A physician of the name of Buller, residing at Hamburg, has lately invented a new surgical instrument, by means of which he can amputate a leg in one second; and which has the effect of benumbing the pain of the patient, by a simultaneous pressure which accompanies the operation.

In 1776, 48 years ago, an American vessel imported into Liverpool, eight bags of Cotton, which were seized by one of his majesty's officers of the customs, as supposing they were not the growth of America. In 1823 there were 490,670 bags of cotton imported from the U. States into the same port!

The constitution of Georgia is now altered, with respect to the Governor being elected by the Legislature. The right is now given to the people.

The actual manufacture of flannels in the U. States is now greater, in amount, that the whole importation of the article ever was; and the colors and quality are pronounced equal to the best European productions.

At Lynchburg, Va. April 21, Maj. Thomas Jones, and old and respectable citizen, being assaulted by his son-in-law, by the name of Wood, whose grievances he had borne with for a number of years, drew his pistol and shot him dead on the spot. He immediately sent for a neighboring magistrate, and surrendered himself into custody.

Supposed Murderer of Miss Cunningham.—A man has been pursued from Harper's Ferry, and arrested at Charleston, Jefferson county, Va. by the name of Markle, under strong suspicion of being the murderer of Miss Cunningham. He answers the description given of the murderer in most respects, and has served 18 months in the Virginia penitentiary. He returned to Loudon county the 19th ult. after being absent from the 1st of March.

He informed Mr. Shriver, a respectable citizen of Loudon, that he passed by the place about two hours after the murder; he was the first who gave information of it, to Mr. S. and conversed about it in a manner which betrayed some anxiety or uneasiness. He was much disturbed in his sleep, frequently exclaiming "There they are! there! there! don't you see them? look at her! look at her! She's a beautiful girl! Poor thing, she's dead! Where's the child? When awakened and questioned on the subject, he said that whether awake or asleep, he continually saw a young woman, that he felt much disturbed, and did'nt know the cause of it, &c.

As soon as he heard that a suspicion was excited, he disappeared at Loudon, was pursued and arrested at Charleston.

American Confederacy.—It is natural that young governments, emerging from intellectual darkness—releasing themselves from the shackles of despotism, should, in breathing a free air, attempt, like young eagles, to fly towards the sun. Metaphor apart—new governments are prone to adopt new projects without due reflection as to the result. In a Mexican journal, a very splendid plan of an American Confederacy is proposed, in the following manner:—

"The objects of the confederation are to complete the independence of the new world, by expelling the foreign forces that still occupy certain points, to adjust existing differences between some of the American states, and to facilitate the emigration of those who are disposed to abandon Europe and settle on this side the Atlantic.

"The General Congress to be composed of three deputies from each free state and to be organized in any part of the Floridas that the United States may designate. An expedition to be forthwith fitted out against the Island of Cuba with the combined forces of the confederation. Those forces to consist of six ships of war from each of the three principal nations, that is to say: The United States, Mexico, and Colombia; three from Buenos Ayres, Peru and Chili, and one from St. Domingo. The number of troops from each of the principal, powers to be three thousand men, and from others in proportion.

"An amphictionic council to be afterwards formed in the Havana, which, in case of emergency, shall name a general to command the forces of the confederation, though the election of one may be left alternately to each of the states; that is to say: the United States, Mexico, Colombia.—N. York Adv.

New Discovery.—We every day hear of some new and astounding discovery; and the following only adds one more item to the long and apparently interminable roll of human skill and practical ingenuity—

"Dr. Bernhard, of Larris, in Germany, has made a very interesting discovery, for which he has received a patent. It consists in obtaining from animal substances, of which bitherto no use has been made, a product perfectly similar to leather. A manufactory has been established at Cumbold, near Vienna, where this new species of industry is practised with the greatest activity. This discovery of Dr. Bernhard is the more important, as the composition is capable, when in a fluid state, of being formed into boots and shoes."

FROM FRANCE.—The Paris Journal des Debats of March 21 says: The state of Europe is remarkable. A short time ago, a word from England shook it to its centre; now it is alarmed by the silence of Russia. The alliance of crowned heads, which the revolutions of Spain had cemented, seems to dissolve before powerful opposing interests which follow subdued revolutions. The independence of Greece, the independence of Brazil, the independence of all the world, is the subject of debate in the Councils of Kings, and may soon be contested on the field of battle. Different interests and different Powers seem, after a truce of ten years, preparing for a new contest. The Universe is in labour; what will it bring forth? The future will soon show. We have not hitherto endeavored to pry into its mysteries. It is enough to recollect that Lord Liverpool lately said, peace will not be eternal.—One thing is plain,—every State is fortifying its frontiers or strengthening its institutions, to enable it to influence the decisions of fortune.

