Gold in a Goose's Gullet.

A small and select party of Newarkers feasted New Year's night at the home of Benjamin Butler, of Newark, on a big gray goose shot in the Klondike. The host, Mr. Butler, announced that while the goose was being prepared for the oven an ounce of gold dust was found in its gullet. The bird was from Wm. Quidort, who shot it. He embalmed it in ice before starting it on its long journey.

FOLDING-BED VICTIM.

Discovery of a Woman's Death After She Had Been Dead Several Days.

Mrs. Lucreta Kent, a widow of Springfield, Ill., met her death in a manner horrible in the extreme. Her fate was revealed when a friend entering the house found her dead body.

One hand was pinioned inextricably under a heavy folding bed. The body was badly decomposed, showing that death had occurred several days ago.

When found the woman's broken hand was still clasped in the bed as in a blacksmith's vise. How the accident happened will never be known definitely. She lived alone in the house.

Fastest Time On Record.

The race between the Burlington and Northwestern fast mail trains for a $750-000 mail contract, which started last Tuesday night in Chicago, was concluded in Omaha Wednesday:

It was the fastest run for a 500-mile stretch ever made, and the trains ran as high as 110 miles an hour for fifteen miles at a stretch.

Passengers on the trains say the ride was one of the most exciting they ever had. The cars seemed to leap over the tracks, and to roll from side to side in a most alarming manner, they said. The trainmen, however, are quite proud of the exploit, and say they wish such runs could be made every day.

CLEVELAND'S OUTBURST!

He Ridicules Some Phases of the Present "Epidemic of Imperialism."

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 5.—Ex-President Grover Cleveland, in reply to a request for an expression of his views the subject of expansion and annexation, said today:

"I do not care to repeat my views concerning the prevailing epidemic of imperialism and territorial expansion. Assuming, however, that my ideas on the subject are antiquated and unsuited to these progressive days, it is a matter of surprise to me that the refusal of certain natives of our new possessions to acquiesce in the beneficence of subjecting them to our control and management should in the least disturb our expansionists. This phase of the situation ought not to have been unanticipated nor the incidents naturally growing out of it overlooked.

"The remedy is obvious and simple. The misguided inhabitants of our annexed territory, who prefer something different from the plan proposed for their control, or who oppose our designs in their behalf, should be slaughtered. The killing of natives has been a feature of expansion since expansion began, and our imperialistic enthusiasm should not be checked by the prospective necessity of destroying a few thousand or a few hundred thousand Filipinos.

"This should only be regarded as one stage in a transcendantly great movement, a mere incident in its progress. Of course some unprepared souls would then be lost before we had the opportunity of Christianizing them, but surely those of our clergymen who have done so much to encourage expansion could manage that difficulty."
