Public speakers are frequently interrupted by people coughing. This would not happen if Foley's Honey and Tar were taken, as it cures coughs and colds and prevents pneumonia and consumption. The genuine contains no opiates and is in a yellow package. Sold by all druggists.

10-YEAR FIGHT FOR MILLIONS ENDED

Fifty-three Heirs of Dr. Evans, the Paris Dentist, Compromise Their Claims.

After litigation extending more than 10 years, the affairs of the estate of Dr. Thomas W. Evans, the famous Philadelphia dentist, who died in Paris, where he became a millionaire, have been finally adjusted in the courts of Philadelphia, New York and Paris.

All the papers in the case, including the signatures of 53 heirs to a release of all their claims against the legacy to the "Dr. Thomas W. Evans Museum and Institute Society," of this city, were received yesterday by the attorneys for the society.

As a result the society will come immediately into the possession of property in New York worth more than $1,000,000 and property in Philadelphia valued at $100,000. The residue of the estate, in Paris, worth at its present valuation about $800,000, will be distributed among the heirs.

At the time of Dr. Evans death, the estimated value of the estate was $4,000,000 to $6,000,000 the bulk of it being in Paris. Numerous claimants for a share in the estate, other than those named in the bequests, soon appeared, and becoming dissatisfied with the tardy settlement, brought charges against the executors, especially the three who were living in Paris. Suits in courts upon both sides of the oceans ensued. A partial settlement with the heirs was finally made by the distribution of $100,000 among them as an instalment of a legacy of $270,000, and a residue of Paris property, estimated at about $800,000.

It is believed there will be no more litigation. As it is, the contemplated magnificence of the two monuments Dr. Evans aimed to leave in perpetuation of his memory, a monument proper and the museum, will fall far short of his intention when he designed his will so as to leave his great fortune to the city of his nativity.

FROM THE LOCAL POETS.

THE PESSIMIST.

"Thanksgiving's coming! Let me see
What I am thankful for;
What blessings fate just now has left
Before my open door.
On one side is my pocket-book
With stringency of cash;
Upon the other, calls which turn
Gray matter into hash.

First, letter from the charities
And churches clubs are here,
That prisons, and poor homes may have
Thanksgiving in full cheer.
Then wedding invitations three,
Each calling for a gift;
Part of my shrunken dividends
Politely, but firm, "lift."

My friend's relations and my own
Have sent word they will come,
Thanksgiving time to spend with us,
And make themselves at home.
The coal bill's here on schedule time,
There's Christmas yet in store—
Oh, yes, in ways to spend my wad,
I've much to be thankful for."

ELLA I. RYAN.

ANOTHER DEFERRED POEM.

BY A. CHESTERTOWN AUTHOR.

Dear Sisters and Brothers a surprise awaits us now.
But it was intended for our Councilor I'll vow.
I guess she'll enjoy having a few friends partake,
Of the palatable dishes her sister's did make

It was almost forgotten when on Monday morn,
Came Hallie down to Emma's blowing her horn,
Oh! I'll do what I can and gladly too,
So you tell the up-town sisters and brothers,
And I'll send the down town folks word too.
And all be sure and meet at my house on Queen and Maple Avenue.

The meeting was a success you all can see.
And we have agreed to call it a Colonial tea
In honor of our Councilor Ella Reiche.

Thanksgiving is close at hand,
Let each and all be glad,
And praise our blessed Savior
For His goodness all over the land.

And may we all that are here to-night,
Be spared for many a year,
And try to make each other glad,
The in-coming year.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

WHEREAS: It has pleased the great Councilor of the Universe, in his wisdom, to remove from our midst our beloved brother, James H. Glenn, formerly of Rock Hall Council 149 Jr. O. U. A. M. but later of Liberty Council 16, of Baltimore, Md., by whose death his Council has lost a worthy and jealous brother; his friends, a true and trustworthy companion, and his family and relatives an affectionate and loyal member. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we commend his family and friends to the watchful care of our Heavenly Father who is the comfort and consolation of all those who are desolate and oppressed, and remind them that we shall meet him no more in this vale of tears. Our Brother has passed the outer Courts of the Heavenly Temple and is free from the cares and sorrows and pains of this Earth. And be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these be presented to the family and our county paper as a token of our grief and sympathy.

