ENCOURAGING NEWS

As stated in the NEWS last week an effort is being made to dispense with the Firemen's Carnival for reasons apparent to all good citizens. The voting on the question has been postponed to next Monday.

Having as much to do with the decision as any other thing is the fact that Lawrence G. Brown, a member of the company, has obtained pledges totaling a $1,000 from various citizens, the money to be contributed to the support of the fire company in the event that the carnival was not held.

SUBJECT TO THE DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES

Some people do not understand the great significence of the announcements made by the candidates for office at the Democratic Primary Election. Every person who is seeking a nomination at the hands of the Democratic voters pledges himself, when he announces his candidacy "subject to the decision of the Democratic Primary Election," that he will abide by the result of the primaries. If he is defeated he will support, at the general election, the man or woman who has defeated him; he will not only support him but he will use all of his influence in behalf of the successful candidate in the Primaries.

You are after that nomination now, and in trying to get it you are not going to work in the interest of your opponent, but you must always bear in mind that you are a good party man, as well as a good citizen, and that is the reason you should be careful what you say and do. If you are not a true party man you have no business submitting your candidacy to a Democratic primary. The Democratic party is composed largely of responsible people and you are one of them. If you are nominated the KENT NEWS will recognize the mandate of the people and do all in its power toward electing you to office. If you are defeated in the primaries the NEWS will expect you to stand shoulder to shoulder with it in the election of the Democratic ticket.

We have known people who thought if you were defeated in a Primary Election they could find some excuse to bolt the ticket nominated and go elsewhere.

That might have worked years ago, but it now labels a man as one who cannot be depended upon to keep his word.

Excuses will not mitigate. Fight and if you are defeated be "a good sport."

DO YOU RECALL

WHEN one of the teachers in the public school here many years ago was an old Scotchman named MacBeth. He was a firm believer in corporal punishment, and the instrument he used for this purpose was a piece of sole leather he carried suspended by a cord around his neck. For any infringement of the rules of the school you would get so many strokes on the palm of the hand with this weapon, and we can almost feel the sting of those "promise" yet.

****

WHEN the house occupied by Walter U. Lusby was erected by Wm. O. Smith, a former well-known contractor of the town, who lived there for some years, and it was afterwards the home of the late Harrison W. Vickers, Esq.

****

WHEN the old frame house, adjoining this property, and now occupied by the gas company, is said to have been at one time the parsonage of the P. E. Church?

****

WHEN there was an order of Red Men in the town their meeting place being in the second story of an old frame building on the east side of Cross street, between High and Cannon, and some of us will recall the blood-curdling war whoops that emanated from there when they were initiating new members.

****

WHEN G. Washington Parks, the father of Mrs. Horace Reed, conducted a blacksmith shop on High street, nearly opposite the Catholic Church, and he and his friend, W. C. A. Thompson, could often be seen on the old Chester river bridge wooing the finny tribe.

****

WHEN among the old colored carters of the town many years ago were three of the same name—Thomas, Richard and Levi Jones—but what the relationship was between them, if any, we do not know. Other old carters of that day, or a little later, were Polly Bently, Bob Johnson and Henry Landin, the latter handicapped by the loss of one arm, but still very proficient at his business.

Holiday Hang Over

We still have enough pulp left, after the struggles of getting back into harness following a mid-week holiday, to jot down a few observations along the various waterfronts which we have covered during the past week...

****

At Betterton on Tuesday we found much activity in the way of preparations for the opening of the season, and spent some time chatting with several of the local luminaries. Howard Turner told me of plans to make his Casino more attractive than ever...And gave me an earful of the splendid array of motion pictures which will be shown there.

****

We next wandered over to the Hotel Chesapeake, which has pust recently come into the efficient hands of Henry J. Plant...We lunched with Henry. found his food good, and learned that he has been busy spiking rumors that his hotel is to change hands. There's nothing to it. says Henry...

****

Mrs. Owens, at the Royal Swan Hotel, greeted us cheerily, though a cold forced her to speak to us in only a whisper...We found a delightful breeze, and enjoyed a brief respite from the torrid weather on her porch...

****

Then we dropped into Newsome's Garage to chat with Mr. Clarence for awhile about business, politics and this and that...He told us of news that comes to him of Ritchie's growing strength among the fishermen down the bay...And of course we babbled on about the local situation...

