have given careful thought to this branch of our trade and have selected for your inspection the latest machines and accessories for poultry production.

We offer for your consideration and inspection the

BUCKEYE INCUBATORS AND BROODERS

We carry these in various sizes suitable for the needs of large or small growers.

BUCKEYE Machines are so well-known that we feel it is only necessary for us to say to you that we have them on our floors and are ready to serve you.

Come and see them or ask for catalogue by mail.

Yours to serve

THINGS THAT SHOULD NOT BE POSTPONED

Do not postpone love.

Love and the expressions of love, the kindly words and smiles and helpful deeds are like the manna that fell in the wilderness. They will not keep. It is a crop that must be gathered and spent every day.

Another thing about love is that it is not subject to the law of thrift. Do not economize in love. For the more you spend of it the more you have. Throw it away, give it away, splash it over, and tomorrow you will have more. But if you hoard it very probably tomorrow your hoard will be dried leaves.

Do not postpone play. Do a little of it today. One of the most efficient men I know, when asked when he took his vacation, replied, "Every day." Keeping everylasting at it may bring success. It also brings paralysis and nervous prostration.

Be efficient. But there is such a thing as being too darned efficient.

Do not postpone learning. No day should pass without mind sweat. And a month or a year without any hard study is sure to bring on one of the commonest and most fatal diseases—that is, fatal in the sense of being borsesome and reducing the power of one's personality. And that disease is mental flabbiness.

Do not postpone physical exercise. The time to take your exercises is when you do want to.

Do not postpone beauty. If you have passed a whole day and have never seen a thing that you admire or that thrills you with its loveliness, whether a leaf, a flower, a picture, or a face, that is a day lost.

Do not postpone wonder. Do not devote every day to things that you understand. Around you is an infinite you cannot understand. Keep your mind up against it. For thence come the greatest elements into your nature.

Do not postpone happiness.

Anybody can be happy without reference to his conditions as a rule, if he only has sense enough and is teachable enough.

The secret of happiness, or rather the secrets, are two—first, the power of adjustment to one's circumstances, and second, the possession of inner resources.

Nobody is a bigger fool than the man who is miserable every day with the idea that by means of it he is going to be happy after a ,while Now is the time to be happy.

The best preparation for happiness is happiness.

We do not realize the enormous resources of pleasure that are in the possession of each one of us. The normal functioning of each bodily power is accomplished with pleasure. The normal memory or imagination, is pleasurable. The normal condition of the soul that has reached any sort of basic truth about the universe is one of joy.

Besides this the whole world of nature about us is an inexhaustible reservoir of joy.

Be happy. And today's the day. This does not mean be foolish, nor silly, nor reckless. It does not mean to intoxicate yourself, poison, or pervert yourself. All these are devil's short cuts. But without these and with merely the equipment of health and intelligence you can be happy.

Do it now. Dr. Frank Crane.
