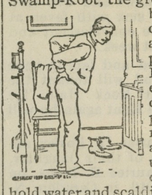
John F. Howard,

Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.



Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Home of Swamp-Root.

ALUMNI LIKE THE TEAM

Washington College People Think it Is Second Best.

HAVE NO EXCUSES TO OFFER

Eleven Made Hopkins Hustle And Lived up to All That Had Been Expected of it.

A. S. Goldsborough, Esq , speaking for the Washington College alumni, who arranged for the entertainment of the students who attended the Thanksgiving game in Baltimore, says:

"The Washington College boys have every reason to feel more than satisfield with their work. The whole contest, in my opinion, was a pronounced success. Those who had watched the respective merits of the two teams predicted that the Eastern Shore boys would give Hopkins the hardest proposition it had tackled this year, outside of the Carlisle Indians. The event verified that prediction. Had it not been for that wonderful foot of Stollenwerck, the game in all probability would have been without a score. As a foe to Hopkins, Washington College has certainly out-classed every other Maryland team.

"Hopkins realized that they were grappling with a dangerous foe; because their tactics soon disclosed their determination to fall back on the help of Stollenwerck's kicking. Two or three desperate efforts on the part of Hopkins to force the ball down the field were all that were needed to show the university men that they were up against a defense, on the part of Washington College, which made a touchdown an impossibility. As a matter of fact, the defense of the Eastern Shoremen seemed to get better and better in exact proportion to the needs of the moment. For that reason, the spectators were convinced early in the game that neither side would make a touchdown. The chief hope of the Washington College rooters was that the visiting boys would themselves get close enough to their adversary's goal to be able to duplicate Stollenwerck's fine efforts. But those hopes never were gratified.

"I feel sure that the college boys made a fine impression. They put up a game that kept the watching crowd in a state of absorbed interest during every moment of the play. There was not a minute in the whole contest when Washington College was not formidable. Not until the final whistle blew did the rooters of the Hopkins feel absolutely relieved. There was a feeling of fear at every stage of the game that Washington College by some quick, effective team trick, would work in a touchdown. The friends of the College boys looked for something of the same kind.

"But, it was in the offensive work where the Eastern Shore boys were not quite strong and success as we had calculated. Nevertheless, we are glad to slap the young athletes on the back and tell them we are proud of them. They made a splendid showing. There is no doubt that next year will find the team more formidable even than it was yesterday. By that time the boys will be worked into a double effective machine, because nearly all of this year's men will be there next season.

The committee, consisting of Mr. Charles F. Harley, Mr. Clarence W. Perkins, Mr. James W. Chapman, Jr., and myself feel amply repaid for all the labor we expended in promoting the game. We feel delighted that all the details of the program resulted so successfully, and we are more than delighted to know that the Washington College boys were sufficiently popular to draw the largest attendance which Homewood had witnessed this season.

A GREAT UNDERTAKING SUCCESSFULLY COMPLETED.

The opening of the Pennsylvania Station in New York City crowns the heroic work which has resulted in the founding of a Pennsylvania Railroad Station in the heart of the business and social activities of the great city.

In order to reach this goal the highest type of genius was enlisted. The thought of its founder was developed by the brightest brains in the engineering and architectural world, and their plans were executed by the most skilled constructors, utilizing processes and materials which have had their birth as constructive forces with the span of a generation.

The completion of the work signalizes the success of the greatest corporate undertaking of any period. In the amount of money involved and the scope of the work with all its correlated parts, the achievement is second only to the building of the Panama Canal, an enterprise backed by the wealth of the nation and prosecuted under national control.

It was the late Alexander Johnston Cassatt, former president of the Pennsylvania Railroad who originated the plan to build this magnificent station, which were thrown open to the public Sunday. After that date all through trains of the Pennsylvania Railroad serving New York will start from and arrive at the Pennsylvania Station—one block from Broadway.