Whether this is any thing more than an editorial comment on the passing humour of the times, futurity will show: but the refusal to surrender the castle of Callao pursuant to the provisions of the treaty of Ayachuco, is made without doubt, in the hope of receiving assistance from Europe. The last advices from the peninsula state explicity that five regiments of Frenchmen, one of infantry, two of cavalry, and 2 parks of artillery are on their return to France. Are these under pretext of returning to France to be embarked for South America and sail under the protection of the Spanish flag unmolested. Five thousand men, and some accounts say ten, have already arrived at the Havana, ostensibly for preserving the royal government of that Island: but may they not be sent on a more important errand, perhaps for the reduction of one or more of the South American republics?

Reinforcements at Havana.—A letter received at Charleston of the 14th ult. from Havana, says:

"Since we wrote you last, two large Spanish convoys have arrived here with 4000 troops, having left 1800 at Porto Rico, on their way. The last expedition was convoyed by a French frigate, and brig of war. John Bull seems to be keeping a sharp look out; 6000 troops have arrived at New Providence, and, there are four English frigates now in this harbor. Conjectures are various, and it is the opinion of well informed men, that something serious may be looked for."

John Q. Adams.—We learn from the Washington papers that all the Foreign Ministers and Charge d'Affaires of Foreign Governments, near that of the U. States, have presented congratulations to the President on the occasion of his recent election. On Tuesday last, Mr. Addington, Charge d'Affaires from G. Britain, at an interview requested by him for that purpose, presented those of his government, by its special direction.

VERY LATE FROM N. ORLEANS.

The packet ship William, Capt. Cook, arrived at New York on Saturday evening from New Orleans, having left that city on the evening of the 19th, and the Balize on the 20th ult. Our correspondents of the New York Mercantile Advertiser and Gazette have received papers to the date of their sailing.

DREADFUL ACCIDENT.

Steamboat Teche destroyed.—About two o'clock on the morning of the 14th, about 10 miles below Natchez, the boiler of the Teche burst, by which three men were killed and several others scalded more or less severely, and the boat set on fire, and, with her cargo of cotton, entirely consumed.

Mr. Miles of Kentucky, who had his foot scalded, had reached New Orleans, and given the following particulars:—The Teche left Natchez & landed after dark on Wednesday evening with 60 or 70 passengers, many of whom came on board at the moment of her departure, and were unknown to each other. Having proceeded about ten miles, the night proved so dark and hazy, that captain Campbell concluded to lay by. About two o'clock, the steam having been raised, and at the instant of getting under weigh, the boiler burst with a tremendous explosion; every light on board was extinguished, and all the hatches thrown off. In the scene of confusion that ensued, a cry was made that the vessel was on fire in her bow. Mr. Miles informs that anxious to ascertain the truth of this, he pressed forward and fell eleven feet through one of the hatchways, where his foot was scalded in the hot water, and where he should have perished from excessive heat, but for the immediate exertions, of the crew, who drew him out with ropes. By this time the flames began to ascend, and each one made exertions to save himself. Those who could not get on board the yawl (which made three trips to the shore) threw over cotton bales, upon which they floated until her return—and in a short time all the survivors were conveyed to the shore.

But the extent of the calamity had not yet arrived. The steamboat Washington, soon after passing up and being hailed, hove too, and a boat load of survivors, supposed to be 12 to 18 in number, their names unknown to our informant, who attempted to get on board her, was accidentally upset and all drowned.

There were from 450 to 500 bales of cotton on board the Teche, when she left Natchez. We cannot but feel, says the Louisiana Advertiser, a deep sympathy for this last of the misfortunes of Capt Campbell, the worthy commander and part owner of the Teche.

NEW ORLEANS, April 19.—On Tuesday evening a splendid ball was given in honor of General Lafayette. We never saw, in this city, a more numerous and brilliant assembly. More than one thousand persons were present. The General seemed, by his attentive politeness, to express how much he was flattered with the reception he met with. On Wednesday evening the public square was illuminated. The triumphal arch and the rows of trees, were all lit up with thousands of lamps, and a view of them from the levee, terminated by the dazzling appearance of the Cathedral and City Hall, gave to the whole scene an appearance of enchantment.

On the 15th, General Lafayette departed from our city. He proceeds to St. Louis in the Steam Boat Natchez, and thence perhaps to Nashville. On leaving the city, he was accompanied by a vast concourse of citizens, who greeted in sighs a last farewell to the Friend of their Fathers, and the early defender of their country.

Lately at the Parish Church, Halifax, England, Mr. D. Farrar, of Elland, aged 93, who had been a disconsolate widower 7 weeks, to Mrs. Macbei, of Botley, a blooming widow of 25, after a tedious courtship of 1 hour and 59 minutes!!

Died,

At Town Point, in this county, on Saturday last, Mr. Levin Stewart,

At Easton, Mr. Henry Newcomb, after a short illness.

In Talbot county, Isaac Jenkinson, a respected member of the Society of Friends, of that county.

At New Fame, Mass. Lydia Errick, aged 40. She had been tapped for dropsy 44 times, within six years. Whole amount of water taken 624 lbs. or 78 gallons.

On Wednesday week, near Centreville, Mrs. M. Knott, consort of Mr. Wm. Knott.

