IMPROVE CAPACITY OF COWS

Testing Associations Aid Dairyman in Culling Out Undesirable Animals in Herd.

The chief agencies for improving the capacity of dairy cows are the cow testing association and testing for advanced registration, according to state dairy extension specialists. The former aids the farmer-dairyman to size up his herd, cull out the undesirable animals and get his dairy upon a business basis. The testing of purebred cows for advanced registry sorts out the most desirable cows and bulls for the improvement of the breed, and furnishes large numbers of bulls that are available to farmer-dairymen for mating with cows selected through the use of the cow testing association.

In the Holstein-Friesian Register, the largest of all the breeds, 99,000 cows and 6,600 bulls have been admitted. Among these animals are found cows which have produced over 1,000 pounds butterfat in one year. The highest yearly record for butter is held by May Walker Ollie Homestead who produced 1,523.2 pounds. The cow holding the world's milk record is Segis Pietertje Prospect, which in one year produced 4,672 gallons, or an average of over 51 quarts a day.

SEE DAIRY PROFITS IN 1923

Good Year Is Seen Ahead by Iowa Expert, but Much Depends on Individual Farmer.

From all indications, farmers who milk cows in 1923 have a good year ahead, says C. B. Finley, an Iowa dairy expert. However, profits will depend much upon the individual farmer.

The extent to which it will be possible to cash in on the good year ahead will depend largely upon ten things, which are as follows:

1. Get a field of alfalfa or clover large enough to supply the herd.
2. Have ample silage.
3. Feed rations suited to the cows' needs.
4. Weed out the unprofitable cows.
5. Weigh the milk each day.
6. Feed according to production.
7. Make your barn more sanitary and comfortable.
8. Supply the best quality of product to the consumer and the creamery possible.
9. Put your herd on a business basis by being in a cow testing association.
10. Buy a sire from good producing purebred ancestry.

Cheerfulness is the daughter of employment. I have known men come home from a funeral in great spirits, just because they had had the management of it.—Horne.

EARLY SPRING SALADS

The following salad is made when fresh tomatoes cannot be procured or are too expensive:

Glace Tomato Salad.—Dissolve one-eighth of a box of gelatine in a little cold water. Measure half a can of tomatoes, put through a sieve to remove seeds. Season with pepper and salt, heat until boiling, then pour over the gelatine. Put into cups or molds to harden. Remove and place on lettuce leaves with a spoonful of mayonnaise on top of each.

Baked Apple Salad.—Choose a good-sized apple of good variety, such as the Northern Spy. Bake until well done and the skin is loose from the apple. When cool remove the skin and stuff the apple center with nuts. Serve with whipped cream or on lettuce with mayonnaise dressing.

Fruit Salad.—Cut in dice three mellow apples, remove the pulp from three oranges. Blanch a cupful of almonds and shred them, dice one cupful of pineapple. Mix all these ingredients and serve on lettuce with a mayonnaise dressing. Garnish with halves of walnut meats and candied cherries.

Celery and nuts cut fine, using one-half as much nuts in measure as celery, add French dressing, let stand for an hour and serve on lettuce.

Lily Salad.—Cut hard-boiled egg whites into petal-shaped pieces, leaving the yolk perfectly whole. Rub each yolk with butter, mustard and vinegar, mixed well. Serve on beds of cress or cooked spinach with mayonnaise for dressing.

Chestnut Salad.—Mix a little sweet cream into a cream cheese with some finely-chopped sweet green pepper. Divide into pieces and roll in cracker crumbs that have been browned. Shape in the form of chestnut burrs and insert a cooked chestnut in each. Serve with mayonnaise.

The parsnip is especially good served with boiled meats. Sliced or diced cooked parsnips are very good baked in a white sauce as are escalloped potatoes.

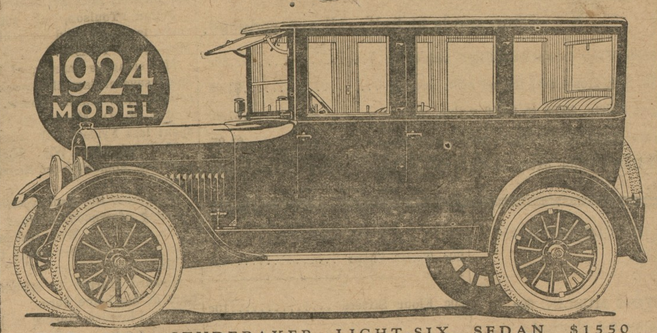
INTEGRITY — Studebaker — SERVICE



THE 1924 STUDEBAKER LIGHT-SIX SEDAN $1550

The Closed Car You Buy Now You'll Use Next Winter

Any owner who has felt winter's winds whistling through the ill-fitting doors and flimsy panels of a makeshift closed car knows there is no substitute for quality.

The 1924 Model Studebaker Light-Six Sedan you buy now will not only serve you admirably this summer and next winter, but will endure for years.

It is sturdily built for long, hard service, to ride comfortably, to look well and to operate at a moderate expense.

And when you are ready to trade it in on a new car the depreciation will be reasonable. Studebaker used car values are high because of Studebaker's inherent merit. And there is always a market for used Studebakers.

The substantial hard wood and steel body with its broad windows and four wide doors, its rich mohair velvet plush upholstery, and many refinements, is a model of Studebaker craftsmanship.

Construction of the chassis is an achievement in the use of precision methods in large scale manufacture. Proof of this lies in the machining of all surfaces of the crankshaft and connecting rods, to which is largely due its virtual freedom from vibration. This is an exclusive Studebaker practice on cars at this price.

The smooth-running Light-Six motor has made friends everywhere for its durability, power and flexibility just as it has for its economy and reliability.

The Light-Six Sedan is low priced because it is built complete by Studebaker in large volume, but there isn't a cheap thing about it. It is above par in every particular.

Studebaker's reputation for producing high class transportation for 71 years is worth considering when you buy a car.

Four wide-opening doors. Eight-day clock. Quick-action cowl ventilator. Attractive coach lamps. Heater. Mohair velvet plush upholstery. Glare-proof visor and windshield cleaner. Dome light. Thief-proof transmission lock.
