To the Voters of Dorchester County.—FELLOW CITIZENS: I respectfully offer myself as a candidate for your suffrages for the next Sheriffalty of Dorchester county.

WILLIAM B. DAIL.

Jan 18. 1840. [tf]

THE undersigned proposes to publish in the city of Baltimore, a newspaper to be called

"THE PILOT."

Born and educated in the west, he has known General Harrison personally, and been familiar with his public life since the commencement of the war. He has known Mr. Van Buren, and closely observed his career since 1826.

The chief inducement to resume the arduous and responsible duties of an Editor is the hope that he may now contribute something towards the election of General Harrison. The fidelity, ability, firmness and moderation with which that eminent citizen has discharged the most responsible and difficult public trusts—his unexampled popularity as the chief magistrate of the Territories N. W. of the Ohio,—the unimpeached integrity of his public life; his amiable, courteous and dignified respect for the laws and public opinion, are guarantees, that, if elected, he will bring into the administration faithful, competent and honest men; who will devote all the constitutional means of the Government to restore confidence, and thus revive the industry, enterprise, credit and prosperity of the Country; now paralyzed by unfaithful and incompetent public agents.

The PILOT will review the course of the present administration, and discuss freely the fraudulent speculations in the public lands, and their connexion with the subsequent warfare on the banking institutions of the country. In doing this the present and the past administration will be identified, and their measures examined and contrasted,—the present unexampled condition of the country, the causes in which it originated, and the inevitable consequences of continuing power in the same hands will be boldly and faithfully treated.

The undersigned believes that the Federal Government is a compact between the States, intended by a more perfect union, to harmonise, as far as possible, what would otherwise have been at conflict between local interests,—and that this is no less a duty than the protection of our foreign commerce. The benefits to flow from a well digested system of Internal Improvements, whether it be considered as a means of defence in case of invasion, or insurrection; of conveying the products of the interior to market, or of transporting the mail, are so palpable that the only objections heretofore urged against appropriations to that object, have been made by those who denied the power of the Federal Government; or by others who, admitting the power, denied the expediency, under the existing state of the Treasury. The undersigned believes that the Federal Government may, by permanent contracts with rail road companies, for the transportation of the mail and troops and munitions of war, on the leading routes of travel, accomplish a general system of Internal Improvements; and will enforce the propriety of doing so, and endeavour to shew how this may be done by an enlightened use of the public credit;—and also to develope the incidental advantages to flow from such a measure, by sustaining the credit of the States, and thus restoring public and private confidence.

Baltimore is central, and in some respects, the best point, at which to concentrate political intelligence. Should the expectations of the Editor be realized, the "Pilot" will become the medium of diffusing the intelligence thus concentrated; and whatever an earnest zeal, some experience, and unceasing industry can do, will be done to render it acceptable, as a Commercial, Scientifick Literary and Miscellaneous, as well as a political newspaper.—It will treat political opponents with candor and fairness, but will be firm and decided in support of the men, the measures and the principles whose support may be identified with the welfare of the country; and if in doing this, it shall be necessary to retaliate, or to carry the "war into Africa," it will be done—the Editor will not falter in the discharge of his duty, to please a subscriber or to gain an advertisement—his press will be free and he will fearlessly discharge his duty.

It is proposed to issue a daily paper at six dollars per annum, a semi-weekly at five dollars per annum and an extra in pamphlet, double Royal size, and devoted exclusively to the Presidential Election for one dollar, the first number to be issued on the first of May.

The first No. of the daily will be issued as soon as a sufficient subscription to justify the undertaking shall have been obtained.

The Editor is admonished by the past, and will not again subject himself to heavy losses. It is in the power of those who desire the election of Gen. Harrison, to remunerate his services, and this proposition is submitted under the expectation that an effort will be made, and especially, by the young men of the party, to aid him in weathering the storm.

PETERS' PILLS

IMPORTANT.—The public and the afflicted will bear in mind, that the safest and best course to pursue, in all diseases incident to the human family, and particularly all symptoms indicative of Pulmonary Diseases, which are the most fatal of all others, is to begin in their early stages. By this means you lay the axe at the root of the evil tree, the cure will be much sooner performed, with less suffering, more certainty, and much less expense. And as Doctor Swayn's compound syrup of wild cherry has acquired a notoriety in its curative powers which is likely to far exceed any medicine which has yet been tested by the public, and from the various certificates and satisfactory reports which the author has received from different sections of the country, as testimonials of its virtues, it can be recommended with the fullest confidence. An advantage which this medicine has over most others is its rich and very pleasant taste; most persons are fond of it, and children take it without trouble. Although this medicine has been used mostly for coughs, colds, asthma, spitting of blood, inflamation of the mucous membrane, of the throat and air vessels, and diseases indicative of consumption, yet on account of its strengthening and sedative powers upon the nervous system, such as palpitation of the heart, instability or disturbance of mind from slight causes &c. &c. it is becoming very much sought after.

