Ransom Pritchett, vs. William Jones, Elemuel Jones, and others. } THE object of the bill filed in this cause is to obtain a decree for the sale of the real estate of Ezekiel Jones for the payment of his debts.

The bill states that the said Ezekie Jones, on or about the 13th day of October, 1827, gave his bill obligatory to a certain Jesse Elliott for the sum of fifty dollars, with William Jones as his security—That said Jesse Elliott has departed this life intestate, and letters of administration were granted by the Orphans' Court of Dorchester County to Abel Elliott, who, for a valuable consideration, assigned the said debt to the complainant—That the said Ezekiel Jones has departed this life intestate, and that letters of administration on his personal estate have been granted to Jacob Willey, of said county, and that the personal estate of said Ezekiel Jones is not sufficient for the payment of his debts; and that he died seized of real estate lying in Dorchester county, and left the following children his heirs at law, to wit: William Jones, Elemuel Jones, Ezekiel Jones, Mary wife of Solomon Wheatley, Margaret wife of George Moore, Thomas Jones, Timothy Jones, and John Jones. It is also stated by the petition that the said William Jones, Elemuel Jones, Ezekiel Jones, Thomas Jones, Timothy Jones, and John Jones, reside out of the State of Maryland.

It is thereupon ordered that the complainant, by causing a copy of this order to be published in some newspaper once in each of three successive weeks, before the 15th day of March next, give notice to the said non-resident defendants of the substance and object of the bill, that they may be warned to appear in this Court, in person or by a solicitor, on or before the 11th day of July next, to shew cause, if any they have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Jesse Walter, vs. John Adams and others. } THE object of the bill filed in this cause is to obtain a decree for the sale of the real estate whereof Hope Adams died seized, in Somerset county, for the payment of his debts, his personal estate being insufficient for that purpose.

The bill states that the said Hope Adams hath departed this life intestate, leaving no widow, and leaving the following persons his heirs at law, to wit: Beauchamp D. Adams, Hette wife of Jonathan Huffington, Sarah wife of James Simms, Martha wife of Ebenezer Owings, Mary Adams, and John Adams—That said Hope Adams was, at the time of his death, indebted to the complainant, and that letters of administration on his personal estate were granted to James Brittingham, and that his personal estate is not sufficient for the payment of his debts; and that he died seized of real estate in Somerset county. It is also stated by petition that the said John Adams hath been several times returned non est by the sheriff on process issued against him from this Court in the above suit, and that his place of residence is unknown.

It is thereupon ordered that the complainant, by causing a copy of this order to be published in some newspaper once in each of three successive weeks, before the 15th day of March next, give notice to the said absent defendant, John Adams, of the substance and object of the bill, that he may be warned to appear in this Court, in person or by a solicitor, on or before the 12th day of July next, to shew cause, if any he have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

26,000 $ Philadelphi

THE splendid patronage awarded to the Philadelphia Saturday Courier, induces the editors to commence the publication, under the above title, of a quarto edition of their popular journal, so long known as the largest Family Newspaper in the United States, with a list of near TWENTY SIX THOUSAND SUBSCRIBERS. The new feature recently introduced of furnishing their readers with new books of the best literature of the day having proved so eminently successful, the plan will be continued. Six volumes of the celebrated writings of Captain Marryatt and sixty-five of Mr. Brooks's valuable Letters from Europe, have already been published without interfering with its news and miscellaneous reading. The Courier is the largest and cheapest family newspaper ever issued in this country, containing articles in Literature, Science and Arts; Internal Improvement; Agriculture, in short every variety of topics usually introduced into a public journal. Giving full accounts of sales, markets, and news of the latest dates.

It is published at the low price of $2. For this small sum subscribers get valuable and entertaining matter, each week enough to fill a common book of 200 pages, and equal to 52 volumes a year, and which is estimated to be read, weekly, by at least two hundred thousand people, scattered in all parts of the country, from Maine to Florida, and from the sea board to the lakes. The paper has been now so long established as to render it too well known to require an extended prospectus; the publishers, therefore, will do no more than refer to the two leading daily political papers of opposite politics. The Pennsylvanian says—"The Saturday Courier is the largest and one of the best family newspapers in the Union;" the other, the Inquirer and Daily Courier, says, "it is the largest journal published in Philadelphia, and one of the very best in the United States." The New-York Star says—"We know of nothing more liberal on the part of the editors, and no means more efficacious to draw out the dormant talents of our country, than their unexampled liberality in offering literary prizes."

