Mrs. Evelyn Harris, Kent's farmerette and landowner, has received the first copy of her book, "The Barter Lady," which is just off the press of Doubleday-Doran, New York City. The book is a complete resume of a system of barter which Mrs. Harris recently adopted in disposing of her farm crops and fruits at a profit, and the hardships thru which the average farmer is passing today in making both ends meet at the end of the year.

Besides supervising the cultivation of some forty thousand pear trees on her estate near Betterton, Mrs. Harris has recently embarked in the business of raising loblolly pines for which there is a good demand.

Betterton Board Ready For Work

Preparing Levy For Town Taxes. 95c Expected

George Raymond Crew and Alpheus Smith, elected members of the Board of Town Commissioners of Betterton at the recent annual election to succeed the late James T. Crew, and Walter S. Brice, whose term expired, took the oath of office at the reorganization of the board this week. The board elected J. A. Bowman, holdover member, mayor, G. Raymond Crew, secretary, and Harvey B. Moore, town clerk. The new board is preparing for the annual levy of town taxes, and is having a new set of tax books prepared. It has not been definitely decided whether the annual tax rate of 95 cents on the $100 will be retained for the present fiscal year, since a number of improvements have recently been completed which may necessitate a slight increase in the rate, which will be determined at a future meeting.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT Thursday signed into law the housing bill intended to aid in reviving industry by increasing home construction and repair.

The legislation is caluclated to make available several hundred million for new homes and modernization through government insurance of private loans for this purpose.

The President prepared to set up immediately the machinery to put the housing program into operation. He is counting upon this step to aid employment as well as to improve living conditions.

Cold is Only a part of Refrigeration

Rapidly Circulating Air Is Necessary

The right amount of moisture is necessary. The air in the food chamber must be constantly washed and reconditioned. Odors and gases from foods must be absorbed by cold, dripping water, and automatically carried away.

Flavor and Vitamins are what you are paying your money to get.

If the air is too dry, it robs the foods of their natural moisture and flavor.

If no means of eliminating gases and odors is provided, they are mixed and re-absorbed by all the foods in the food chamber.

Pure, odorless, tasteless, airless ICE CUBES, easily made in 5 minutes.

In the scientifically constructed COOLERATOR, even the odor of raw, cut onions will not mix with unwrapped butter.

Before you buy any refrigerator, be sure to see the new COOLERATOR at

Sheriff Chases, Gets His Man

Thieving Cornet Player Is Taken In Virginia

Capt. Leroy Butler's Medicine Show packed its cars and pulled out of Chestertown Sunday night, and with it went one Billy Glaze, alias Peters, vaudeville performer and cornetist for the entertainment part of the drug and herb layout.

On Tuesday morning several unidentified young ladies about town visited the home of Heighe Hill, where Glaze had lodged while the show was in town, and presented to him some medals and jewelry. The girls knew that the property belonged to that house because one of the medals bore the name of "Cora McWhorter," daughter of Mr. McWhorter, Mr. Hill's landlord.

With this disclosure, a search was made and it was found that several ather articles, including two watches, were missing from the various rooms of Mr. Hill's house, and from Mr. McWhorter's, who lives next door. Sheriff Vickers was notified and through inquiries, he found that the show was in Fredericksburg, Va. Sometime on Tuesday afternoon Sheriff Vickers left Chestertown for Fredericksburg, where he met up with the Medicine Show, confronted Glaze with goods that had been returned. Glaze at first denied having taken the jewelry, but was searched and found in possession of some of it, and then confessed.

Sheriff Vickers took the man into custody and started back for Chestertown, stopping in Baltimore on the way to pick up some more of the stolen property which Glaze had left there. He arrived back in Chestertown with his man Wednesday and he will be given a hearing before Judge Healey Monday.

Two Children Lose Lives In Fairlee Creek Accident

William And Mary Moffett Drown While Help Strives In Vain To Reach Them

Norman Sutton and his wife, who was a Miss Moffett, Miss Rebecca Dodd, aged 21, sister-in-law to Rev. J. Lee Marker, Mary Wroth Moffett, aged 15, and William Vernon Moffett, 10, started Monday after dinner for an outing on Fairlee Creek off the Dulin farm now tenanted by George Wheat. The two Moffett children and Miss Dodd left the other folks crabbing in a boat and went in what is known as Fairlee Creek Narrows. Immediately William stepped into a deep and wide hole and disappeared!

Miss Dodd, was nearby, went to his assistance but was caught in the strong current and was unable to reach him. Meanwhile Mary Moffett, on the other side of the deep hole, also started to her brother's aid only to step into the same abrupt break which had caused the lad to go under.

Miss Dodd's call for help was heard by Mr. Sutton who was in the boat in Fairlee Creek. Possessing only one oar he left his wife to get the boat ashore, ran around the beach and reached the scene of the accident just in time to see Mary Moffett disappearing under the water. He hurried to the spot but was unable to recover the body.

