KENT CO. FARMERS TO ORGANIZE FARM BUREAU

By County Agent H. B. Derrick

The farmers of Kent county, through their Agricultural Council have decided upon the great American Farm Bureau Federation as the one to unite the twenty-two farmers' organizations of Kent county, now in existence. The decision was reached at the recent meeting of the Kent County Agricultural Council, after hearing the story of the Farm Bureau.

The American Farm Bureua Federation now has over a million members and is probably the most powerful farmers' organization in the world. Forty-five of the forty-eight of the United States have State Farm Bureaus. The farmers of Maryland assembled in a State conference at Frederick last January, went on record favoring the organization of a Farm Bureau in every county in Maryland. The Maryland Agricultural Society was reorganized into "The Maryland Agricultural Society, The Maryland Farm Bureau. Ten of the counties of Maryland have already organized Farm Bureaus with surprising success; they are, Washington, Frederick, Montgomery, Howard, Carroll, Baltimore, Anne Arundel, Harford, Talbot and Worcester. Four other counties have decided to organize Farm Bureaus, including Kent and Queen Anne's counties.

The Farm Bureau membership includes the farmer, his wife and children under age. It is therefore expected that the women's organizations of the county will unite in the Farm Bureau with the farmers organizations, all for the purpose of making Kent county a more profitable place in which to live.

The Farm Bureau Organization Committee met in the County Agent's office Thursday of this week with Mr. Remsburg, the State Farm Bureau Organizer. Plans for the Kent county campaign were made. Meetings will be held in sixteen communities in the county, at which representatives of the National and State Farm Bureau will tell the story of the Farm Bureau to the Farmers, Farm Women, Boys' and Girls' Club Members in Kent. Everyone will be invited.

BABY CHICKS IN DEMAND

The baby chick business at the local hatcheries is breaking all records in the history of the business. Both the Queen Anne anl Bramble Poultry farms have received large orders this week, which they have been compelled to delay nearly a month, although the former plant has 130,000 eggs setting in its mammoth incubators and the latter has 20,000, and still others are embarking into what may prove to be the greatest industry on the Eastern Shore shortly.

The problem of handling the business by the railroads has already become a serious one, and this week officials of the Pennsylvania Company have begun an investigation into the space conditions on trains in order to handle the business as carefully and as economically as possible. There are about 10,000 chickens in the brooder-houses almost ready for shipment as broilers and thousands are being shipptd every day from local postoffice.

Telephone Growth in Maryland

The value of telephone service to the user is dependent upon the number of telephones with which he can communicate. If there were no other telephones to talk to, the service would be of no value. This is peculiar to a telephone system; in no other utility is the value of the service to one patron dependent upon how many other patrons there may be.

As cities, towns and communities grow, the requirements of the telephone user expand, and the Company must meet those requirements by adding new subscribers to the system.

To attract these new subscribers, it must furnish a high standard of service at reasonable rates. The remarkable growth in telephones in the State of Maryland, as shown by the accompanying chart, we believe is evidence that the Company has met these requirements reasonably well.

The future requirements must always be planned for well in advance. This chart also shows the estimated number of telephones in Maryland at the end of 1927. We are now making provision for the growth during this next five years.

Progressive dealers sell Simpson's Purity Brand seeds. On your next trip to town see your dealer and ask him for Simpson's Purity Brand. Don't accept any other.
