The Nelson Arrest—His Treatment By The Confederates—A Letter To The President—Mr. Davis' Reply—Mr. Nelson Advise The Union Men To Submit.

The Knoxville Whig, of the 24th instant, contains the promised address of Hon. Thomas A. R. Nelson to the people of East Tennessee. It occupies two columns of the Whig. After stating the causes which led to his flight, the mode of arrest, and the reason for his Unionism, with which the reader is already familiar, he says:

While on the way to Richmond, I had some conversation with a portion of the Tennessee delegation to the Southern Congress, and during my stay there was visited by various members of Congress and other public men connected with the Southern Confederacy. The intense solicitude which was expressed, especially by the most prominent and distinguished of the Secessionists, who without any request on my part, volunteered their kind offices, with generous liberality, in regard to the conciliation of the people of East Tennessee, and the unusual kindness and consideration with which I was treated as a prisoner, convinced me that I was in error in supposing that the military power would be exerted for any other purpose than that of retaining the railroad and of aggressive acts on our part.

Acting under this changed conviction, believing that, if I were retained as a prisoner, or punished with death, under any strained construction of the treason laws, my friends in East Tennessee would in either event retaliate by arresting public men of the opposite party here; that this would lead to counter arrests, and that the horrors of civil war would immediately exist among us, I felt that it was due to you and to myself that I should obtain my release as soon as possible, on the best terms I could effect without dishonor; and after various informal propositions and consultations, I finally addressed to President Davis the following letter:

RICHMOND, Aug. 12, 1861.

To His Excellency Jeff. Davis, President of the Confederate States:

SIR: I have been arrested, and, as I learned since my arrival in this city upon the charge of treason, but whether against the State, of Tennessee or the Confederate States, I am not advised. I am conscious of no act, either against the State or the Confederacy, that will support or sustain such an accusation.

I am sincerely anxious to preserve the peace and quiet of East Tennessee, the section of the State in which I reside, as best promotive and of the peace and interest or the entire State. —I ask to be discharged from a vexatious prosecution that I may return home peaceably to follow my private interests and pursuits, assuring your excellency that I will not, either directly or indirectly, by counsel, advice or action encourage, aid or assist the United States Government, to invade or attain success in the present struggle with the Confederate States, nor will I advise or counsel others to thwart or cripple the Confederate States in the pending contest with the United States, nor will I do so by my own acts.

In view of the increased majority in the election which has just taken place in Tennessee, I shall feel it my duty, as a citizen of that State, to submit to her late action, and shall religiously abstain from any further words or acts of condemnation or opposition to her government.

The parties arrested with me, with the exception of my son, who acted by my command, were mere guides and conductors through the mountain passes, on my way to my place of destination, and whatever view may be taken of my own course, they are innocent; in no way responsible, legally or morally, and have committed no offence against the laws of the Confederacy or the State of Tennessee; and I ask that they also be discharged from custody by your Excellency.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
THOS. A. R. NELSON.

To which the following answer was returned:

RICHMOND, Aug 13 1861.

SIR—I have received your letter of the 12th instant, in which you ask to be discharged from arrest and prosecution, and make promise that you will, "as a citizen of Tennessee, submit to her late action and religiously abstain from any further words or acts of condemnation whatever or opposition to her government.

The desire of this government being to maintain the independence it has asserted by the united feeling and action of all its citizens, it has been its policy not to enter into questions of difference of political opinions heretofore existing.

I am, therefore, pleased to be spared the necessity of inquiring whether the accusation against you be well founded or not, vexatious or not, and to rest content with your submission as a loyal citizen of your State, to her recent action in adhering to this Confederacy, and adopting its permanent Constitution by an increased majority. I have ordered your discharge and that of your companions from custody.

I am, &c.,
JEFFERSON DAVIS.

A. R. NELSON, Esq.

my return home, I am ly satisfied that my friends ave resisted the action I and, upon the most mature am content with my own the premises. But whether right or wrong, wise or unel bound, as an honorable ct up to the spirit and let obligation I assumed. offer no plea of duress; be ither the Southern Confede r any other earthly power ve compelled me to make an nt that my judgement and ice did not approve in the n in which I was placed. rms or conditions, expressed ed public or private, attend release other than those plainessed in the two above quoted, have thought it due to our lations and the painful solicmany of you have felt in my that I should thus briefly ad you.

