SATURDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1934

IN 1932, in the darkness and despair into which this country had fallen under the Hoover administration, the people sought for a leader to guide them back to better days.

Frank Delano Roosevelt was selected as that leader, and immediately after his inauguration entered upon the institution of policies that held the nation together and is surely—if less rapidly than might be hoped—bringing order out of chaos.

Those who condemn his policies have been invited and urged to suggest something better, but the answer is always silence.

In troublous seas do not throw overboard the pilot who has saved the ship from wreck upon a reef, but support him by voting for the candidates who are in sympathy with his leadership — the Democratic contestants.

VOTE FOR J. THOS. HADAWAY

J. Thomas Hadaway

The NEWS has presented the claims of the Democratic candidates for State and County offices. This week it is our privilege and pleasure to present as the candidate for Sheriff that sterling Democrat J. THOMAS HADAWAY. Next to the State's Attorney and the Court in importance in enforcing the law, comes that of Sheriff. J. Thomas Hadaway has proven that he knows how to conduct the Sheriff's office. He is of good old-time Democratic stock and will give to the office his best service. He has a family of high reputation and esteem.

When a man has once performed a task most successfully, there is not much question but that he can duplicate the performance. Mr. Hadaway has been sheriff before and it has been frequently said of him that he was one of the best that ever filled that office. He knows what the job calls for. knows its difficulties and how to overcome them as well as knowing the responsibilities of the place. In the opinion of his numerous friends Mr Hadaway possesses the shrewdness and tact so vitally necessary in the performance of a sheriff's duties and they are going to back their opinion by lining up solidly for his election November 6th. He is a waterman, widely known in Piney Neck, Rock Hall, Quaker Neck and elsewhere. A man of big heart, good character and able to carry out the law as sheriff. We solicit his hearty support by the voters of Kent county.

Another Water Front Farm Sold

Donald R. Thompson, of Media, Pa., has purchased from L. Bates Russell, small farm delightfully located on lovely cove, a branch of Lankford Bay, seven acre farm, improved with a 6-room frame building and outbuildings, with some fruit and shrubbery, after which he plans to make many improvements by clearing away the fringe of woods bordering the shore line,thus opening up the way to view beautiful Lankford Bay, and will take every advantage of this little water front in way of fishing, crabbing and wild fowl gunning this coming season, as the waters here afford all these delightful advantages. Kent welcomes these folks to her hospitable shores. The sale was made thru Treherne Associates, Realty, Chestertown, Md.

Some forty golfers of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club and guests from other Eastern Shore clubs took part in the stag dinner at the local club house last Friday evening, the feature of which was the presentation of the shield, emblematic of the team championship of the Shore, to the Chestertown club. The presentation was made by Royace R. Spring, president of the Peninsula Golf League.

E. Clarke Fontaine was the chairman of the meeting and the list of speakers included W. J. Stenger, who accepted the trophy, Claude E. Truslow, Harry S. Russell, Dr. E. J. Clarke, Jesse D. Maxwell, R. Hynson Rogers, H. S. Brown and Clyde W. Elezey, the latter a member of the Bell Mont Country Club at Choptank.

P. S. To A Radiogram

From up in Galena comes BILL STARR
To deny the accusations of F. H. R.
For Frank Ruth, in a poem, said that BILL STARR
Had told him pointblank he was against
GOVERNOR R.

But the said Bill Starr gave angry vent
To the colossal nerve of the rhyming gent.
For this said Bill Starr, his wife or deceased Mother
Have said not a word for one candidate or another.

They have kept their peace and
Were filled with surprise
When Frank Ruth's RADIOGRAM
Appeared in the Enterprise.

So Bill Starr came to us and Told His Story
And we forthwith agreed to try
Through the columns of the NEWS,
With political poetry,
To strip bare the infamous lie.

Like poets of old through the halls of time,
Frank Ruth is no different than another.
He strives and strives to get a word to rhyme
And thought one was as good as the other.

But he played with the truth in his RADIOGRAM
And indulged in the pastime of Political SHAM.

