Made Fortune Selling Negroes Preparation For Taking Kink out of Hair.

In the June American Magazine Ray Stannard Baker tells the following story:

"One day while walking in one of the most fashionable residence districts of Atlanta I saw a magnificent gray stone residence standing somewhat back from the street. I said to my companion, who was a resident of the city:

"'That's a fine home.'

"'Yes; stop a minute," he said, "I want to tell you about that. The anti-kink man lives there.'

"'Anti-kink?' I asked in surprise.

"'Yes; the man who occupies that house is one of the wealthiest men here. He made his money by selling to Negroes a preparation to smooth the kinks out of their wool. They're simply crazy on that subject.'

"'Does it work?'

"'You haven't seen any straight-haired Negroes, have you?' he asked."

"Dr." "Professor," "Booker" or "The Reverend" Washington in the South but Never "Mr."

In the June American Magazine Ray Stannard Baker goes on with his illuminating stories of racial antagonism in the South. Here is an interesting point about Booker T. Washington:

"To an unfamiliar Northerner one of the very interesting and somewhat amusing phases of conditions down here is the panic fear displayed over the use of the word 'Mr.' or 'Mrs.' No Negro is ever called Mr. or Mrs. by a white man, that would indicate social equality. A Southern white man told me with humor of his difficulties:

"'Now I admire Booker Washington. I regard him as a great man, and yet I couldn't call him 'Mr.' Washington. We were all in a quandary until a doctor's degree was given him. That saved our lives! We all call him 'Dr.' Washington now.'

"Sure enough! I don't think I have heard him called Mr. Washington since I came down here. It is always 'Dr.' or just 'Booker.' They are ready to call a Negro 'Professor' or 'Bishop' 'or 'The Reverend'—but not 'Mr.'

"In the same way a Negro may call Miss Mary Smith by the familiar 'Miss Mary,' but if he called her Miss Smith she would be deeply incensed. The formal 'Miss Smith' would imply social equality."

Agriculture Department Issues Chapter on Rats.—The great destruction wrought by rodents is pointed out in a statement which has just been issued bo the Department of Agriculture on "Methods of Destroying Rats." It declares that an "infallible method of extermination of these rodents would be worth more to the people of the United States in a single decade than the Department of Agriculture has cost since its establishment." It says the brown rat is the worst mammalian pest in existence, and adds: "If for each cow, horse, sheep and hog on the farms of the United States the farmers support one rat on grain, the toll levied on the cereals by these rodents would reach the enormous total of $100,060,000 a year. Their prolificness is the chief obstacle to their extermination. If three litters of ten each are produced every year, a single pair, breeding without check and without losses by death, in three years would be represented by ten generations, and would number 29,155,392. The eleventh generation, due at the fourth year, would number over a hundred millions.

A Slick Swindler.—A slick swindler is said to be operating on the Peninsula. His method is by going from house to house selling dress goods, making sales on the promise to make the dresses free. He informs the people that there will be an expert tailor around later to take the proper measures. After waiting several weeks the purchasers of the goods find, to their sorrow, that they have been swindled. It pays to deal with home merchants, whose honesty is not questioned.

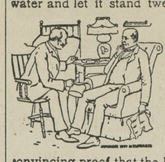
Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

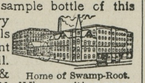
Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.



What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.



Home of Swamp-Root.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Sawmp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, and the address, Binghampton, N. Y. on every bottle.
