James Frost and Sarah Pinckney being suspected of living incontinently together & having been summoned to appear on tht. account appear accordingly and being Examined what they had to offer in Excuse of such suspition say
p. 82 nothing material in their Excuse but rather increase than abate the aforementioned Suspition and thereupon 'tis the opn. of the Vestry that in case of any future Cohabitation betwixt them or of any frequenting each other's company they ought to be proceeded against and be as liable to Conviction as if she were sufficiently proved a Lewd Woman.

Mr. Salathiel Quinny being summon'd on the like Suspition for living with a Woman he pretends to be his Wife