Submitted in U. L. and P.

NATURE PROVIDES FOR SICK WOMEN

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

a more potent remedy in the roots and herbs of the field than was ever produced from drugs.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers few drugs were used in medicines and Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn Mass., in her study of roots and herbs and their power over disease discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

is an honest, tried and true remedy of unquestionable therapeutic value

During its record of more than thirty years, its long list of actual cures of those serious ills peculiar to women, entitles Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to the respect and confidence of every fair minded person and every thinking woman.

When women are troubled with irregular or painful functions, weakness, displacements, ulceration or inflammation, backache, flatulency, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

No other remedy in the country has such a record of cures of female ills, and thousands of women residing in every part of the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable compound and what it has done for them.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice She has guided thousands to health. For twenty-five years she has been advising sick women free of charge. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E Pinkham and as her assistant for years before her decease advised under her immediate direction. Address, Lynn, Mass.

IF YOU WANT A First-Class Vehicle OF ANY KIND Go to Sam Hicks, the Vehicle Man

THE Talbot county grand jury in its report to the court recommended that the legislature pass a law establishiug a whipping-post in the county for negroes found guilty of certain minor offenses.

A SCHOOL teacher in an adjoining State who asked a girl to purchase a grammar, received the following note from the little girl's mother: "I do not desire that Matty ingage in grammar, and I prefer her to ingage in more useful studies, and can learn her to write and speak proper myself. I went through two grammars and can't say as they did me no good. I prefer Matty to ingage in German and drawing, and vokal music on the peano."

GEORGE L. MCCROSSIN, a young Roanoke man, in testing his markmanship, shot his brother, A. M. McCrossin, in the mouth in an endeavor to shoot the ashes from a cigarette held in the mouth of the latter. He was not dangerously wounded, and owing to his consent to the test of "William Tell" markmanship on the part of his brother George was not prosecuted for a graver offence than that of shooting in the city limits and was fined $50.

New Railroad Signal System.—Wherever the installation of new signals is being carried on by the different divisions of the Pennsylvania railroad a new system is being inaugurated by officials of the company.

The system involves the cutting out of the white light as a cautionary signal and installs the yellow in its stead. This move was decided upon, officials of the road say owning to the fact that frequently the glass in signal lamps is broken thus showing a white light.

The red light will still be maintained as a danger signal while the green light will be used as a safety signal.

Another important change will be made in the signal system whereby the upraised arm of a semaphore signal denotes a clear track instead of a dropped arm as heretofore. So far no changes have been made on the Maryland division with the exception of adopting the new system at the new terminal station at Washington.

LOCAL NEWS SCARCE.

A dearth of local news often leads to murmurs on the part of those who prize local gossip above all else, and it is not all the fault of the publisher. Any live publisher will not fail to give all the local news worthy of note, therefore when the local department is short this week you should not rail at the editor, but remember you might have committed suicide, got married, quarreled with your neighbor, stole chickens, let your team run away or done a hundred other things to make a local item. If a newspaper should publish current street gossip, or the hints and allusions of the best society in the community it would be ostracized and the editor horsewhipped or burned at the stake. Think a minute of the mean and low things you say about your townsmen and your neighbor and imagine how it would look in print. Don't criticise the newspapers for what they print, but give them credit for what they don't print. A newspaper that contains one-half the nonsense current among the best citizens, would be considered unfit to read. Honest!

GLENN.—On Nov. 14, 1907, James A. Glenn, aged 38 years, beloved husband of Laura E. Glenn.

Oh, the memory of that morning,
As I stood with breaking heart
Seeing the one I love so dearly
Pierced by death's most evil dart.

Oh, darling husband
I could not my sorrow bear
Had I not the golden promise
We shall meet each other there.

In love we lived, in peace he died;
His life was asked, but God denied;
A bitter cup, a shock severe,
To part with one I love so dear.
BY HIS LOVING WIFE.

Dear father thou has left us
And thy loss we deeply feel
But 'tis God who has bereft us
He can all our sorrows heal.

Yet again we hope to meet thee
When the day of life has fled
And in Heaven with joy to greet thee
Where no farewell tears are shed.
BY HIS CHILDREN.
