and himself to the State. These are but few, but noted instances of Southern patriotism.

Hon. John Bell and about a dozen other "Union men" of Tennessee, have issued an address to the people of the State, approving the refusal of the Governor to respond to the federal requisition for troops. They are, however, still opposed to secession as well as coercion.

Serenade to Vice President Stephens at Richmond, Va.

On Monday night a large number of citizens of Richmond, Va., congregated in front of the Exchange Hotel in that city, with the First Regiment Band, and serenaded the Hon Alexander H. Stephens, Vice President of the Confederate States of America. The Dispatch has the following sketch of his speech:

The distinguished gentleman was introduced to the throng by Mayor Mayo, and was received with hearty cheers. In response, Mr. Stephens returned his acknowledgments for the warmth of the personal greeting, and his most profound thanks for it as the representative of the Confederate States. He spoke of the rejoicing the secession of Virginia had caused among her Southern sisters. Her people would feel justified if they could hear it as he had. He would not speak of the States that were out, but those who were in. North Carolina was out, and did not know exactly how she got out. The fires that were blazing here he had seen along his tract from Montgomery to Richmond. At Wilmington, N. C., he had counted, on one street, twenty flags of the Confederate States.

The news from Tennessee was equally cheering—there the mountains were on fire. Some of the States still hesitated, but soon all would be in. Tennessee was no longer in the late Union. She was out by resolutions of her popular assemblies in Memphis and other cities. Kentucky would soon be out; her people were moving. Missouri—who could doubt the stand she would take when her Governor, in reply to Lincoln's insolent proclamation, had said, "You shall have no troops for the furtherance of your illegal, unchristian and diabolical schemes!" Missouri will soon add another star to the southern galaxy. Where Maryland is you all know. The first southern blood had been shed on her soil, and Virginia would never stand idly by and see her citizens shot down. The cause of Baltimore was the cause of the whole South.

He said the cause we were engaged in was that which attached people to the Constitution of the late United States—it was the cause of civil, religious and constitutional liberty. Many of us looked at that Constitution as the anchor of safety. In Georgia the people had been attached to the previous Union, but the Constitution which governed it was framed by Southern talent and understanding. Assaults had been made on it ever since it was established. Lately a latitudinous construction had been made by the North, while we of the South sought to interpret it as it was—advocating strict construction, State rights, the right of the people to rule, etc. He spoke of all the fifteen Southern States as advocating this construction. To violate the principles of the Constitution was to initiate revolution—and the Northern States had done this.

The Constitution framed at Montgomery discarded the obsolete ideas of the old Constitution, but had preserved its better portion, with some modifications, suggested by the experience of the past, and it had been adopted by the Confederated States, who would stand to it. The old Constitution had been made an engine of power to crush out liberty; that of the Confederated States to preserve it. The old Constitution was improved in our hands, and those living under it had, like the Phoenix, risen from the ashes. The revolution lately begun did not affect alone property, but liberty. He alluded to Lincoln's call for 75,000 volunteers, and said he could find no authority in the old Constitution for such a flagrant abuse of power. His second proclamation had stigmatised as pirates all who sailed in letters of marque; this was also in violation of the Constitution, which alone gave Congress that power.

What had the friends of liberty to hope for? Begining in usurpation, where would he end? You were, however, said he, no longer under the rule of this tyrant. With strong arms and stout hearts you have now resolved to stand in defence of liberty. The Confederate States had but asserted their rights. They believed that their rulers derived their just powers from the consent of the governed. No one had a right to deny the existence of the sovereign right of secession. Our people did not want to meddle with the Northern States—only wanted the latter to let them alone. When did Virginia ever ask the assistance of the General Government?

If there is sin in our institutions, we bear the blame—and will stand acquitted by natural law, and the higher law of the Creator.—We stand upon the law of God and Nature. The Southern States did not wish a resort to arms after secession. Mr. Stephens alluded to the negotiations between Major Anderson and the authorities of the Confederate States, to demonstrate the proposition. History, he said, if rightly written, would acquit us of a desire to shed our brother's blood.