le I did dot promise allegiance ve support to the Southern leracy, and will not advise you me any obligations contrary r convictions of duty, I feel ly free to say that the failure Government of the United for four long months to sus s in our position; its apparent ly to do so, since the battle of ssas, within any reasonable the deliberate action of our in the August election; the ases of public men that no test or draft measures will be adopt required; the mutual hatred has grown up between the anistic sections of the Union, and recent confiscation laws which been either adopted or proposed th sides, as well as other causes, painfully impressed my own with the belief that unless some erful and improbable change is ed, our beloved Union is gone er, and it is our policy and duty bmit to a result which, however ay deplore it, seems to be inev e.

ware that my advice as well as motives may be liable to misconction, I would still most respect recommend to my friends the riety of abstaining from all furth opposition or resistance to the Conrate authorities; or the action of own State, and should this be e, although I have no authority peak for them, I am satisfied that military authority will be exerted ong us except such as may be inensably necessary to retain mili y possession of East Tennessee. And to those of our citizens who ve gone beyond the limits of the te, either through fear or the pose of arming themselves to re t a course of action which is disawed in General Polk's letter, I nk I can safely say, without arrince, that from the course which s adopted towards me, they would k nothing by returning to the ate and submitting to a result hich they have in vain endeavored prevent.

Excitement at Cumberland.

The Wheeling Intelligencer of uesday says:

We learn from passengers who arved from Cumberland, Md., last ening, that there has been the most tense excitement in that city since e difficulty of Friday evening last d the stoppage of the train on turday morning. On Saturday ght the whole city was up in arms anticipation of an attack from the bel camp at Romney, and there was eat activity and vigilance among e Union soldiers along the road as r up as New Creek. The prominent secessionists had all been preously notified to leave the city by welve yesterday—that their presnce could no longer be tolerated in onsideration of the vast interests at take.

A letter to a northern journal, peaking of the riot in Cumberland n Friday evening, says a son of T. McKaig, member of assembly from Allegany county, was badly beaten, but succeeded in making his escape, but has since been retaken.

Mr. Mc Kaig, senior, who was rendered himself odious by his course in the Legislature, was also obliged to fly, but was captured by the troops and kept in camp until Saturday morning. About twenty other citizens, alleged secessionists, have been arrested.

From Washington.

THE FEMALE PRISONERS.

The War Department has proofs strong and sufficient against the women recently arrested, to place the fact of their complicity with and aid to secession beyond all doubt.

THE NATIONAL LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury contemplates issuing an address to the public in behalf of the national loan.

Rumors of changes in the Cabinet are numerous. The Boston Advertiser of yesterday says that a report is current in that city that Messrs. Seward, Cameron and Welles will soon yield their places to Banks, Holt and Dix. A petition is in circulation in Cincinnati, which is already numerous signed, asking the removal of Simon Cameron and the appointment of Joseph Holt in his place.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS & OINTMENT.—Be not Deceived.—Liver complaint. Some people consider an article worthless because it is advertised—this is the exception not the rule—for if anything is worth knowing it is worthy of being universal known, and the Press is the only medium for extending this knowledge. The truth or falsity of an assertion however, lies in the proof. After deep research and scientific labor, Dr. Holloway, some fifty years back discovered two potent remedies, Pills and Ointment, for all internal and external disorders arising from the stomach, the liver, or the blood. For liver complaint particularly it is a decided cure. In all tropical climates it is the only medicine used for this disease, and the millions who have been cured by the Pills and Ointment, owe their knowledge of them t to the Press.

SANDS' SARSAPARILLA is an excellent alternative and tonic, delicate females of irregular habit, or at the turning period of life, find it the best and safest remedy that can be used. Wilcox & Gibbs' SEWING MACHINES.

Price with Hemmer & Feller,

$35 00.

THIS MACHINE HAS POINTS OF SUPERIORITY PECULIARLY ITS OWN.

Stitching, Hemming and Felling with a Single Thread.

IT forms a flat, even and elastic seam, which is WARRANTED not to rip up in wear, even if the seam is cut at frequent intervals, and also under all circumstances to "survive the wash-tub."

A Patented device of great utility to learners, prevents the possibility of the machine being run in the wrong direction, or the balance-wheel wearing a lady's dress.

Another feature which deserves particular attention is ☞The Wilcox Patent Needle cannot be set wrong.

Two thousand Stitches or two yards of work can be done in one minute without dropping a stitch.

These Machines so simple and accurate in their construction, supersede the use of the shuttle; and with one thread produce all the practical results of the two thread machines; and more, for these fell without basting, and hem the finest muslin without puckering.