So, to Bill Starr, his wife, and the Memory of his Mother
He owes an abject apology, the damages
To Cover.

"Looking 'Em Over"

BY BILL USILTON

RAGGED CUFF NOTES

Note of Explanation.

In case some folks are wondering why J. Thomas Hadaway and Stephen R. Collins were omitted from the NEWS' summary of Democratic candidates last week, we will explain forthwith, or even quicker.

Steve was left out because he has no opponent, while J. Thomas was missing because we feel that he has practically no opposition. (We use him today at the request of friends, who felt that he had been slighted.)

Note On College Boys.

It can't be denied that civilization is creeping into the ranks of our under-graduates, after the appearance of the ad in this week's issue. In the dim, dark days of collegiate depravity bonfire material was secured in the foraging fashion, hither and yon. rip and tear. But now, lo and behold, Washington College's gentlemen of the lecture halls politely request for donations through the columns of the press!

Humorous Note?

We offer the following paragraph to the Republicans, without charge or credit line.

It might be said with truth, after last week's news of changes to be made in the conservation department, that the Ritchie machine will run without Earle.

Note On Nastiness.

Think up something real good and snappy, brimming with sarcasm, to toss at Dame Rumor as soon as that damsel gets her feet back on the ground from taking credit and back-slaps for scuttling Dudley Roe's political craft. .....

Tour Of Inspection.

We have it from a reliable source that the wife of the Republican candidate for Sheriff, feeling confident of victory, has already inspected the jail with a view to improvements to be made for her convenience.

Note Of Surprise.

All along we have been under the impression that the Republicans had no platform, but we were wrong...Last week Harry Nice disproved our contention by falling off said planks when they collapsed in Rock Hall...At least it was, and is, a very weak one.

Note On Mistakes.

Its usually hard to find an alibi around a printing office for mistakes which sneak into print, but this week we are covered...One of our master printers, Walter Kulley, is recuperating from his honeymoon, and upon his nervous shoulders can be hung the responsibility for errors...At this writing he is bearing up as well as can be expected. Huey "Kingfish" Peterson, the dean of debaters, is acquainting him daily with the facts of life.

Note On Confidence.

In Baltimore last week-end, we learned that Ritchie. Nice and Gillespie, the independent candidate, would all carry that city in the coming November fracas. There is no lack of assurance among this trio, but what we can't understand is why Brodus Fitchell and Bernard Ades neglected to join this cheerful group. There's no expense attached, and it would be just a case of delightful backwatering after the votes are counted.

From The Other Cuff.

What with H. S. Brown on the NRA Advisory Board and J. H. "Duke" Brown connected with the PWA and the Tennessee Valley Authority, Quaker Neck's Republicans are well represented in the New Deal Democratic government... Bill Medders, barrister, will maestro the political rally to be held in Still Pond on November 2nd... Harry Russell admits that the word "aborning," which he used in a recent sports column, came from the Bible...and we're wondering who told him about it.

Note On Cigars.

A Democrat met a Republican candidate in the Court House the other day, and observed three cigars protruding from the latter's pocket. Said the Democrat, "Are you giving those out to us?"...The Republican optimist smiled and said. "No, I only give those to my Republican brothers." The Democrat smiled too, and added, "Well, how do you expect to be elected in Kent County without Democratic votes?" The Republican office seeker said that he didn't know.

Three days later, the same Democrat met the same Republican would-be-servant-of-people and noticed that only two cigars remained in his pocket. He remarked, but not sarcastically, "Well, I see that you have met one Republican since I last saw you!"

TURKEYS BEING SHIPPED

Kent county's large turkey crop has begun to move to market at prices which indicate that the profit from the crop this season will be much larger than last year. County Treasurer H. Stockton Startt, one of the largest buyers in the county has been shipping small lots this week for which he has been paying 25 cents a pound alive, which is eight cents a pound higher than the price paid at the beginning of the past season. Some large flocks have been raised this year. It is a great sight to see flocks of as many as from 1000 to 1500 turkeys roaming the fields. Messrs. Jervis, Baker, Williams, Biggers and Nicholson are among the largest shippers.