The Albany Mercury of March 16th, 1836, says, "The Saturday Courier is decidedly the best Family Newspaper ever published in this or any other country, and its value is duly appreciated by the public, if we may judge from its vast circulation, which exceeds 25,000 per week! Its contents are agreeably varied, and each number contains more really valuable 'reading matter' than is published in a week in any daily paper in the Union. Its mammoth dimensions enable its enterprising proprietors, Messrs. Woodward & Clarke, of Philadelphia, to republish in its columns, in the course of a year, several of the most interesting new works that issue from the British press, which cannot fail to give to it a permanent interest, and render it worthy of preservation. To meet the wishes, therefore, of such of their subscribers as desire to have their numbers bound, they have determined on issuing an edition of the Courier in the quarto form, which will render it much more convenient for reading when it is bound in a volume, and thus greatly enhance its value."

THE QUARTO EDITION,

Under the title of 'the PHILADELPHIA MIRROR, will commence with the publication of the Prize Tale, to which was awarded the prize of $100, written by Miss Leslie, editor of the splendid Annual the Token, and author of Pencil Sketches and other valuable contributions to American Literature. A large number of songs, poems, tales, &c., offered in competition for the $500 premiums, will add value and interest to the succeeding numbers, which will also be enriched by a story from Miss Sedgewick, author of Hope Leslie, The Linwoods, &c., whose talents have been so justly and extensively appreciated, both at home and abroad.

This approved FAMILY NEWSPAPER is strictly neutral in religious and political matters, and the uncompromising opponent of quackery of every kind.

MAPS.

In addition to all which, the publishers intend furnishing their patrons with a series of engraved Maps, embracing the twenty five States of the Union, &c., exhibiting the situation, &c. of rivers, towns, mountains, lakes, the sea board, internal improvements, as displayed in canals, rail roads, &c., with other interesting and useful features, roads, distances, &c., forming a complete Atlas for general use and information, handsomely executed, and each distinct map on a large quarto sheet, at an expense which nothing but the splendid patronage which for six years past has been so generously extended to them, could warrant.

TERMS.

The Philadelphia Saturday Courier is still continued in its large form, at the same price as heretofore. The Philadelphia Mirror, being a quarto edition of the Saturday Courier, with its increased attractions, and printed on the best fine white paper of the same size as the New York Albion, will be put at precisely one half the price of that valuable journal viz: Three Dollars per annum, payable in advance, (including the Maps.)

QUARTO EDITION.

THE publishers of the "New-York encouraged by the generous and ste increasing patronage which has hitherto warded their exertions, propose to is from the commencement of their third

Double Quarto Edition of their journal

a few of a strictly literary character, wi entirely excluded; and, in addition to all matter presented in the folio New-Yo the quarto will contain a page of po music, &c. &c., and be accompanied handsome title-page and comprehensive dex at the close of the volume.

The general features of the New-Yo will remain essentially as they have hef fore been. Its columns will contain—

I. General Literature. Original T Essays, Reviews, Poems, &c., with co ponding selections from the Quarte Monthlies, and all the best class of peri cals, foreign and American, with choice tracts from new works of substantial ex lence. The Editor acknowledges with p and gratitude his obligation to his reg contributors—and among them are s whose names have shed lustre on the ca of American literature—for the steadi support hitherto afforded him, and the co dence with which he is now enabled to ass the public that it will not soon be w drawn. He takes pleasure in recalling fact, that, since the establishment of New Yorker, no other journal has affor an equal extent and variety, of the prod tions of all eminent American writers whatever section or class—a characteris which he hopes it may still preserve; w his selections from the best foreign wo have been exceeded—in quantity at least by those of but three or four among myriad of the cis-Atlantic periodicals.

II. National Politics. It has been aim of the Editor to present a full and f exhibit of the aspects, movements and str gles of parties in our country, including meeting of Conventions, nomination of ca didates for State and National offices, and other significant manifestations of politic feeling, with the general results of election as fast as ascertained, and the official canvas in each instance, as soon as it shall ha reached us. This course is believed to in many respects original with this journ and it is considered that we have just ca of felicitation in the fact, that, pursued as has been through two years of unremitti political warfare, the fairness and gener accuracy of our statements and returns ha very rarely, if ever, been questioned. Th Editor reserves to himself the right of re marking, as circumstances may seem to quire and justice to dictate, on the less exci ting political topics of the day, as on all oth ers, with calmness, deference and moderation; but he will strive—he trusts not less successfully than hitherto—to exclude fro the columns of the New-Yorker every obse vation, reflection, or even argument, which may wantonly do violence to the sincere convictions of any well-informed reader, o whatever principle or party.