NORFOLK, Sept. 29, 1838.

Dear Sir.—I very cheerfully add my testimony with regard to the efficacy of Dr. Peters' medicine. My wife had been for several years suffering and lingering under the effects of Dyspepsia, with its usual accompaniments, when, in December, 1835, I purchased of you one box; from the use of which her health was so far restored, that she deemed the further use of it at that time, unnecessary. On a return of some symptoms of the disease during the summer of 1837, she resorted to the same remedy, and continued it until she had taken the contents of three boxes. Since that time, she has been well, and can, without inconvenience, eat any thing that she fancies. From this case, and from the benefit to my own health, derived from the use of a single box, I am prepared to belive that this medicine is justly entitled to all the credit claimed for it by its warmest advocates.

Yours, &c.,

WM. WATKINS.

Mr. A. Smith, Agent, Suffolk, Va.

BROOM CO., N. Y. Jan. 21, 1838.

Dr. Peters—Dear Sir—I purchased a few boxes of Pills from your travelling agent, Chas. W. Lewis, just to see what they are made of, as I had previously heard a good deal in their favor; and I feel it due deed, is, that my supply is exhausted, and I want a gross of boxes by the most direct method, which you will please forward me, or else write to your northern agent—wherever he is—to that effect. Remember, dear Doctor, that I am in a great hurry, and believe me to be yours, with much respect,

JAMES NICHOLS, M. D.

Extract from a letter written by Dr. Francis Bogart, of Providence, R. I., Dec. 7, 1838.—'Peters' Pills are an excellent, aperient and cathartic medicine, (those effects being produced by the difference of the quantity taken,) and are decidedly superior to Lee's, Brandeth's or Morrison's pills.'

Extract from a letter by Dr. Hopson, of Bangor, Me., Jan. 9, 1838.—'They are a peculiar mild, yet efficient purgative medicine, and produce little, if any griping or nausea. I have prescribed them with much success in sick headache and slight billious fevers.'

Extract of a letter by Dr. Joseph Williams, of Burlington, Vt., July 9, 1837.—'I cordially recommend Peters' Pills as mildly effective, and in no case dangerous family medicine. They are peculiarly influential in costiveness and all the usual diseases of the digestive organs.'

A REAL BLESSING TO MOTHERS.

Dr. W. Evans's Celebrated Soothing Syrup, for Children Cutting their Teeth.

This infallible remedy has preserved hundreds of children, when thought past recovery, from convulsions. As soon as the Syrup is rubbed on the gums, the children will recover. This preparation is so innocent, so efficacious, and so pleasant, that no child will refuse to let its gums be rubbed with it. When infants are the age of four months, though there is no appearance of teeth, one bottle of the Syrup should be used on the gums, to open the pores.—Parents should never be without the Syrup in the nursery where there are young children; for if a child wakes in the night with pain in the gums, the Syrup immediately gives ease by opening the pores and healing the gums, thereby preventing Convulsions, Fevers, &c.

ENVIABLE DISTINCTION.

In the midst of a general, and in many instances not unfounded prejudiced against many of the medical remedies of the day, DR. W. EVANS' Pills have the enviable distinction of an universal approbation. They are perhaps the only medicine publicly advertised, that has the full and unreserved testimony of medical men in its favor; if not the only one which gives full satisfaction to its purchasers. DR. W. EVANS has the satisfaction of knowing that the Camomile or Tonic Pills are not only regularly recommended and prescribed by the most experienced physicians in their daily practice but also taken by those gentlemen themselves, whenever they feel the symptoms of these diseases in which they know them to be efficacious. He knows this to be generally to be the case in New York, Philadelphia, Albany, Boston, and other large cities in which they have an extensive sale. That they should thus conquer professional prejudice and interested opposition, and secure the agency of the most eminent and best informed physicians in the country to render them useful to all classes, can only be fully appreciated by those who know the peculiar and preeminent virtues.