Meanwhile fishermen nearby had reached the scene. They began dragging for the bodies and recovered that of Mary after a search of about a half an hour. Resuscitation efforts were started by the inhalator crew of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company which, with Dr. H. G. Simpers, had been called.

Search was continued for the body of William which was recovered some minutes later just at the edge of the hole which had caused his death. Efforts to revive the children were futile.

Miss Dodd was just reaching for the Moffett boy, she said, when a sudden current shift, or whirlpool, drew them apart. She was drawn under the water and when she finally struggled out of the hole the boy had disappeared.

Mary Worth Moffett was a junior in the Chestertown High School and would have graduated from that institution next year.

Besides their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Moffett, the victims of the dual drowning tragedy are survived by a sister, Thomas Anderson Moffett. Robert Moffett, of Chestertown, was their uncle.

Funeral services took place on Thursday 10 a. m., at their late home on the Beck farm, near Melitota, conducted by Rev. J. Lee Marker. A large crowd of friends and neighbors attended, the arrangements being in charge of Dodd and Usilton, undertakers. Bearers for William Moffett were Edward Morris, Chas. Ford, Irvin Perry, Daniel Perry, George Hudson, Robt. Moffett. For Miss Mary Moffett the bearers were Bayard and Clarence Sutton, George Massey, Herschel Carroll, Wilbur Morris, and Robert Wright. Interment was made in the Anderson family lot in Cecilton, Md.

AAA Modifies Use Of Acres

Acres Can Be Used To Grow Cattle Forage

Subject to further interpretations and administrative rulings, the land known as "contract acres" under AAA wheat and corn production control contract may be used in 1934 for the production of forage or roughage for feeding purposes (not for grain).

The reason for liberalizing the regulations is the drought affecting twenty States. While no shortage of food is expected as a result of the drought there will be a shortage of roughage or forage in the drought area. To offset this condition the ban on the use of the land rented to the AAA is modified to permit the use of these acres as pasture or for hay or seeding them to emergency hay, pasture of forage crops. No corn may be grown on these contract acres but may be planted on other acres as described in next paragraph below. No crop produced on contract acres can be matured to produce grain in any case. Certain grass seeds which are not rated as grain are excepted. Such emergency crops must be harvested before maturity and before "dead-line" dates to be set by AAA.

On land other than contract acres, corn for soiling, fodder or silage may be planted if harvested while immature and before "dead-line" date to be set by AAA. Such corn acres may be in excess of the acreage of tilled acres by your contract, provided field corn for grain (whether used for grain, hogged off, or for silage during base period of 1932 and 1933) is reduced by the percentage stated in your contract (20 per cent up to 30 per cent.) The idea is to make sure the corn for grain acreage is really reduced as per contract, while the growing of corn for immature roughage on other available land (not contract acres) is permissible. If you grow this extra fodder corn you will need to account for the use made of contract acres and to identify these extra corn acres and to demonstrate that no mature corn was harvested therefrom. This as evidence of compliance. There may be later rulings and interpretations.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Local buyers are offering 80 cents for new wheat and 82 cents for old. Threshing will begin next week.

The mercury reached 96 degrees Wednesday and 90 Thursday.

A news tip to the Baltimore News sent by Edw. Blackway, on Tuesday, won $15 second prize.

James E. Collins has been named as superintendent of the American Store at Port Deposit and Sterling Townsend given a position as clerk in the Chestertown Store next to Turner's Garage.

Chester River crabbers are reaping a harvest from the large catches of hard crabs being caught in the river during the week. One trot line crabber netted twenty dollars from five barrels which he caught and which sold on the shore for four dollars a barrel. The run of hard crabs at present is unusually large and trot line crabbers are having no difficlty in catching four and five barrels of hard crabs a day.

The Henry Rosen farm located Lambson's was offered at public sale Saturday by S. R. Collins, and L. W. Barroll. Esqs., trustees, and withdrawn at a bid of $4,700. It may be purchased at private sale of Mr. Collins.

The summer home of Jas. Campbell in Green Lane, Rock Hall, was destroyed by fire Tuesday night. Mr. Campbell is from Philadelphia and was away at the time of fire. The Rock Hall firemen responded but too late to save the property. A gasoline stove is supposed to have caused the fire.

Contractor Albert Strong is completing the work of laying curbs, gutters, and driveways on Washington avenue, and will begin a like work on Maple avenue and Philosophers Terrace. The State Roads Commission is providing the cement for the entire project at a cost to the commission of $3,500, while Council is furnishing the labor, sand and gravel at an approximate cost of $4,500.

When a movement to clean-up, paint-up and beautify sweeps thru a community, it leaves in its wake a healthier, safer and more sanitary town than it found. From the angle of fire safety alone, it is worthwhile. In this connection it is interesting to note that the National Board of Fire Underwriters reported that during the year 1932, rubbish and litter caused a fire loss of almost $1,200,000 thruout the United States. Let's beautify our communities—and save that money this year.
