Address (post paid)
Easton Md. , G. KERR.

A medicinal preparation is hereby announced which has been long desired, and sought for, and which the public must at once see and acknowledge the advantage of. It is a purgative pill, COATED WITH SUGAR, so that it leaves no taste whatever of its internal ingredients. In fact the medicine is so entirely disguised that if a person were to swallow the pills without being informed what they were, he would believe them to be simply lumps of pure sugar, nor could he afterwards, unless by its great purgative effect suspect that he had been taking medicine, for these pills are so skilfully prepared that they do not gripe the bowels, and thus the patient who takes them avoids two evils which attend all other purgative medicines; namely nausea and pain. Medicine administered in all other sweet forms has the disadvantage of being mixed with the sugar, and hence produces a mingled flavor, which, to most persons is more disagreeable than unadulterated bitterness. In these pills this is altogether avoided; the sugar and the medicine being entirely distinct from each other, so that the former must be thoroughly removed before the latter can manifest itself to the taste. It is universally known that nearly all diseases originate with impurity of blood.—Pure blood is therefore essential to health. We must not, however, wait until the blood is impure, for then it takes time—and that time passed in ill health—to rectify it; but when the slightest derangement of the system is indicated by costiveness, or any other sign, it admonishes us that superfluities are gathering in the system, which should at once be got rid of, for their removal leaves the chyle, (from which the blood is formed) in a healthy state, and purity of blood must be the result. This fact, as stated, is universally known; but people have such an aversion to medicine, that, unless the case is urgent, they prefer the disease to the cure, until an impared constitution, or a fit of sickness rebukes them for the folly of their conduct.—Still they had some excuse; for heretofore, medicine in almost all its forms, was nearly as disgusting as it was beneficial. Now, however, the evil is most effectually removed; for CLICKENER'S SUGAR COATED VEGETABLE EXTRACT PILLS have no taste whatever of medicine—produce none of the nausea and griping, attendant on the operation of other medicine—while their speedy effect in removing all impurities from the system cannot be excelled by any other medicine which has ever been discovered.

It is unnecessary to say more here. If these pills are, as described, the public will freely and gladly patronise them; and the proprietor merely asks a trial, which he is sure of receiving, to prove that he assumes no merit for them which they do not fully possess.

Clickener's Sugar-coated Vegetable Extract Pills are prepared and sold, wholesale and retail and for exportation, by C. V. CLICKENER & Co., Chemists, at the wholesale and retail drug warehouse, No. 79 and 81 Barclay street, New York. Price 25 cents.

Caution—The public should remember that C. V. Clickener is the inventor of the Sugar-Coated Pills, and that nothing of the sort was ever heard of until he introduced them. Therefore should any other person, seduced by the popularity of his discovery, advertise Sugar Coated Pills, they must be a wretched counterfeit, which it would be dangerous to use, as none but the most ignorant quacks can be found dealing in such a nefarious traffic, as palming off counterfeit for genuine medicine.

Cheapness, Elegance and Excellance Combined!

Before subscribing to a Periodical for 1845, read the following Prospectus of the Third Volume of

ARTHUR'S LADIES' MAGAZINE.

PRICE ONLY $2.00 PER ANNUM,

48 Pages Reading Matter, besides two elegant Steel Plates, in each number!

The Publishers, in sending forth their Prospectus for the third volume of their Magazine, which is exclusively and permanently under the editorial control of T. S. ARTHUR, believe that they can offer to the public most substantial claims to patronage. The first and second volumes have been acknowledged on all hands to be equal, and, in many respects, superior, in character, strength, interest and attractiveness, to any of the magazines issued. The aim of the Editor is a high one. He repudiates the long prevalent system of basing his work upon the reputation of contributors, whose articles, no matter what they have done, are, in too many instances, below mediocrity.

Nothing gains admission into the pages of this Magazine, which is not excellent in itself. The source from which an article comes is secondary—its merits always primary. Such a rule, strictly carried out, must give character to any work. It has given "ARTHUR'S MAGAZINE" a character already acknowledged in all respectable quarters wi ere it has been received.

Among the inexhaustable sources that open up to the hands of a literary caterer, GERMAN and FRENCH LITERATURE offer a wide field for selection. Into this region, with an admirable corps of translators, we are steadily penetrating, astonished at every step by the riches we meet. Especially is this the case in Literature. Already we have given some splendid articles from the German, brim full of pure truths, and forcible illustrations of the power of goodness. "Silent Love," "The Governor and his Successors," "The Unknown Patient," "The Russian Prince," "The Privy Counsellor," &c. &c. all who have read will remember with delight.

From the French we have also given many first rate articles. "The Perplexed Lovers," from Madame de Genlis, also, the "Lesson of Misfortune," and 'The Error of a Good Father," from Marmontel, with fine tales from DUMAS, LACROIX, NODIER, BALZAC, and other authors of celebrity.

