DORCHESTER

Agricultural Society.

By a resolution of the Board, a meeting of the members of the society is requested to be held on the second Monday in June next, at 11 o'clock, at Mr. Ridgaway's tavern.

The resolution states the object of the meeting, to be, arrangements for a "Cattle Show;" and requests that all persons holding subscription papers, will bring them in, on that day; and that the members will pay their "$3 annual dues," on or before that period to the Treasurer (Thos. Loockerman, esq.) without which, it is manifest the Society will not be able to accomplish the objects of the Institution.

TheBoard have predicated a sanguine hope, of a successful issue to their exertions, upon the ardor and energy, which they have witnessed in the members, who are daily multiplying; yet without the most infallible punctuality in regard to attendance and payment, their plans must be frustrated, and the county for many years perhaps continue to move in the humble rear of their more enterprising neighbors.

The Board most earnestly invite Farmers, as well as all who feel an interest in the agriculture of the county, to propitiate the views of this new and valuable Institution, by the sanction of their names, money and personal efforts; a prompt and zealous co-operation is essential to its profitable existence, which they hope will on the 2d Monday of June, be established on a permanent basis.

It is earnestly requested (as this will be an Annual Meeting of the Commissioners of the School Fund) that every member of the Board will punctually attend, and that at least one of the auxiliary Trustees from each School in the county will also attend, for it is very certain without a general co-operation of all persons interested to facilitate and promote the Institution, the liberal intentions of the Legislature that passed the law will be defeated, and ultimately the law will be repealed.

Vegetable Hair Cerate.

Still more proof of the wonderful effects of the preservative HAIR CERATE, which will appear by the subsequent certificate which I have received from the proprietor this morning from N. York, to be published at the particular request of the patient, for the benefit of the public.

N. York, Elbridge st. Oct. 12, 1824.

SIR—Your Vegetable Cerate having prevented my hair from coming out, I recommended it to Dr. Devine, who was nearly bald; he had not used it more than four weeks, when the vigorous vegetation of young hair made its appearance. From a motive of curiosity I have paid much attention to its action for fifteen months, and from accurate observations I can safely say I have seen as many as fifty persons whose hair has been re-produced, in this city. I am induced to believe from the above, that it is the only thing yet ever discovered that reproduces the hair. With respect.

PROPOSALS

For Publishing by Subscription, the LIFE OF THE

BOSTON BARD.

With a Portrait by Durand.

THE frequent requests of friends, and the anxiety expressed by the public generally, to become better acquainted with the history of the "Boston Bard," has at length induced him to attempt the publication of his life, together with a number of his poems, which are necessarily attached to the narrative. Misconception of character; unmerited censure; loss of health, and the great uncertainty of life at any time, have each had a due influence in hastening this determination. And, if 'variety's the very spice of life,' the readers of this work will find their mental repast sufficiently seasoned—to please even the palate of an epicure.

The sorrows and misfortunes of himself, and those of his father's house, began in the childhood of the author;—these calamities and griefs, therefore, are not of his begetting; there must have been a cause foreign to himself: that cause shall be made known with a due regard to the feelings of the living. Except my mother, sister, and brothers, I stand indebted to no living relative for any favor whatever. If the clouds which veiled the morning sun of life, have been broken and dispersed; if, under a self-given appellation, I have merited any encomiums for my poetical productions; and if those productions have a tendency to instruct, amuse, or enlighten the understanding, the kindness of kindred has not, in any manner, nor at any time, been productive of these events. If I have been an hungered, the bread of the stranger has strengthened me; if weary, on his couch have I reposed, slumbered, and awoke refreshed; to the stranger, therefore, am I indebted, and I tender him what I owe no one else; gratitude. The heat of the day has been borne alone, having always been as unwilling to ask assistance where a refusal was certain, as I am now solicitous of exclusively enjoying that credit for my poems which candid men may think proper to bestow.