Although at about half the price of the other first class machines, they will accomplish double the sewing in a given time.

"It is emphatically the good, low priced Family Sewing Machine that the public have long been waiting for."—Boston Transcript.

"It is indeed a wonderful production, and for family use especially, no other will bear any comparison with it."—Philadelphia Evening Journal.

"A mechanical wonder."—Scientific American.

"Among the best and most serviceable Sewing machines. Light and elegantly finished, and so simple in its construction that it seems almost impossible for it to get out of repair."—Pittsburg Chronicle.

"Has combined with its own peculiar merits all the really valuable improvements of the higher priced machines."—Pennsylvanian.

"This machine, in the opinion of the committee, fills more nearly the requirements of a perfect family machine than any on exhibition."—Franklin Institute Exhibition Report of 1858.

"Taking into consideration simplicity, cheapness, durability and doing all work, the committee were unanimously in favor of the Wilcox & Gibbs as a single thread machine."—Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society's Report.

"We must, in justice, express our confidence in the merits of the Wilcox & Gibbs sewing Machine. We consider that a great desideratum has been supplied by it, in proving, beyond doubt, that two threads are not, as was supposed, necessary to a good instrument."—Christian Advocate and Journal, June 21, '60.

"We have one of these machines in use, and think more highly of it than of any of the number we have tried."—Richmond Whig.

The undersigned, Missionary to Constantinople, has examined more than twenty different kinds of Sewing Machines, and after some six weeks' experience with Wilcox & Gibbs' Patent, he has purchased one of them, as the best adapted to the wants of his family, and as the least liable to require repair.

OLIVER CRANE.

Boston, July 3, 1860.

The undersigned, during eighteen months, has had in almost constant use, in his family, a Wilcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine, upon which has been made the clothes of his large family—from muslin to pilot cloth—including the clothing required for his several boys; and in no case have the seams failed, although in hard service. The machine now in use in his family has required no repair, and is, in all respects, well appointed, efficient and durable.

Holloway's Ointment.

BAD LEGS, BAD BREASTS, SORES AND ULCERS.

ALL description of sores are remediable by the proper and diligent use of this inestimable preparation. To attempt to cure bad legs by plastering the edges of the wound together is a folly; for should the skin unite, a boggy diseased condition remains underneath to break out with tenfold fury in a few days. The only rational and successful treatment, as indicated by nature, is to reduce the inflammation in and about the wound and to soothe the neighboring parts by rubbing in plenty of the Ointment as salt is forced into meat.

DIPTHERIA, ULCERATED SORE THROAT, AND SCARLET AND OTHER FEVERS.

Any of the above diseases may be cured by well rubbing the Ointment three times a day into the chest, throat and neck of the patient: it will soon penetrate, and give immediate relief. Medicine taken by the mouth must operate upon the whole system ere its influence can be felt in any local part; whereas the Ointment will do its work at once. Whoever tries the unguent in the above manner for the diseases named, or any similar disorders affecting the chest and throat, will find themselves relieved as by a charm.

PILES, FISTULAS, STRICTURES.

The above class of complaints will be removed by nightly fomenting the parts with warm water, and then by most effectually rubbing in the Ointment. Persons suffering from these direful complaints should lose not a moment in arresting their progress. It should be understood that it is not merely to smear the Ointment on the affected parts, but it must be well rubbed in for some considerable time two or three times a day, that it may be taken into the system, whence it will remove any hidden sore or wound as effectually as though palpable to the eye. Then again bread and water poultices, after the rubbing in of the Ointment, will do great service. This is the only sure treatment for females, cases of cancer in the stomach, or where there may be a general bearing down.

INDISCRETIONS OF YOUTH—SORES AND ULCERS.

Blotches, as also swellings, can, with certainty, be radically cured if the Ointment be used freely, and the Pills be taken night and morning as recommended in the printed instructions. When treated in any other way they only dry up in one place to break out in another; whereas this Ointment will remove the humour from the system and leave the patient a vigorous and healthy. It will require time with the use of the Pills to ensure a lasting cure.

DROPSICAL SWELLINGS, PARALYSIS AND STIFF JOINTS.

Although the above complaints differ widely in their origin and nature, yet they all require local treatment. Many of the worst cases of such diseases, will yield in a comparatively short space of time when this Ointment is diligently rubbed into the parts affected, even after every other means have failed. In all serious maladies the Pills should be taken according to the printed directions accompanying each box.
