The political news from the Continent is not of much interest. The French have met with reverses in Algiers, where that sturdy Arab, Abd-el-Kader, who seems determined to struggle while he can wield a sword for the independence of his native land, has already proved a sore scourge to France. Nothing but the hand of death, it seems, can subdue the indomitable perseverance of the fiery, high-souled Arab.—The fruits of the French expedition to Morocco last year may now be seen in the destruction of the French force at Djemira Ghezona, amounting to 450 men.—The commanding officer was inveigled from his post on the frontiers of Morocco and cut to pieces. Only 14 escaped. Flushed with his triumph, the successful Abd-el-Kader pushed at higher game—attacked Gen. Caraigeac, at the head of a considerable force, and, although repulsed, succeeded in making the enemy feel the weight of his prowess. This disaster has produced much depression, and not a little anger, in France.

A letter from Paris of the 17th ult., published in a German print, says—'Prince Louis Bonaparte is tired of his prison at Ham, and is said to be disposed to submit to any terms imposed upon him for his liberation. The Minister of the Interior has sent him a person who is provided with confidential instructions. It is believed that the prisoner and his companions of misfortune will soon be restored to freedom, and it is said they will proceed to America.

A NATIONAL DAY OF THANKSGIVING should be adopted throughout the Union. We commend the thought to our cotemporaries, and if they will, this year may see the custom established. The setting apart a particular day for a religious festival in which a whole State unites in a grateful acknowledgement of blessings enjoyed, and which has become by general consent also a day of family re-union around the parent hearth, has in it so much that is beautiful and impressive that we trust this un-holiday making nation will not discontinue it. How much more impressive will it be when on the same day twenty-eight, thirty, or fifty States shall raise together the hymn of gratitude. There is an anniversary in American history, falling at about the right season of the year too, which seemed marked by Providence as the fitting day for the solemn jubilee of the family of States. That day is the 25th of November, the day on which the British soldiery evacuated the city of New York and left the bleeding and exhausted, but sovereign and independent States of the New World to recover from their bruises and rejoice in their hard-won but precious liberty. It is a noted day in our calendar, and, next to the Fourth of July, should be devoutly honored. Why not seal it then as the accepted and national day of Thanksgiving. Our Governor will no doubt lead the way at once, and every one of his compeers, capable of realizing how much these silken ties tend to bind in one our congregation of republics, will follow his example.—N. Y. Sun.

☞ Clickener's Sugar-coated Pills—Medicine a luxury! We mean what we say;—Clickener's Sugar-coated Pills have no taste of medicine, but on the contrary, of a pure sugar plumb. And yet for operation there is no such medicine extant. Speaking in a general way, no person can be sick in the morning who has taken a dose of those Pills the night before, and yet they lie on the stomach as mild as a moon beam, giving no token of their presence by griping or nausea, or by any sign other than the splendid manner in which they clear the system, and puts one malady to the right about.

RANAWAY from the subscriber Tuesday, the 21st inst., a negro girl, Mary Jane, calling herself JANE ADAMS. Said negro is 20 years old, a dark mulatto about 5 feet, 1 or 2 inches high, thick set and well formed; a very bushy head, thick lips, the under lip protruding, rather ill-looking and pleasant when spoken to.

She took with her a variety of clothing, among which, a large black and white blanket shawl. It is very likely she may have gone to Baltimore in the Steamboat Osiris, the morning she left from St. Michaels, as she has acquaintances in Baltimore who no doubt would aid her escape.

I will give twenty-five dollars for her if taken in this county and lodged in the jail at Easton, or fifty dollars if taken out of the county and secured so that I get her.