The law of necessity and of right compelled us to act as we did. He had reason to believe that the Creator smiled on it. The Federal flag was taken down without the loss of a single life. He believed that Providence would be with us and bless us to the end. We had appealed to the God of Battles for the justness of our cause. Madness and folly ruled at Washington. Had it not have been so several of the States would have been in the old Union for a year to come. Maryland would join us, and may-ere long, the principles that Washington fought for might be again administered in the city that bore his name.

Every son of the South, from the Potomac to the Rio Grande, should rally to the support of Maryland. If Lincoln quits Washington as ignominously as he entered it, God's will will have been accomplished. Be prepared; stand to your arms—defend your wives and firesides. He alluded to the momentous consequences of the issue involved.

Rather than be conquered, let every second man rally to drive back the invader. The conflict may be terrible, but the victory will be ours. Virginians, said he, you fight for the preservation of your sacred rights—the land of Patrick Henry—to keep from desecration the tomb of Washington, the graves of Madison, Jefferson, and all you hold most dear.

Three cheers were given for Mr. Stephens, and three for Jefferson Davis. The citizens repaired to the Spotswood House to serenade Col. Lee. Mayor Mayo appeared and regretted that gentleman's absence; but having been appointed General of all the land forces of Virginia, he was then consulting with the Executive as to the proper measures to be pursued.

A dispatch was received at New Orleans on the 20th ult from the Hon. C. G. Memminger ordered the close of the $15,000,000 loan of the Confederate States, the entire am't having been subscribed for.

Virginia Secession Ordinance.

We append the ordinance of secession of Virginia, passed on the 17th ult., and which has just been made public. Accompanying the document is a long schedule, setting forth the time and manner of holding a poll for its ratification by the people. A poll will be opened in each military camp of Virginia volunteers, whether in or out of the State, and the voters there suffered to vote. This will be in addition to the regular election precincts. The election for members of Congress for the State to the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United Statss, required by law to be held on the 4th Thursday in May next, is suspended and prohibited until otherwise ordained by the convention:

AN ORDINANCE

To repeal the Ratification of the Constitution of the United States of America by the State of Virginia, and to resume all the rights and powers granted under said Constitution.

The people of Virginia, in their ratification of the Constitution of the United States of America, adopted by them in convention on the twenty fifth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-eight, having declared that the powers granted under the said constitution were derived from the people of the United States, and might be resumed whensoever the same should be perverted to their injury and oppression, and the federal government having perverted said powers, not only to the injury of the people of Virginia, but to the oppression of the Southern slaveholding States.

Now, therefore, we, the people of Virginia, do declare and ordain that the ordinance adopted by the people of this State, in convention, on the twenty-fifth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-eight, whereby the constitution of the United States of America was ratified—and all acts of the General Assembly of this State ratifying or adopting amendments to said constitution—are hereby repealed and abrogated; that the Union between the State of Virginia and the other States under the constitution aforesaid is hereby dissolved, and that the State of Virginia is in the full possession and exercise of all the rights of sovereignty which belong and appertain to a free and independent State. And they do further declare that the said constitution of the United States of America is no longer binding on any of the citizens of this State.

This ordinance shall take effect and be an act of this day when ratified by a majority of the votes of the people of this State, cast at a poll to be taken thereon on the fourth Thursday in May next, in pursuance of a schedule hereafter to be enacted.

Done in convention in the city of Richmond, on the seventeenth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, and in the eighty-fifth year of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

A true copy. JOHN L. EUBANK,
Secretary of Convention.

The following is the proclamation of Gov. Burton, of Delaware.

WILMINGTON, DEL., April 26.

