REPUBLICANS NOMINATE

The State Convention of the Republican Party was held in Baltimore Thursday and the following nominations for State offices made:

Harry W. Nice, of Baltimore. for Governor.

George H. Henderson, of Cumberland, for Attorney-General.

Fred H. Adkins, of Salisbury, for Comptroller.

Mayor Walter E. Quenstedt, of Annavolis. for Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

Dr. France, for the United States Senate.

Strange to state this convention endorsed in a large degree "The New Deal!" They also tried to cover the planks in the Democratic platform but expressed their dislike to Gov. Ritchie. It therefore makes the issue in this State Ritchie vs. Nice. Mr. Phoebus, of Somerset, in sveaking of Tait's removal as Chairman of the State Central Committee, said Mr. Urie should have the privilege of meeting his pall bearers, and so it is only a short while before the funeral. This State will never trade an executive like Ritchie who has been tested and found able for an untried man like Nice.

FORMER Senator Ovington E. Weller's policy of silent treatment in the current Republican factional squabble was abandoned and, in a statement, he asserted that the "present utterance and attitude" of Galen L. Tait, State party chairman, shows that it would be wise for him to resign for the good of the party.

CONGRESSMAN T. Alan Goldsborough has just been informed by the Chief of Engineers, War Department, Washington, D. C., that the Secretary of War has approved the allotment of $11,500 to restore the Kent Island Narrows Channel to 8 feet in depth. Bids for the dredging have been received, and a contract will be entered into for the dredging without delay, Mr. Goldsborough was informed.

Space Grabber.

Twice during the past week Leonard Needles, of Chestertown, paperhanger and bee-fancier, has crashed the columns of city dailies. Earlier, he was the hero of a yarn about bees and beer-keg, and Wednesday Christopher Billop was called to task in a letter to the Rolling Road column in the Evening Sun.

Since he's good enough to make the metropolitan dailies I don't suppose there's much use of us looking forward to contributions for this space.

—o—

Requesting Support.

Chestertown's Library is one of those organizations which we are prone to take for granted, as long as we can visit its room twice weekly and pick up a diverting novel for an evening's entertainment. Rather than waiting until financial straits force it to close, thus cutting us off from the treasures which it holds, let us give it our support.

Incidentally, when you drop up there to make your contribution, put your name on the waiting list for "The Gorgeous Huzzy," a novel worth your while at any time.

—o—

According To Noah.

Hearing so much belittling of politicians about us, we thumbed the pages of Webster's dictionary and found these words describing this species of humanity: "One versed in or devoted to government." Which goes to prove that we must have politicians, and one of two kinds; he who knows the science of government and is mentally prepared to handle the agencies which govern us, or he who follows the sport of job-holding by reason of devotion and personal interest only. It is foolish to speak of ridding ourselves of politicians, but we do have a choice of politicians.

—o—

Cocktail Party.

By way of accommodation we furnish the following definition of "cocktail party," for Harry Russell, who, for some reason, asked us to enlighten him:

Giggle—Gabble—Guzzle—Git!

—o—

Disappointment.

There are many who have been disappointed with the Lindbergh case disclosures...They envisioned a mighty gang of supermen as doers of the deed, international desperadoes with untold resources and equipment at their command, and working through intrigue and conspiracy from within the flyer's home...But it seems to be turning out as an ordinary tale of an ordinary man's attempt to get $50,000 in an extraordinary manner. So far there is little of the romantic about Hauptmann, a Bronx carpenter, who spent ten cents twice weekly for a glass of beer in a Barvarian beer-garden for two years; and cashed enough of the ransom notes so that he gave himself a salary of thirty dollars a week out of the hoard. But I suppose it was this normal existence which kept him from being caught for so long.

—o—

Suggested Reform.

Doc Hicks, Mayor of Galena, agrees with us that only two members of the Orphans' Court should be elected every four years, the other judge to hold over. In other words, stagger their election so that the four-year terms of each will not end at the same time; thereby keeping in office at all times a man who has had experience with that important office.

—o—

Pi-ed Type.

One of the so-called better printers of Chestertown ran afoul of Hick Gardner's goat in the vicinity of the Enterprise Building one day this week, and the result was a beautiful up-ending...Seeking refuge in Jones and Satterfield's, the type-slinger grabbed a two-by-four and lambasted the goat to a fare-the-well.

—o—

Language Note.

According to a letter from him to Tom Healey, Dan Parker, of the New York Daily Mirror, will be accompanied by a Lithuanian when he covers Notre Dame and Fordham football games so that he will know what they're talking about.

With the cooler weather on the way, housekeepers who are looking for something to tempt the family appetite can breathe a sigh of relief now that oysters are in the market again. Served raw. on the half-shell, in appetizing cocktails, or steamed, stewed, broiled, fried, escalloped in deep baking dishes, hidden away in crisp pie crust, or —looking forward a bit—holding a place of honor as filling for roast turkey, they are sure of a welcome all their own, whether they grace the festive board or the everyday table.

In preparation for the oyster season, the proprietors of oyster-handling concerns throughout the State were notified during the summer, by Mr. A. L. Sullivan. Chief of the Bureau of Food and Drugs of the State Department of Health, of the requirements which must be met for shucked and canned oysters in order that the product may be accepted for sale or shipment within or without the State.

RITCHIE'S ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Governor Ritchie deserves a re-election because of his excellent record. Look at these accomplishments:

A public school system, whose efficiency is recognized by educational authorities all over the country.

A State merit system against which no charge of political favoritism has ever been made.

A State purchasing department, whose fairness and sound business qualities have never been questioned.

An excellent highway system.

Co-operation with the labor organizations in matters affecting them, such as revisions of the workmen's compensation laws under the joint supervision of the Governor and the State Federation of Labor.

State institutions and hospitals of foremost rank.

A splendid State University and Agricultural College.

A State farm for rehabilitation of prisoners.

Welfare legislation along various lines.

These are some of the achievements of this administration which should appeal to all the people of this State.

The past few years have seen States and cities crashing into insolvency all around us, not paying their employes and defaulting on their obligations. Yet in August, 1933, Maryland State bonds sold for over 105. In February, 1934, they sold for almost 106. Last month (August) they sold for the unprecedented price of over 109.

These figures show the amazing credit would be entirely impossible without a thoroughly good budget system, well and soundly administered, and it is due in large part to the fact that Maryland has a balanced budget.

There are other features of Gov. Ritchie's record which recommends him to the voters. There will be noted in later issues of the NEWS.
