SOME OF CANADA LOW PRICES

Prices at Detroit, Michigan, Compared With Those of Windsor, in Canada.

Windsor, Ont.—This Canadian city is separated from Detroit by 2,561 feet of water and the Payne-Aldrich tariff wall. Ferries cross the water every three minutes, but the wall is insurmountable.

Detroit is the typical American city.

In the following parallel the figures are retail prices on the same quality of goods in what is practically one city the division being a river less than half a mile wide and the tariff wall:

Price in Windsor.	Commodity.	Price in Detroit.
28c	Butter, best, lb	36c
34c	Eggs, dozen	42c
6½c	Beef, cheapest cut, lb	10c
13c	Pork, mess, lb	28c
11c	Lard, prime, lb	13c
19c	Bacon, Breakfast, lb	24c
$1.00	Wheat, No. 2 red, bushel	$1.13
60c	Corn, No. 2 mixed, bushel	78c
70c	Potatoes, bushel	$1.15
5a7c	Cabbage, head	8a15c
40c	Turnips, bushel	60c
50c	Carrots, bushel	60c
35c	Beets, bushel	68c
85c	Rutabagos, bushel	30c
50c	Parsnips, bushel	60c
20c	Turkeys, dressed, lb	25c
11c	Chickens, pressed, lb	15c
7c	Milk quart	6a8c
11½c	Cheese, lb	16½c
$1.00	Plug Tobacco, lb	$2a$3

Time and again civic investigation have taken it as their model. Windsor except for the tariff wall, is for all the world as much of Detroit as any part of Detroit itself.

It exists by the grace of Detroit. Its citizens gain their livelihood in Detroit. It finds all its amusements and much of its recreation in Detroit. But the invisible barrier is there—the high Payne-Aldrich tariff wall, monumental and menacing.

Confronting the American people is a situation—the increased cost of living—that has followed the strengthening of this tariff barrier. This situation is a direct result, as has been charged by the people, of this barrier.

The difference between the cost of living here and in Detroit shows it. The tariff alone is lifting its power against the people's pocketbooks in their struggle to make both ends meet.

Take the man with the goose, for instance. He was an elderly German workingman, and he crossed to Detroit in the ferry that I took back over here. J. W. Lewis, deputy collector, signaled man and goose inside his office.

"Feefty cent! Feefty cent! That's all I pay for him!" The owner of the goose protested, waving it above his head in emphasis.

Flop! Lewis threw the goose into a scales hopper. The dial showed seven pounds.

"Thirty-five cents duty," Lewis commanded.

"But meester! Feefty cent! That's all I give for him. Thirty-five cents moore? It's too much!"

The thirty-five cents was paid, Lewis grasping the goose politely but firmly in one hand and holding out tariff manifest for the German's signature in the other.

"Do people buy anything but produce in Canada and bring it over?" I asked Lewis.

"Oh, yes. Here in Detroit they go over and buy English clothes. Here's an ad I noticed the other day.

"They can buy an English-made $5 hat in Windsor for $3 They wear old hats over on the ferry, and throw them away when they wear the new ones back."

Farmers in Southern Michigan and farmers in Western Ontario are the most prosperous in the world. Both can produce food at the same arbitrary cost. Why, then, should the prices of farm products be from 15 to 100 per cent. higher in Detroit than here?

"My candid opinion, after twenty-eight years in the grocery business on both sides of the river, is that it is 25 per cent. cheaper to live in Canada than in the United States. You can buy first quality groceries and produce here for less money than you can get second-rate goods in Detroit.

"Hundreds of Detroit people live over here in summer and rent homes. It's cheaper for them to go to work in Detroit and pay the ferry rate than to stay in Detroit and pay Detroit prices."

"How does the tariff come in on that?"

"Here, I'll show you. See this plug of tobacco? It's made in England and this is a quarter's worth. The leaf in that plug was raised in the United States, shipped to England, made into plugs and shipped back here into Canada. And yet it is better than other brands that sell for lots more money in Detroit. If it wasn't, why would people come to my store and go out with their pockets full of it?

"The duty on the tobacco, if exported 2,561 feet across to Detroit, would be $1.65 on each pound plug. The retail price in Windsor is $1.00 a pound. In Detroit it is $3.00 a pound. The brand is a well-known world standard."

"Cherney is right," said J. G. Gangnier, the biggest real estate operator in Windsor. "House rents here are as in Toronto—the highest in Canada. Yet I rent all the houses I have on list every summer to people from Detroit, who say they save money by living here. They save it on what they eat and wear.

"Their house rents and food bills here don't equal the rent of a good flat in Detroit."

The D. & B. I. Ferry Company, operating the boats over the 2,561 feet of river, carries thousands of workingmen every morning from here to Detroit. They pay the boat fare and street car fare additional to get work in Detroit. They are Americans, most of them.

So great is the workingmen's traffic on the ferryboats that the company sells 100 "workingmen's tickets" for $1 50, good only mornings and evenings. The regular fare is five cents.

Walter Boug, who owns Windsor's biggest clothing store, is the man who sells Christy's London hats for $3 here They cost $5 in Detroit, 2,561 feet away.

"Of course the duty is the only reason why I can sell a Christy hat for $2 less than they do in Detroit," he told me. "They invoice to me $24 a dozen. I sell them for $3.00. The Detroit merchant would pay about $1.50 duty on each hat.

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so?

The general health of women is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription."

Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N.Y.
