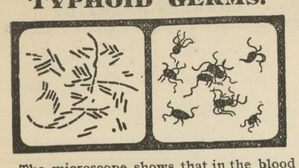
TYPHOID GERMS.



The microscope shows that in the blood of every person suffering from typhoid the little germs can be found as shown above. They are supposed to get into the water or milk we drink. The germs multiply so that one germ is capable of producing about one hundred trillion germs in twenty-four hours. That is why if they ever get into the water supply of a town they multiply so fast that nearly everybody drinking the water comes down with the disease. There are exceptions, however, and they are the persons whose health is perfect, whose blood is pure, and liver active. When the germs get into a healthy body they are thrown off with the other poisons. Recent Chicago statistics show that one-eighth of all the deaths in the past two years in that city have resulted from pneumonia.

The best advice we can give is to put the body into a perfectly sound, healthy condition. Be assured that you have rich, red blood and an active liver.

Many years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, who is consulting surgeon to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y., found certain herbs and roots which, when made into an alterative extract (without the use of alcohol), seemed to be the very best means of putting the stomach, blood and vital organs into proper condition.

This seemed to him as close to nature's way of treating disease as it was possible to go. For over a third of a century Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has had a wonderful sale and the cures resulting from its use are numbered by thousands. It is a tissue-builder, better than cod liver oil because it does not sicken the stomach, or offend the taste. It strengthens or renews the assimilative or digestive processes in the stomach and puts on healthy flesh when the weight of the invalid is reduced below the normal.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." Nothing else is "just as good."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure biliousness.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

FEMALE WEAKNESS

542 1-2 Congress St.
PORTLAND, MAINE, Oct. 17, 1902.

I consider Wine of Cardui superior to any doctor's medicine I ever used and I know whereof I speak. I suffered for nine months with suppressed menstruation which completely prostrated me. Pains would shoot through my back and sides and I would have blinding headaches. My limbs would swell up and I would feel so weak I could not stand up. I naturally felt discouraged for I seemed to be beyond the help of physicians, but Wine of Cardui came as a God-send to me. I felt a change for the better within a week. After nineteen days treatment I menstruated without suffering the agonies I usually did and soon became regular and without pain. Wine of Cardui is simply wonderful and I wish that all suffering women knew of its good qualities.

Wilhelmina Snow
Treasurer, Portland Economic League

Periodical headaches tell of female weakness. Wine of Cardui cures permanently nineteen out of every twenty cases of irregular menses, bearing down pains or any female weakness. If you are discouraged and doctors have failed, that is the best reason in the world you should try Wine of Cardui now. Remember that headaches mean female weakness. Secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui today.

"JIM CROW" LAW.

Its Effect in Maryland on Boats and Trains—One Lone Traveler on the Kent Train.

Maryland took one more step nearer "Dixie Land" Friday, when her "Jim Crow" law went into effect. From outward appearances no one seemed dissatisfied, and least of all those directly affected by the law—the colored race.

There were heard one or two mumblings from individnals whose appearance indicated that they had more white than colored blood in their veins, and in one instance a Sparrows Point colored woman, who learned that the law had gone into effect after she had bought her ticket and boarded a train, sacrificed her ticket and went to Baltimore on the electric cars. She was the only colored person in the car.

"So dis iz a white cyar?" she asked aloud. "Ah was born in slavery, but Ah guess when Ah pay de money Ah's got just as good a right as anybody to ride where ah please. If Ah can't ride in here Ah won't ride at all."

So saying she left the car and continued her oration for the benefit of a colored baggage hand and several colored loungers about the station.

Beyond these few showings of resentment and the fact that the negroes went to their compartments without being told, the "Jim Crow" law failed to make Friday different from any other day.

At Chestertown station more than a score of colored people greeted the "Jim Crow" car on its first trip, there being but one colored man on board. He seemed to enjoy his ride in a private car! The darkies boarded the train and commenced looking for the "Jim Crow" sign and when they came to the car simply marked "colored," they were disappointed.

"All along the road the negroes watched for the train and looked at it as it passed as if they expected a greater wonder than any circus had ever exhibited. What they saw was an ordinary train with three cars and no outward sign of the compliance with the famous law. The white passengers were as curious. The invariable remark of every man who was acquainted with any of the train crew was: "Where do you put the nigars?" The white people did not know where to go, and when they asked the conductor for directions they looked foolish as they langhed at themselves. Heads would go out of the windows at each stop to see possible trouble with the colored people. There was a general air of amusement and expectation among the whites. The same feeling was plain on the faces of those gathered at the stations.

Captains are Supreme.

The Ericsson and the Weems Line steamers ply between Baltimore and points out of the state, but owing to the fact that they make landings within the borders of Maryland, they are compelled to comply with the provisions of the law. The captains of the steamers have received rigid instructions to keep the races separate, but they have received no definite rules as to how they must operate, each captain being empowered to keep the whites and blacks apart as he sees fit.

On the Chester River Line the decks are apportioned offand labeled with large "White" and "Colored" signs. On the Queen Anne's railroad ferry steamer Queen Anne a portion of the after cabin and part of the after deck have been marked with "Colored" signs. The railway division of the line has also been active in its preparation and a number of the cars have been portitioned off for the accommodation of dark skinned passengers

For some time past a scientific observation has been made on the Tolchester Company's boats with the purpose of finding out what portions of the ship seemed to appeal to the dusky tribe. These locations have been marked off and ornamented with sounds announcing that "This space is for colored people." The colored traffic on the excursion steamers of the line has never been large, but the law has to be observed and the arrangement is agreeable and comfortable.

But One Black Passenger.

Friday morning but one negro passenger left the Tolchester wharf Without a murmur he walked to the reservation for his race and seated himself in a comfortable rocking chair, while many whites on the boat were crowded in little corners enviously watching him and jealous of his seclusion.

Any passenger who shall refuse to occupy the space set apart for persons of his color may be ejected from the train and also fined, not less than $5, nor more than $50, or be confined in Jail not less than 30 days, or may be punished by both fine and imprisonment. A conductor who shall fail to perform his duties under the law may be fined not less than $25, nor more than $50, but the railway company that fails to provide separate accommodations for the two races without discrimination will be liable to a fine of not less than $300 nor more than $1000 for each offense.

The act does not apply to railroad employees, nurses, officers in charge of prisoners, or to the prisoners. Nor does it apply to the transportation of passeugers in caboose cars and to parlor or sleeping cars, or to through express trains which do no local business.

The provisions of Chapter 110, which applies to steamboats, are similar to those of the law affecting railroads. The provision against discrimination is as strict, and the same exceptions are made as to nurses, officers and prisoners. The same fines are provided for obstreperous passengers and for pursers or captains as are ordained for similar offenders on railroads.
