Log Canoes To Perform Here

MANY OUTBOARDS WILL ATTEND REGATTA

With a visit to Chestertown yesterday of representatives of the Miles River Yacht Club, "home of the Chesapeake Bay Log Sailing Canoe," an event for such crafts at the annual regatta of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club, on August 17 and 18, was practically assured. The Miles River officials indicated that their club would see to it that the six canoes registered on its roster would make the trip to Chestertown. These six visitors with Howard B. Strong's "Mayflower" will assure an entry of seven boats in the canoe event.

Meanwhile preparations for the regatta are going forward at a rapid pace. More than 400 invitations have been sent to owners of outboard racing crafts and the associations representing this type of speedster. It is estimated that nearly a half hundred of these little racing boats will be roaring up and down the Chester when the events carded for that class are underway.

Additional trophies are being sought by a committee in charge of such affairs. More trophies are needed because more events have been listed on the two-day program this year than have been held during past regattas.

Down at the club's property on the Quaker Neck road preparations have been started for the events. A fence has been erected across th front of the club's wharf property and will be used to keep autos other than those on official business away from the hustle and bustle of activities at the foot of the pier.

Arrangements are being made for committee boats, parties are being planned by club members and Philip G. Wilmer, chairman of the entertainment committee, has announced two dances, one on each night of the regatta.

The present program calls for sailing events on Friday afternoon, August 17, and again on the morning of Saturday, August 18, with the afternoon of the latter day given over entirely to motorboat events.

FROST IN SIX WEEKS SAYS WEATHER PROPHET

Frost in six weeks? The katydids have started chirping, these hot nights and local farmers swear that means the first frost is only six weeks away.

Gill Sheats, local weather prognostigator, who makes his predictions from catepillars, chimes in with a forecast that August will be hot, and that frost will appear before Labor Day.

Sheats is highly regarded as a weather prophet in New Jersey; he predicted last year's cold, hard winter.

Coleman Wins Betterton Swim

TAKES HIGH POINT PLACE IN SECOND MEET

This is the second of the series of swimming meets held at Betterton. The next meet will be on Saturday, August 11, 1934. The events are changed slightly for each meet and will be posted before the next one. Julian Coleman, a new entrant in the Men's Class, was high point scorer for the day, with two first places and one second place. Joseph Russell captured the diving event in excellent form. Miss Nancy Hepbron, another newcomer in the Women's Class, was high point scorer with two first places and a second place. William O'Brian, of Philadelphia, scored high with a first, second and a third place. In the other two classes, Miss Ardythe LeFevre and Charles O'Brian carried off the honors. The scores for the two meets are still very close and competition continues to be very keen.

Quaker Neck Horse Show Set For Aug. 8

TO BE HELD AT LANCHESTER FARM ON CHESTER

Carrying on the traditions of other years, the Quaker Neck Riding Club will sponsor the holding of the Quaker Neck Horsemanship. Show on Wednesday, August 8th, at 1 p. m., on the Lancaster Farm (Nichols Marsh.)

Under the guidance of Miss Nancy Shakespeare a pleasing array of events is planned for the entrants, who will be bays and girls under eighteen years of age. The program of events is as follows:

1—Grand Parade, with all competeing horses and riders;

2—Novice Saddle Class, open to all children who have never before won a prize.

3—Open Jump, 3½ feet, to be judged 100 per cent on the rider.

4—Pony Saddle Class, to be judged fifty per cent on manners and performance and fifty per cent on rider.

5—Touch and Out, beginning at three feet.

6—Open Saddle Class, to be judged fifty per cent on manners and performance and fifty per cent on rider.

7—Adult and Child Saddle Class, adult and child to ride in pairs and ot be judged on performance of the matched pair.

8—Bareback Jump, three feet. To be judged solely on the merit of the rider.

W. R. Hubbard, prominent sportsman and huntsman of Chestertown, will judge the various events. It is expected that a large group of entries will be on hand, and those people desiring further information of the show should contact Miss Nancy Shakespeare. There will be no admission charged for spectators.

Eight Cases Heard At Monday Court

Eight cases were on the docket of Judge F. Healey's police court for Chestertown Monday night and were disposed of as follows:

Hulbert Townsend, charged with driving a truck bearing dealer's tags after the 10-day regulation time for using such tags had expired. Case dismissed.

Elbert Brown, colored, disorderly conduct. $5 fine or 15 days in jail.

Charles Mathews, colored, assault and battery. Not guilty.

Sam Lindsay, disorderly conduct. $25 fine or 30 days in jail.

Sarah Cann, disorderly conduct. Not guilty.

Clara Cann, disorderly conduct. Not guilty.

Mildred Jones, assault and battery. Case continued when prosecuting witness was unable to appear.

Charles Stewart, assault and battery. Case continued upon request of council for defense.

NOTES ON SPORTS

Stepping out of their own league last Sunday, the Chestertown golfers journeyed to Newark, Del., and were beset to the tune of 17 to 7. Though, in explanation of some extent, it might be added that some of the better stick-wielders from Chestertown didn't make the trip.

Chestertown is now champion of the upper division of the Eastern Shore Golf League, and is merely waiting for the schedule to be completed in the lower bracket so that an opponent can be found and a date set for the Shore championship.

—o—

At least one division of the races for the Chester River Regatta will have ample competition. The outboard class, being handled by Bob Harrison, is fully expected to have forty or more boats competing. Young Harrison is working hard and diligently to put this class across, and his labors will result in much buzzing and spluttering about the Country Club dock.

—o—

The swimming races at Betterton continue to build in interest and entrants. This past week Julian Coleman, the Crumpton splasher, stepped in and captured the high point prize, while Joe Russell entered and won handily the diving contest. Scott Beck continues to score points, and romped home with a first and third. The Betterton Beach Club, which is staging these meets, plans an elaborate program for Labor Day. Plans at present call for a marathon swim, from Grove Point to Betterton.

—o—

It's not too far away for us to begin thinking about football, for in one more month the gridirons will begin to hum with activity. Coach Kibler, for one, has had thoughts of the pigskin all summer, and as a result we can expect a more prosperous season at Washington this Fall. Last week, Pope Knight arrived in town with two likely-looking prospects for the Maroon eleven who will enroll here in September. Bobby Cavanaugh, too, is sending over a couple of boys who should bolster the Washington team; while the entire freshman class will of course be scanned for material. From Chestertown, Oakley Valliant, the sprinter, will be a candidate, and its not too much to expect that Valliant, before he winds up his college careet, will be a good footballer. He has speed, husky build, and is looking forward to playing the game.

—o—

The St. Michael's Regatta is claiming the attention of the sports and bon vivantes this week-end, and several boatloads from Chestertown will be out on the course there today. This regatta, the oldest on the bay, draws hundreds of craft from all along the Atlantic seaboard, and its events usually have many entries.

I. HOLLINS HIMSELF

"Show me a field I can't plow"

THIS expression, often heard from an owner of the new Case Model "L" Tractor, shows the absolute confidence he has in his tractor's ability.

The tractor backs him up on it, too. Light and compact, it weighs but a trifle more than three draft horses—no excess weight to be pulled around. More power is available for useful and profitable work.

Other advantages include a fast, irreversible steering gear which relieves the operator of shocks and jerks from the front wheels . . . hand operated clutch within reach from the ground or tractor seat . . . handy controls easily worked . . . swinging drawbar for easy steering and making short turns with full loads . . . practically automatic lubrication.

Come in—see and decide for yourself that the many advantages offered in this new tractor and in the smaller Model "C" as well as in many other Case farm machines are just what you need to make your farm work easier and more profitable.
