Big!

The new Overland Red Bird is a big car with big seating capacity and big power! So much automobile for so little money has amazed and won America.

The wheelbase is longer. The body is roomier. The bigger engine is more powerful. The finish of Mandalay maroon, and the khaki top and gleaming nickeled trimmings are more beautiful. The Red Bird stops your eye on the street!

At $750 f. o. b. Toledo, getting 20 miles and more from a gallon of gasoline, the big new Overland Red Bird is, in our estimation, the biggest automobile buy today. We shall have only a few. Act quickly!

Touring $525, Roadster $525, Coupe $795, Sedan $860; f. o. b. Toledo. We reserve the right to change prices and specifications without notice.

Shakespeare says, "the empty vessel makes the greatest sound."

There are a few babblers running around in this campaign doing a heap of talking without knowing what they are talking about. Some of the stuff they are putting out is simply incorrect in statement and nonsense.

But this can not hurt Senator Russell with intelligent and thoughtful people.

The less some people have in them the more noise they make in pouring it out.

Senator Russell does not dodge, straddle or pussy-foot on any public question.

The criticism and censure of some who are opposing Senator Russell is the highest commendation that could be given to him.

Candidates that lack candor should not be very strong with our Democratic voters. No candidate should be afraid to speak out his sentiments and let the voters know just where he is and the things for which he stands.

Trio Of Nationally Known Men Analyze Evils Of Coal Industry; Stress Need For Stable Labor

COL. GUY D. GOFF — COL. HENRY L. STIMSON — DR. CHARLES W. ELIOT

Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard; Colonel Henry L. Stimson, former Secretary of War, and Colonel Guy D. Goff, former Assistant Attorney General of the United States, are among the men to whom the National Coal Association, in an aggressive movement to stabilize the bituminous coal industry and increase its value to the public, has applied for advice.

Dr. Eliot in a comprehensive letter addressed to the organization's annual convention at Atlantic City, stressed the importance of arbitration of disputes by non-partisan agencies, a tenet to which operators claim they have long held. Dr. Eliot advocated the incorporation of all unions that relate to the coal industry.

"In the public interest," he wrote, "it is inexpedient that these secret societies, which collect large sums of money from their members, and use all their resources to support strikes, however violent, should continue to be exempt from the usual legal processes to prevent violations of contract and enforce payment of damages."

Colonel Stimson stressed the need of constructive leadership and unified front in self organization and self discipline in the public's interest.

Colonel Goff emphasized the importance of basic considerations in the coal labor problem to the whole problem of American social and economic development. An attempt is being made, he declared, to change the form of American trade unions into industrial unions as an opening wedge toward compelling the majority in America, or a militant and effective minority, to accept the doctrine of communism.

Investigations conducted by the Bituminous Operators' Special Committee, appointed to cooperate with the United States Coal Commission, have found that labor is one of the principal factors of the cost of coal at the mine, amounting to 68.7 per cent of the total. The constant interruption of the coal supply by nation-wide strikes, made possible by a growing monopolistic power on the part of the United Mine Workers of America, is given as the chief deterrent to a regular supply of coal at satisfactory prices.

STARTING POWER
Balanced!
PICK-UP
MILEAGE

Propellers and motors alike need balance to make the best use of power. "Gas" for your car must be balanced to make power itself ample, flexible, and cheap.

Over 200 miles an hour - with balance

With the finer and finer balancing that designers have achieved in airplanes, their speed has been increased until the record is now well over 200 miles an hour. A real triumph for the principle of balance.

Another similar triumph, less spectacular to be sure but just as important, is the production of a balanced motor fuel. "Standard", the balanced gasoline, is refined and re-refined —with the finest of modern equipment—to give you everything that you need in a motor fuel. Perfect starting—a nimble pick-up—the full power that only clean burning can give you—long mileage per gallon.

Because it is balanced, "Standard" meets every motor fuel requirement consistently and economically.