The Young Men's Club of Christ M. P. Church was entertained on Thursday evening at the home of the president, Ralph Usilton and wife.

Mayor Chas. N. Satterfield was officially notified by Abel Wolman, engineer in charge of PWA projects in Maryland, this week that the Public Works Administration in Washington has appropriated $44,000 for the erection of a sewerage disposal plant in Chestertown. The Mayor called a special meeting of the City Council Wednesday, and discussed with a representative of the PWA details of the project. It is believed that the plant will be erected and in operation by early spring.

RITCHIE FOR GOVERNOR

The argument used by Mr. Nice and his Republican advocates against Ritchie is that he has been Governor several times. There is nothing to this. Dr. E. J. Clarke, well-known in Kent as a former school superintendent, answers the argument in a most convincing manner. He says:

"Apply the principal of 'Change' to the general plan of living, and we would have the clergyman who has served, faithfully and well his pastorate; who has proved a splendid influence in the community; who has built up his church spiritually and materially;—we would have him removed even while he is in the prime of his administrative ability.

The instructor in the schools would be displaced tho' the results of his teaching has revealed a splendid record of achievement in importing knowledge to youthful minds; whose association with his pupils has built up a mutual regard that will last through the years; and whose vigor, mental and physical, justify many more successful years in his profession;—just for a change.

The physician whose attendance upon family ills has always been successful, would be traded for another. He who has never failed to answer a call; who, often, is both practitioner and nurse; who, many times, serves without pay; whose visits are never stopped by storm or tempest; — he must suffer a "change," tho' not yet passed into general discard.

The business man would fire his capable employe; the mistress her valuable servant; the farmer his constant work man; and, in short, efficiency would be the mark of disapproval if extended over a long period. A change supercedes recognized worth. And so, Mr. Ritchie, because of sixteen years of real accomplishment, involving every phase of public welfare; accomplishment along the lines of education, by which Maryland has risen to a most creditable rank among the States of the Union; of public roads, second to none; of taxation, always kept to the minimum; of State aid handed out to the unemployed; of such valuable money-saving legislation; for these he is to be changed, simply for the sake of "change."

In our opinion, these considerations are just those which will influence a big majority of Maryland's citizens to continue Mr. Ritchie in office. Continue him, because there is no one else in sight who can approach him in fitness for the office. brought about by just the years of experience which the people of Maryland have enabled him to acquire. A man of recognized national ability; a man who has brought honor to the State.

The 'NEWS" urges its readers to weigh carefully their opinions on the gubernatorial problem, and we counsel them to support the man whose state craft, honesty, integrity, and all-round executive ability measure up to the standard required by the office—Albert C. Ritchie.

Equally strong arguments may be made in advocacy of all other candidates on Democratic Ticket.

Negro Methodists Meet Here

A District Conference of Negro ministers and laymen of the Delaware Conference. was held in Jane's M. E. Church Wednesday evening. Delegates from all churches in the district attended. Mayor Charles N. Satterfield delivered the address of welcome.

Six Kent county watermen received a total of $355 from Federal relief funds a recent survey disclosed. A total of 385 loans,amounting to $38,862.54, were made to watermen on the Eastern Shore.

The survey disclosed that Somerset county, with 275 loans totaling $25,959, heads the list in the number awarded Dorchester county with fifty-three loans totaling $5,665, was next. Queen Anne's got $550.

SELECT YOUR MORTICIAN As You Choose a DOCTOR

Too many people are inclined to think of the mortician just as a business man. Too little consideration is given to his necessary qualications in embalming physiology, chemistry, physic, pathology, bacteriology, sanitary science and post mortem plastic surgery.

Few people know of the part played by the mortician in safe guarding the health of the public. Often at great personal risk, he takes the necessary steps to prevent the spread of disease. This vital service is recognized and appreciated by the medical profession and public health authorities. For your own protection you should select your mortician as you choose your doctor, according to his professional skill.
