Is an illustration of our pure fruit juice hobby. Did you ever walk out in the patch, when the dew was on, and pick the big luscious berries one after another, each a whole mouthful—no suggestion of shipping crate and market? That is our pure fruit flavored

People think it is worth talking about. Nearly every day a patron brings a friend in and says: "I want Mr. Brown to have a taste of that pure fruit flavored cream soda; I've been telling him of it.

An Open Letter to Young Men.

Roland B. Hennesy in the Broadway Magazine sounds the warning to the young men of the country in the following article that is worthy of serious study and consideration:

Fifty or even twenty-five years ago any young fellow of fair ability, nonesty and energy had a reasonable chance of becoming a somebody in the community. He could be an employer and make himself a factor in the busy life of the times.

It was an era of small capital, small stores, but big ambition. It was the time when men, even though obscure and withe little capital, could, by exercising frugality and taking advantage of opportunities or making them when occasion demanded, be absolutely certain of attaining position and a competence if not actual wealth.

WHEN YOUNG MEN AMOUNTED TO SOMETHING.

Those were the stirring times when the might and intelligence of a united people were working out the great problem of a marvelous country's growth. We were then a business nation formed of countless individuals, each adding his quota of brain and brawn.

The average man, who, by energy and economy, had saved a few dollars, was able to start in business for himself. Young men always had this incentive. They knew they had an equal chance with their fellows, and it was this feeling of security in the future that laid the foundation of this great country, which, young, healthy, and virile itself, was eminently a young man's country. Every such man knew that it was within the range of possibility for him to become a Gould or Vanderbilt.

EVERYTHING WITHIN HIS GRASP.

No avenue of business endeavor was closed to him. The markets of the world, the realms of finance, the technical fields of manufacturing and railroading, and the allied forces of civilization were open to those who would enter them.

To sum it up: the young man of a few years ago was master of himself and his destinies, and was guaranteed by the very condition of the country and the trend of the times, that absolute and well-defined quality held out to all by our Constitution.

WHAT DO YOU AMOUNT TO NOW.

Where do you, the young man of to day, find yourself? Stop and consider if your are not in this exact position! Even if, in your youth and thoughtfulness, you have not given much attention to great social problems, you cannot fail to have noticed a growing, insiduous and apparently irresistible force that has changed the aspect of the commercial, financial and manufacturing business of the country. You have seen all the small concerns that have been the back bone of American industry swallowed up in a whirlpool.

And to day you must see that, as things are now drifting, there is no hope for you in the future. By no chance can you ever cope with that great, heartless, strong relentless factor that is grinding out the stamina, the hope, and the ambition of every young man in America today. There is no use in your trying to save money and start in business yourself. The business world is closed to you.

THE EVIL TO YOUNG MEN.

All this, of course, has reference to Trusts, but please remember that the Trust is not a great big glittering generality. It is a cold fact, borne out by figures, and is as surely an element warring against the material and personal welfare of the young man and his family as anarchy itself. Think of it—1,000,000 persons thrown out of employment by the formation of new Trusts during the past years, thereby adding to the already colossal wealth of the Trusts over a billion dollars. But remember also, that the remedy is in your hands and that you have in your power a sure, and deadly weapon in the form of a vote.

Are you a clerk in the employ of a Sugar Trust? If so, are you not perfectly aware that there is no reason under God's blue heaven why you should try to better your position or look forward to a career that means anything but drudgery and a bare living? Why should Mr. Havemeyer pay you one dollar more than he does, when he knows there are plenty of others to take your place because the labor market is glutted with strong American manhood forced into idlenesss by these illegal combinations?

GOD HELP YOU!

Are you employed by the Steel Trust, the Rubber Trust, or the Zinc Trust? If so, God help you, for you know, and the whole nation knows that you are but a cog in a great throbbing, merciless machine that grinds out the life-blood of the young men of our country, so that a few well dressed, over fed and overbearing individuals may build yachts and gradually but surely form an offensive and dyspeptic aristocracy.

Can you for a moment be undecided as to which of the parties has made possible the conception of the Trusts, their continuance and growing power.

THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE EVILS.

Mark Hanna, one of the shrewdest, cleverest and wealthiest men of America, is the embodiment of the Trust idea. The Republicans themselves cannot deny this; and Mr. Hanna in his indifference and supreme contempt for the working man, will not take the trouble to do so.

When, therefore, a man like Mark Hanna shrewd, far seeing, calculating and experienced to a degree, insists that a continuance of the present state of affairs is possible only by the election of Mr. McKinley, is it not a direct acknowledgement that McKinley, standing as he does for Hanna stands also for what his master represents—Trusts and moreof them?

THE ISSUE IS PLAIN.

Young man, do not let yourself be fooled by the opponents of William J. Bryan, who in their frantic endeavor to hide their real danger of the Trusts, are trying to raise false alarms. They will tell you that Bryanism means a debased money, anti patriotism and dozen other things that in themselves become important only because the shouters are red faced and hysterical in their efforts to get away from the main issue.

OUR OBJECT.

This letter to the Broadway Magzine readers is not intended for a political argument in the usual sense of the term. The intentions are not to decry Mr. McKinley, nor to praise Mr. Bryan. It is the intention, however, to let every young man in America know what the Trusts have been and are doing to him, and will continue to do to him if he does not make use of the tremendous power in his hands and prepare to crush out a national evil, that if not checked at once and for all time, will make us a nation of autocrats and serfs.

THINK IT OVER.

Think it over carefully. It is plain matter-of-fact common sense. It is true, and you know it. You cannot do yourself, the cause or the country a better service than by handing this letter to a friend, be he Democrat or a Republican.

For the Trust is no respector of parties, and strikes alike the young and old of whatever creed or faction.

Young men, are you convinced? Then remember, your vote is the nation's remedy.

Law of Bribery.

The law of this State for bribery at elections provides as follows:

"If any person shall by force, threat, menace, intimidation, bribery or reward, or offer or promise thereof, or otherwise unlawfully, either directly or indirectly, influence or attempt to influence any voter in giving his vote; every such person shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by imprisonment in jail or in the penitentiary for not less than six months nor more than five years.
