OIL ON ROADS KILLS LAWNS.

Mr. Miller Says Automobiles Scatter the Deadly Dust and Kill the Foliage Also.

Spencer Miller, who carried the war against the mosquito to South Orange, N. J., says that it will not be very long before the municipalities of the United States which have been using oil to lay the dust on rural highways will wish they had never done it. Mr. Miller told the members of the New England Society of Orange that Europe had discovered the mistake. He says that the oil kills the lawns and foliage along the sides of the highways where it has been used.

"When we begin to see the hedges and the shrubbery withering under our eyes, then we will see the mistake we have been making," said Mr. Miller. "In Europe the evil effects of using the oil are already sadly apparent. The oil-laden dust is picked up by the automobiles and scattered to the foliage and lawns, which it will certainly kill."

32 Cats Separate Husband and Wife.

Boston, June 6.—Cats are the latest destroyers of happy homes, according to the testimony offered in the suit brought for separate maintenance against Robert A. Pierce, a member of the faculty of Tufts Dental School, by Mrs. Pierce, a cat fancier. This unique case was aired for three days in the Worcester courts. Judge Chamberlain took it under advisement.

The Pierces occupied a handsome residence in Worcester for many years According to the Doctor's testimony, his wife had 32 cats. They crawled and mewed about the rooms and corridors. They slept in the bath tub during the day and at night out carusoed Caruso in the volume of melody that they gave forth from their "silvery throats."

Cats ate at and on the table regularly at meal times, crept into coat pockets and established temporary homes in hats and other wearing apparel. Accordingly last October Dr. Pierce and his wife agreed to break up their home.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

Bulletin.

JUNE ON THE GREAT LAKES

Restful, delightful, interesting, and instructive, there is no trip like that on the Great Lakes, those inland seas which form the border line between the United States and Canada. And June is one of the most charming months in the year in which to take the trip.

For comfort the fine passenger steamships of the Anchor Line have no superiors. As well-appointed as the palatial ocean greyhounds which plow the Atlantic, their schedule allows sufficient time at all stopping places to enable the traveler to see something of the great lake cities and to view in daylight the most distinctive sights of the lakes, and the scenery which frames them.

The trip through the Detroit River, and through Lake St. Clair, with its great ship canal in the middle of the lake, thence through Lake Huron, the locking of the steamer through the great locks at the Soo, and the passage of the Portage Entry, lake and canal, across the upper end of Michigan, are novel and interesting features.

The voyage from Buffalo to Duluth covers over eleven hundred miles in the five days' journey. Leaving Buffalo, the steamships Juniata, Tionesta and Octorara, make stops at Erie, Cleveland, Detroit, Mackinac Island, the Soo, Marquette, Houghton, and Hancock, and Duluth.

The 1910 season opened on May 31, when the Steamer Tionesta made her first sailing from Buffalo.

The Anchor Line is the Great Lake Annex of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the service measures up to the high standard set by the "Standard Railroad of America."

An illustrated folder, giving sailing dates of steamers, rates of fare, and other information is in course of preparation, and may be obtained when ready from any Pennsylvania Railroad Ticket Agent, who is also prepared to book passengers who may desire to take this trip through the Great Lakes and back.