****

In Still Pond, we noticed a new sign hanging out proclaiming the advent of a beauty Salon to that drowsy little town...And we also gathered the news that Bill Medders, barrister son of Merchantman William, is doing a little undercover work for Evans, of Elkton; who has designs on the judgeship for this circuit...

****

From Betterton to Tolchester... And on the shore we found still more preparations for the summer excursion season; with every one feeling that business is going to be better. However, we heard many remarks among the folks visiting that beach concerning the irregularity of the steamer service...And we're inclined to agree that an improvement wouldn't hurt the Tolchester business...

****

In Fairlee we found Junior Bramble, general-utility for the firm, T. H M. Bramble, busy filling his orders for the cottages along the bay...And we learned, with astonishment, that he delivers two and a half tons of ice, three times weekly, to the summer colonists in that section...

****

Coming up the Chester River on Wednesday night, about ten-thirty, we witnessed startling displays of fireworks all the way up from Lankford's Bay...Where we spent a joyous Fourth swimming. eating. lounging with a gay throng which included His Eminence, The State's Attorney.

Of all the displays of bursting lights and rockets those set off at the Raskob estate topped the lot... And for miles up the river they were visible...

****

On Deep Point, the Greibs were entertaining the crowd from Kellog Smith's camp, and the youngsters running about with sparklers resembled giant lightning-bugs in the gloom...

Nearing Chestertown, we could see the pyrotechnic outburts from the shore of the Truslow estates, while occasional flashes revealed that bursting and bombing was still taking place in the town itself...

****

All in all, after a week among the watering spots of Kent, I have come to the conclusion that this county of ours is not one-half appreciated...We have our troubles, truly, but we have natural advantages which are being more and more absorbed by outsiders who realize their worth...And who are snatching them from under our unappreciative noses...

Sees Advantage In Music Study

"Music confers advantages and offers opportunities superior to any other study," says Elizabeth B.Johnson, of the Delaware State Music Teachers Association. "No one who has not studied music, is in a position to appreciate its manifold advantages. Not merely to those who devote their lives to music, but to those who have a part in the every day work of the world," says Miss Johnson. Boys and girls who have the advantage of studying music are better fitted for their future life. It may definitely contribute to their success, by giving them vision and understanding, and daily inspiration.

Continuing she said, "One cannot have anything worth while, without paying for it. The price of musical ability is regular and conscientious practice, with patience, and untiring determination to win out.

"No doubt the criticism of us as a people, that we lack the interest of having good music in the American home, is somewhat true, at least in these recent years. Not so long ago music of some variety was always anticipated as a part of the daily program. In families where there were several children, trained to play diflerent instruments, a miniature orchestra could be heard. Of course mother and dad would always join in a family sing.

"If you remonstrate music freely and lavishly in your home." Miss Johnson pointed out, "it will soon spread in your community, your city. your State, and your nation.

"The private music teacher has had no small part in building a musical foundation for our boys and gilrs. To them credit is due, for making possible various school and group activities. The members of the Delaware State Music Teachers' Association, Inc., have for their objective the promotion of the best interests of music in the city and State and these teachers are adequately prepared to teach the various branches of musical education."

NOTICE TO ALL DELINQUENT TAXPAYERS ON PERSONAL PROPERTY.

We publish herewith a ruling from the Attorney-General on the law governing the sale of personal property for taxes.

The law governing the sale of personal property for taxes in Kent County.

The local law on the subject may be found in Article 15, Sections 152-156, Black's Code of Public Local Laws. Section 154, relating to sales was amended by Chapter 310, Acts of 1933, and authorizes a sale of the property of a delinquent, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to pay the taxes with interest and costs. The general method of procedure is set out in Article 81, Sections 189 and 190 of Bagby's Code of Public General Laws (1929 Euppl.) section 190 indicates that sale of personal property may be either at the Court House door, or on the premises where the levy is made.

Under the Law I will advertise and sell all or enough of the personal property of all delinquents for 1930-1931 on the premises where they were levied upon if taxes are not paid on or before June 20th. This means all personal property that has been levied upon for 1930-1931

H. S. STARTT, Treas.