Enviable, however, as this distinction is, it can easily be accounted for from the intrinsic and peculiar properties of the medicine itself. It does not pretend to too much, and it accomplishes all that it promises. Dr. W. Evans does not pretend, for instance, that either his Camomile or Aperient Pills will cure all diseases by merely purifying the blood, but he certainly does pretend, and has the authority of daily proofs for positively asserting that these medicines, taken as recommended, will cure a great majority of the diseases of the Stomach, Lungs and the Liver by which impurity of the blood is occasioned. The blood is made from the contents of the stomach; has its red color and vitality given it by the action of the lungs, and as it performs its duty in circulating through the veins and arteries, has its yellow billious or excrement, which may be termed its refuse or worn out sediment, collected and discharged by the liver. These viscera, then, are the anatomical mechanism or apparatus by which the blood is manufactured and preserved; and it is therefore obvious that the state of these should be the first consideration of the physician. Now are there various human causes will effect and derange these organs with which the blood has nothing whatever to do.—Thus the stomach may be utterly debilitated in one moment, by a blight, grief, disappointment, heat of the weather, or any other nervous action, and be wholly unable to digest its food. Is the blood to blame for this? A nervous action of long continuance will produce settled dyspepsia, with headache, bile, mental and physical debility, and a funeral retinue of other evils. Is the blood to blame for this? Intemperance, by inflaming the coats of the stomach, and leaving it in flaccid, prostrate weakness; and an undue quantity and continuance of purgative medicines by producing the same effects, will put this organ almost out of use for digesting wholesome solid food, and thus impoverish the blood and the whole system.—Is the blood to blame for this? Again with regard to the lungs, it is well known that a slight cold, occasioned by damp feet, or by a current of air, will inflame the broncha, all down through the branching air tube of the lungs, and create either excessive mucus, or that dreadfully insidious disease consumption with pustules and suppuration of the lobes, which, though timely remedies may prevent, no earthly skill can cure. Is the blood of the fair and blooming victim to blame for this? So the liver, when climate, sedentary habits, intemperance, or other prostrating causes have weakened it away or paralizes it with dispention, becomes unable to carry off the bile from the circulation, and instead of discharging it through the gall bladder, leaves it to come through the skin in jaundiced and shallow fluids, and to rush upon the stomach in irregular and excessive quantities. Is the unfortunate blood to blame for this? No; these vital organs are never affected by the blood, until after the blood has been affected by them; they are its makers and masters, and it is merely their work and their passive agent.

Knowing this to be a sound and demonstrated fact in science and experience, Dr. W. Evans' system of practice is in faithful accordance with it. He aims to keep the stomach, the lungs, and the liver in vigorous and regular action, as the three great fountains of health and life. For this purpose he prescribes his beautifully efficacious Aperient Pills (acknowledged by medical men who have analyzed and recommended them, to be equal to any in the world) in cases which require the cleansing of the stomach and bowels; and his celebrated Camomile or Tonic Pills, in cases of nervous irritability, stomach weakness, or general debility. A vast majority of human diseases having their origin in the general sympathy of the principle viscera with the nervous system, he thus seeks disease in the most subtle fibres of its roots, instead of vainly hoping to extirpate it by plucking off its leaves and more distant branches. His Aperient Pills, will do all that purgative medicine can do, that is, thoroughly cleanse the stomach and bowels: and his Camomile or Tonic Pills, combining as they also do, the most delightful Abodyne known in medicine, will do, or have done, and are continually doing more to strengthen, restore and sustain the human constitution than any other medicine that has yet been discoverd. Of this he has inumerable proofs, and this no man can deny without falsehood.

These medicines, which can be purchased either together or separately, are confidently recommended for the following complaint; and directions for use accompany them:—Dyspepsia, in all its forms; Billious and Liver affections, in every stage and degree; female sickness, more particularly the causes incident to mothers, Fin or Albus; Fever and Ague; Incipient Consumptions or Declines, whether of Liver or Lungs; Headache and Giddiness; Loss of appetite; Nervous Tremors; Inebriation or Delirium Tremors, Spasmodic Affections of all kinds; Rheumatism, whether Chronic or Inflamatory; Nervous and Billious fevers, of every variety; Scrofula; Salt Rheum, and all bletches, bad impure complexions of the skin; Restlessness at night and daily irritability and melancholy; the Summer Complaint and Cholera Morbus, or Diarhœa in grown persons, Worms and Flatulency, with bad breath; Chlorosis, and Palpitations of the Heart or Head; Changes of Female Constitution; and for impaired and disorganized constitutions in either sex, which have not been permanently relieved by any other medicines. A single trial of Dr. W. EVANS' MEDICINES in any of these cases will produce suh effects as will indicate their incomparable superiority, and induce such a use of them as will ensure a speedy and unquestionable cure. The purchaser, however, should be careful to get them genuine at Dr. W. EVANS' OFFICE, No. 100 Chatham St. New York, or of any of his authorized Agents, as all others are base and ignorant impositions. For further particulars he respectfully requests the public to peruse his other advertisements and medical papers, which may be depended upon for their strict and acknowledged truth.