To the Citizens of the State of Delaware:—Whereas a requisition has been made upon the undersigned, as the Executive of the State of Delaware, by the Secretary of War, for one Regiment, consisting of seven hundred and eighty men, to be immediately detached from the Militia of this State, "to serve as Infantry or Riflemen, for the period of three months, unless sooner discharged;" And whereas, the laws of this State do not confer upon the Executive any authority enabling him to comply with such requisition; And whereas, it is the duty of all good and law abiding citizens to preserve the peace and sustain the Laws and Government under which we live, and by which our citizens are protected;

Therefore, I, William Burton, Governor of the said State of Delaware, recommend the formation of Volunteer Companies, for the protection of the lives and property of the people of this State against violence of any sort to which they may be exposed. For these purposes, such companies, when formed, will be under the control of the State authorities, though not subject to be ordered by the Executive into the United States' service; the law not vesting in him such authority. They will, however, have the option of offering their services to the General Government, for the defence of its Capital and the support of the Constitution and laws of the country.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have caused the great seal of the State of Delaware to be hereunto affixed. Done at Dover, this twenty-fifth day of April, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and sixty one, and of the Independence of said State, the eighty-fifth.

By the Governor:

WM. BURTON.

ED. RIDGLEY, Secretary of State.

MARRIED.

In Philadelphia, on the —— ult., DANIEL ROBINSON and Miss H. E. WILKINS, both of Caroline County.

Maryland to be a Big Cemetery.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—A deputation of sixteen Virginians and 8 Marylanders visited the President on Monday, and demanded a cessation of hostilities until after the session of Congress. Mr. Lincoln of course declined the proposition. One of the deputation said that 75,000 Marylanders would contest the passage of troops over her soil; to which the President replied that he presumed there was room enough in her soil to bury 75,000 men. The answer was prompt and decided.

Corcoran, the banker, to-day offered a large amount of gold to the Government, if the latter would give drafts on New York. Treasurer Skinner told him if he had any gold he must fight for its protection. The Government would not do it for him.

The coolest thing yet proposed to Government was that made by Gov. Hicks and Gov. Letcher, that they would jointly guarantee the safety of the Capital. The Government declined such protection, probably very much to the disgust of the twin rebels of Virginia and Maryland.

Many persons in Washington desire to get away, but find it impossible to obtain conveyances. Arrangements are completed by which, in case of need, the Capitol and other buildings, and the White House, can be blown up.—Phila. Ledger.

THE CURES MADE BY PROF DE GRATH with his "Electric Oil," are almost miraculous and so wonderful and instantaneous, so satisfactory, and mitigating of human ill, as to call upon public functionaries, and those having charge of public institutions for the sick and suffering, to look well into the well attested merits, the simple efficacy of this "Electric Oil." Prof. CHAS. DE GRATH'S Electric Oil—The Friend of Man.

THERE is a perfect innocent, soothing and gently stimulating Medicine, that may be justly called "THE FRIEND OF MAN."—It was discovered by Prof. Chas. De Grath while travelling in South America—lately been brought out by urgent solicitations—and has cured more cases of Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Sciatica, Spinal and Bronchial complaints, Tic Doloreux, Headache, Cramps, Croup, Piles, Felons, Sprains and Bruises, Cuts and Wounds, Swelled Glands, Stiff Joints, Scrofula, Erysipelas, Sore Nipples, Swelled Breast, Womb Disorders, Salt Rheum, Canker in the mouth and stomach, Palpitation, Eruptions, Caked Breast, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Palsy, Pleurisy, Ulcers, Lock Jaw, Heart Burn, Tooth and Ear-ache, Nervousness, Costiveness, Burns, Sore Gums of teething infants, &c., than all and every other medicine in Philadelphia.

☞It will be seen this great remedy does not claim to cure everything, but only a CERTAIN CLASS of complaints.

☞It is an external remedy, but sometimes is taken internally (by the Doctor's advice.) It stimulates to action the absorbents and secretions, drives pains of all kinds from the body, and reduces all swellings, in an incredible short time, as all know who have used Prof. De Grath's "ELECTRIC OIL."

CERTIFICATE OF JOHN WILLIAMSON.