III. General Intelligence. In this depart ment we can only promise the most unwea ried industry and patience in the collection condensation, and arrangement of the news, foreign and domestic, which may be gathered from the weekly reception of four hundred journals, including some choice European periodicals, and which may be afforded us by by the attention of our friends abroad.

Literary Notices, Statistics, brief notices of works of Art, Amusements, the Drama, &c. &c., will from time to time be given.
As a general rule, however, it will be the aim of the Editor to embody such articles, whether original or selected, as shall at least combine instruction with amusement.

CONDITIONS.

The Quarto "NEW-YORKER" will be published every Saturday afternoon on an extra imperial sheet of the finest quality, comprising sixteen pages of three columns each, and afforded to its patrons in the city and country, at THREE DOLLARS per annum, ☞ payable inflexibly in advance. ☜ Orders from a distance, accompanied by a remittance, will necessarily remain unanswered. Any person or persons sending us $5, positively free of postage or other charges, will receive two copies for one year, or a single copy for two years, and in the same proportion for a larger sum. The few who may take the folio edition for immediate perusal and the quarto for binding, will be entitled to receive both for $4 50, in advance. We will cheerfully preserve their files of the quarto for any such who may desire it.

The subscribers are extremely solicitous that there be no misconception on the part of their patrons in regard to the editions of their paper. The quarto is commenced in deference to the solicitations of a great number of their friends, who have expressed a strong desire that the New-Yorker should appear in a form more susceptible of preservation than the present. It is neither anticipated nor hoped that it will receive a patronage at all commensurate with that of the folio editions.
They would frankly express their conviction, that, for those whose interest in a journal expires with the week in which it reaches them, the latter will be decidedly preferable aside from the difference in price. Accordingly, when an order for 'The New-Yorker simply, without specification, is sent them the folio will invariably be sent.

POETRY.

FROM THE NEW YORK AMERICAN.

THE DISCARDED.

By Lieut. G. W. PATTEN, U. S. A.

Is woman's love so lightly won,
Obedient to call,
That like the Lyre ye play upon,
'Twill change and sigh with all?
Go tell him from this hour we part,
And own no mutual shrine:
---I will not brook another's heart Should share the joys of mine.

My step is light--my smile is gay, Nor yet my eye is dim--- Go tell him how in halls I stray
And never think of him;
And how at eve when music's tone,
Comes gushing o'er the air,
I feel not in my bower, alone,
Nor miss his presence there.

I do not love---I do not hate--- It were an idle thing!
In puling strain I will not prate, Nor yet the gauntlet fling;
But tell him like some passing gleam
That flits along the lea,
And like a shadow on a stream,
His memory is to me.

Perchance he thought with simple guile,
To prove me like a sword;
And dwelt with cunning craft the while,
Upon the stranger's word.
But tell him when he left my side
I knew not that he went,
Nor shall I clothe my lips with pride, Nor sigh with discontent.

Ye voices soft why o'er my heart Come with your promptings kind?
And has he tasted of the smart Which stings an anguish'd mind?
---I care not for his troubled sleep--- Yet whisper to his ear,
My eye is not too proud to weep,
But frozen is the tear.

And tell him tho' his every look Cold distance shuns to see:
Tho' like a falsely labell'd book,
His name is now to me;
And tho' no more like music bland,
His voice may haunt my rest:
---I wear his jewel on my hand,
His image on my breast.

LINES TO THE SPRING.

I hear thy dewy steps, oh gentle Spring!
Lightly they fall upon the fresh young grass,
And trembles forth full many a lovely thing, Fann'd into life where'er thy fleet wings pass.
Thou bringest to my soul a pleasant dream
Of all earth's glorious things of sound and sight;
Of shadowing hedge-rows where the violets gleam,
And daisies shed their sweet and starry light,
I hear thy voice upon the balmy breeze
That pours its fragrance from the blue southwest,
And tells of singing birds, and waving trees,
And waters leaping from the mountain's crest.
But yet, methinks, there is a mournful tone
That blendeth sadly with thy song of mirth,
And seems to breathe of glad sweet voices gone,
No more to welcome thy return to earth.
Oh! cease thy plaintive wailings, mourner sweet!
A sun has risen for them more bright than this,
Eternal flowers are springing round their feet--- Their's is a life of deepest, purest bliss;
A summer day, through never waning years; Thy bluest, softest skies, without their shadowing tears.

SLY JOKE....."A Bachelor" tells a story in the Transcript of two young ladies—both courted, amiable & highly accomplished, offering to "swap" beaux, and the negociation being carried on for some time without even a suspicion of the conspiracy by the parties most interested in the exchange. The best of the joke is that one of the young ladies actually offered to give "boot" rather than not have the bargain closed.