[Communicated.]—The village of N. Market was on the 27th of April, deprived of one of its most estimable and esteemed females, Mrs. Ann Gootee.

In the death of this amiable woman, her lamenting and affectionate husband, has to deplore an irreparable loss, three promising children, the maternal orphanage, have to beweep that maternal affliction, that time itself cannot restore. Her affectionate and religious deportment, both at home, abroad and as a neighbor, was exemplary of her virtue and piety. Her bland manners in society were calculated to inspire the feelings of those with whom she associated, with respect and love. To the Methodist Episcopal Church, she was no inconsiderate member, and devoutly attached: believing in the holy doctrine of a redeeming Jesus, she died in the full confidence of revealed justification.

As a wife, in the toils of domestic concerns of duty, she was mild and judicious; to her children, her hand and heart of kindness was always extended with parental affection, and she watched over their morals with the eye of rectitude, and impressed the necessity of prudence and upright conduct on their juvenile minds. She so completely acted the part of a wife and a mother, that the affection and attention of a husband was such, that "she would not even permit the winds of Heaven to visit her too roughly." The angel of Heaven hath returned with the tidings of his mission; her happy soul has winged its flight beyond the stars; arriving at the portals of eternal light, her immortal spirit will be welcomed with the expression of the Deity, "She has fought the good fight, finished her course, and the crown of glory's waiting to be placed." Happy soul! lodged in the Eden of love where troubles cease, and sorrows are no more," come gentle silence and muse her praise.

Vegetable Hair Cerate.

Still more proof of the wonderful effects of the preservative HAIR CERATE, which will appear by the subsequent certificate which I have received from the proprietor this morning from N. York, to be published at the particular request of the patient, for the benefit of the public.

N. York, Elbridge st. Oct. 12, 1824.

SIR—Your Vegetable Cerate having prevented my hair from coming out, I recommended it to Dr. Devine, who was nearly bald; he had not used it more than four weeks, when the vigorous vegetation of young hair made its appearance. From a motive of curiosity I have paid much attention to its action for fifteen months, and from accurate observations I can safely say I have seen as many as fifty persons whose hair has been re-produced, in this city. I am induced to believe from the above, that it is the only thing yet ever discovered that reproduces the hair. With respect.

WILLIAM CHAMBERS.

N. B. A fresh supply of the above mentioned Cerate is received, accompanied with certificates identifying its wonderful effects, to be had only at my Drug and Patent Medicine Store, No. 22, Centre Market space, Baltimore, and of the following Agents by my appointment, viz:

300 do	5	is	1,500
10,000 do	2	is	20,000
10,612 prizes			$70,000

20,000 tickets—Not 1 blank to a prize!

Every Prize payable in Cash, sixty days after the drawing; subject to a deduction of fifteen per cent.

☞ Mode of Drawing.—The Numbers will be put into one wheel as usual; and in the other wheel will be put, the prizes above the denomination of Two Dollars, and the drawing to progress in the usual manner. The 10,000 prizes of $2 will be awarded to the odd or even Numbers of the Lottery (as the case may be) dependant on the drawing of the Capital Prize of Twenty Thousand Dollars; that is to say, if the 20,000 dollar prize should come out to an odd Number, then every odd Number in the Scheme will be entitled to a $2 prize. If the 20,000 dollar prize should come out to an even number, then all the even numbers in the Scheme will be each entitled to a prize of $2.

Odd Nos. are those ending with 1, 3, 5, 7, or 9.

Even Nos. are those ending with 2, 4, 6, 8, or 0.

This mode of drawing not only enables the Commissioners to complete the Lottery in 1 drawing, but has the great advantage of distributing the small prizes regularly to every alternate number in the scheme, so that the holder of two shares of tickets (one odd and one even number) will be certain of obtaining at least one prize, and in the same ratio for any greater quantity.

A Ticket drawing a superior prize in this scheme, is not restricted from drawing an inferior one also.

The drawing will take place in the City of Baltimore on Wednesday the 18th of May, and will finish on the same day. A very short period, therefore, intervening before the time of drawing will arrive; adventurers at a distance should avail themselves of the very superior advantages offered by the scheme, and send on their orders without delay; they will remark the low rate of tickets; the very trifling risk to be run (there not being one Blank to a prize) and that the capital prize of Twenty Thousand Dollars is of a magnitude hitherto unprecedented for so small a sum invested; above all, however, is the certainty of obtaining at least one prize by the purchase of two tickets or two shares; (one odd and one even number) and in the same ratio of certainty in the purchase of a greater number of tickets or shares.

The limits of an advertisement do not permit a detail of the various and many advantages in this improved mode of Lottery; they will naturally present themselves to the adventurer on examination of the scheme, to a scrutiny of which, we invite their attention.

Whole Tickets, 4 dollars—shares in proportion, to be had, in the greatest variety of Numbers, (odd and even,) at

CONINE'S

Lottery and Exchange Office, No. 32 Market street, near the Centre Market, Baltimore.

Orders from any part of the United States, will meet with the most strict attention, if addressed to
