DEMOCRATIC HARMONY TICKET STANDS ON A FINE RECORD

The question of support or opposition to the New Deal as promulgated by Roosevelt does not enter into this campaign as far as it has developed. The Democrats with but few exception are a New Deal but more especially for a Square Deal. With this statement the KENT NEWS presents some outstanding facts why this Democratic Harmony ticket should be endorsed overwhelmingly by the Democrats of Kent county.

1—That the county's tax rate for all purposes has been reduced from $2.51 in 1920 to 83 cents in 1934.

2—That the bonded debt for which the people of the county are responsible has been reduced from over a half million to a paltry $6,000 school bonds.

3—That at the present rate of retirement which has been consistently followed during the past four years, Kent county's entire bonded indebtedness will be wiped out within two years.

4—That while other counties have issued bonds for thousands of dollars for road improvements which must be paid by the tax-payers, Kent county thru its representative and leaders in the county obtained a half million dollars worth of new roads and bridges at not a single penny's direct cost to the tax-payers.

5—That the whole government has been administered honestly, efficiently and with fine integrity and that present officials and candidates who are seeking office for the first time all stand pledged to a continuation of this type of progressive, useful and conscientious public service.

6—That county officials associated with the Democratic Harmony ticket have consistently fought for and advocated only such legislation as would be beneficial to the watermen of Kent county.

7—That the whole campaign will be based upon the real issues, involving efficiency of administration and honest management of county business.

YOUTHS FIND BURIED GOLD

DIGGING IN CELLAR, FIND VALUABLE COINS

Two youths, digging in a cellar in a house on South Eden street, Baltimore Friday afternoon unearthed a small fortune in gold coins.

Encrusted with mold and buried only a few inches below the cellar's earthen floor, the coins were dated between 1851 and 1854, apparently the hoard of some long-forgotten seafaring man.

The youths, Theodore Jones, 16, of 132 South Eden street, and Henry Grob, 15, of 227 South Caroline street, were digging in the cellar of Jones' home for a place to hide the valuables of a club they were forming and which was to meet in the cellar.

In $20, $10, $5, $2½ and $1 pieces, the hoard totaled $11,424.

Jones was digging with a small shovel when he felt it hit something hard. He reached down and pulled out a $20 gold piece.

"Look!" he exclaimed, "here's a medal."

Grob looked. "You're crazy," he said, "that's a $20 gold piece."

"From that time on, as Jones retold the story later, "I was in that hole—hands, elbows, knees and everything."

Finally, after more than half the hoard had been dug out, they found the container it had been in—a gallon can, now more than half rotted away. The whole thing had been buried in a corner of the forty-foot long cellar, unused except for the boys' clubhouse.

They divided it into what they thought was equal parts and carried it home to their mothers. They carried the gold in their shoes, and walked home barefooted, their minds filled with dreams of what they would do with the—to them—fabulous fortune.

The youths walked into the Eastern Police Station later in the evening, their arms filled with cigar boxes and leather bags containing the fortune.

To Sergt. Harry R. Hill, they said: "We've got about $7,000 in gold here."

The money was counted and found to total $882 more than the boys had estimated in their rough count

Legal action will be instituted in Circuit Court No. 2 to determine ownership of the $11,424.

Harry O. Levin, attorney for the boys, stated he will seek a court ruling on the property rights of his clients.

Meanwhile, other claimants to the gold are said to planning appeals to the courts. The house in which the coins were found belongs to the family of H. Findlay French, director of the industrial bureau of the Association of Commerce.

Title of the house is in the names of Mr. French's mother and aunt. Mr. French stated it was undecided whether his family would file a claim for the money.

Grindstone Aids Science

An Indiana grindstone came to the aid of a scientist at the Smithsonian Institution when he sought to learn whether the years actually had seasons 270,000,000 years ago, when coal was being formed. He found the answer in the light and dark banding of the stone. More carbon was in the thin dark layers and he concluded they resulted from warm dry summers with considerable deposition of plant and animal remains. The wider and lighter-colored bands he attributed to wet winters that were colder, when more sediments were deposited in the streams and less carbon from once-living forms.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Constituents of Human Body

A man weighing 154 pounds will contain approximately 3,500 cubic feet of gas-oxygen, hydrogen and nitrogen—in his constitution. He also contains all the necessary fats to make a 15-pound candle, and thus, together with his 3,500 cubic feet of gases, he possesses considerable illuminating possibilities. His system contains 22 pounds and 10 ounces of carbon, or enough to make 780 dozen or 9,360 lead pencils. There are about 50 grains of iron in his blood and the rest of the body would supply enough of this metal to make one spike large enough to hold his weight.