I, John Williamson, Attorney at Law, Huntingdon, Pa., do certify that Prof. De Grath's Electric Oil is infallible for rheumatic pains. My wife who for some time past has been greatly afflicted and unable to walk has been restored by the application of this Oil almost instantaneously and I can cheerfully recommend it to others.

GIRARD HOUSE, Philadelphia.

Prof. Chas. DeGrath:—I freely give it as my opinion, that your Electric Oil is among the most wonderful remedy of modern times. At the earnest request of a lady, who alleged that she had been relieved of a most painful affection by its use, I was induced to try a bottle, though at the time of purchasing, I fully believed it to be a quack medicine and a catchpenny humbug. But a trial convinces me that it possesses a magic power, and its use will prove a blessing to suffering humanity.

I recently took a cold from sleeping in damp sheets, and my neck became so much swollen and painful, that I could not turn my head.

After using, without success, everything prescribed by my physician, I last evening tried your Electric Oil. This morning I am well, the relief having been as complete as it was instantaneous. Yours, very truly,

MARK THESE FACTS!

The Testimony of the Whole World.

Holloway's Ointment.

BAD LEGS, BAD BREASTS, SORES AND ULCERS.

ALL description of sores are remediable by the proper and diligent use of this inestimable preparation. To attempt to cure bad legs by plastering the edges of the wound together is a folly; for should the skin unite, a boggy diseased condition remains underneath to break out with tenfold fury in a few days. The only rational and succesful treatment, as indicated by nature, is to reduce the inflammation in and about the wound and to soothe the neighboring parts by rubbing in plenty of the Ointment as salt is forced into meat.

DIPTHERIA, ULCERATED SORE THROAT, AND SCARLET AND OTHER FEVERS.

Any of the above diseases may be cured by well rubbing the Ointment three times a day into the chest, throat and neck of the patient; it will soon penetrate, and give immediate relief. Medicine taken by the mouth must operate upon the whole system ere its influence can be felt in any local part, whereas the Ointment will do its work at once. Whoever tries the unguent in the above manner for the diseases named, or any similar disorders affecting the chest and throat, will find themselves relieved as by a charm.

PILES, FISTULAS, STRICTURES.

The above class of complaints will be removed by nightly fomenting the parts with warm water, and then by most effectually rubbing in the Ointment. Persons suffering from these direful complaints should lose not a moment in arresting their progress. It should be understood that it is not merely to smear the Ointment on the affected parts, but it must be well rubbed in for some considerable time two or three times a day, that it may be taken into the system, whence it will remove any hidden sore or wound as effectually as though palpable to the eye. Then again bread and water poultices, after the rubbing in of the Ointment, will do great service. This is the only sure treatment for females, cases of cancer in the stomach, or where there may be a general bearing down.

INDISCRETIONS OF YOUTH—SORES AND ULCERS.

Blotches, as also swellings, can, with certainty, be radically cured if the Ointment be used freely, and the Pills be taken night and morning as recommended in the printed instructions. When treated in any other way they only dry up in one place to break out in another; whereas this Ointment will remove the humour from the system and leave the patient a vigorous and healthy. It will require time with the use of the Pills to ensure a lasting cure.

DROPSICAL SWELLINGS, PARALYSIS AND STIFF JOINTS.

Although the above complaints differ widely in their origin and nature, yet they all require local treatment. Many of the worst cases of such diseases, will yield in a comparatively short space of time when this Ointment is diligently rubbed into the parts affected, even after every other means have failed. In all serious maladies the Pills should be taken according to the printed directions accompanying each box.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bad Legs,	Gout,
Bad Breasts,	Glandular Swellings,
Burns,	Lumbago,
Bunions,	Piles,
Bite of Mosquitoes and Sand-Flies,	Rheumatism,
	Scalds,

☞CAUTION!—None are genuine unless the words, "Holloway, New York and London," are discernible as a Water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines, or vending them to be spurious.