In selecting from the French, our translators are guided by a strict regard to purity and excellence. None know better than they do, how much that is objectionable abounds in the light literature of this people. But, flowing along by the side of this impure current, is another, as lucid and clear as crystal. From this they dip up the bright waters and present them to our lips.

At this fountain, we shall continue to let our readers drink. But, in doing so, we shall not neglect the EXCELLENCIES OF OUR OWN NATIVE LITERATURE. This would be the worst of folly. Yet in doing this, we shall make no parade of names. The public are getting to understand pretty clearly how much this is worth, and to discover that excellence is not always to be found in the fugitive productions of writers who have done well in books. Our country is teeming with young genius, too often overshadowed and hidden by the successful, who possess not half their intrinsic worth, and whose writings exert not half so healthy an influence. They are crowded from the path in which they are fitted to walk, and their merits kept out of sight by a few who have gained the public ear and eye, and who are kept before the public, not so much on account of the superior excellence of what they are giving forth, as on account of what they have done.

To merit, wherever we find it, we will give the right hand of fellowship. We would not accept a poor article from the most celebrated writer in the country; but a good one, let it come from where it will, shall find a welcome. In all sources, at home and abroad, we shall seek the good, the true and the beautiful.

For some time, and with too much justness in the allegation, our Magazines have been charged with being too light and trashy. This fault we have from the first steadily avoided. "ARTHUR'S MAGAZINE" will continue to sustain a high character for excellence in all its departments. Something more than mere love tales will be given. Its stories, while full of deep and absorbing interest, or, sparkling with wit and happy feelings, will have in them a soul—A LIVING SOUL of goodness and truth. Reviews, essays and sketches, with poetry that shall be truly called such, will be blended with them in just proportion. Thus much in regard to the literary department of our Magazine. Another matter claims our attention—that of

PICTORIAL EMBELLISHMENTS.

Custom and taste have rendered them indispensible in a literary work like ours. We shall not stand to argue the matter with Custom and Taste, but proceed to open up our intentions on this head. First, then, we have determined to present the subscribers to "ARTHUR'S MAGAZINE," during the year, with a novelty, of a highly attractive character, no less than a series of engraved on steel in a highly finished style This Shakspeare Gallery of Beauty will present embodied to the eye, some of the noble bard's most beautiful creations of the mind, as well as one or two celebrated characters in history, around whom his magic pen has thrown a new charm. What lover of the Poet's immortal creations, will not be eager to secure this splendid series of Engravings? Not one, surely. Every possessor of a copy of Shakspeare, and whose library does not contain his works? will have, at a mere nominal cost, six exquisite illustrations, not to be obtained in any other way. This is certainly a great desideratum. But, besides these beauties from Shakspeare, we are making arrangements to procure a series of female figures, far surpassing in loveliness of form and face, and exquisite finish, any thing that has yet appeared in any American magazine.

CELEBRATED VIEWS, in this and other countries, will also be a leading feature in our work. For the January number we shall give a highly wrought view of the BRIDGE OF DOON, over which Tam O'Shanter fled in such hot haste from the kirk and the witches. This splendid steel plate will accompany the first of our Shakspeare beauties, and will make that number of our work a highly attractive one. No less so will be that for February. Nor shall there be any falling off in the style of embellishment, or in the character of the literary contents of the work. From the first, we have aimed at a gradual improvement. We do not issue one or two good numbers, and then, after our list of subscribers is filled up, fall off. But we endeavor to make every number better than the one that preceded it. Excellence, as we have before said, is our aim. But, besides our Shakspeare Gallery, our Gallery of Female Beauty, our Celebrated Views, we shall introduce, from time to time, other attractions, in the way of embellishments. In addition to the aforegoing, there is yet another feature, no less than from the pen of the Editor! which will be commenced in the January number, and continued until completed. This will be within the year, so that all who subscribe for the Magazine during 1845, will receive this new work. Those who have read "Bell Martin," "Fanny Dale," "Insubordination," "Six Nights with the Washingtonians," "Sweethearts and Wives," &c. &c. from the pen of Mr. Arthur, need not be told that this feature will be a leading one.

In addition to this, Mr. Arthur will also continue to furnish for its pages, his shorter stories, those pointed moral essays, told with so much skill, beauty, and power. The attractions of the Editor's own pen, will, in fact, form a feature of peculiar interest to our work, which no other magazine can possess. While to one or two other periodicals he furnishes a story occasionally, each number of his own magazine will contain many pages of his inimitable writings, and the whole work bear the impress of his pure taste, and sound judgment.

The style in which "Arthur's Magazine" is to be issued, will be as beautiful as clear new type, fine white paper, and a richly Illuminated Cover, (pronounced the chastest design that has yet appeared) and in regard to the quality of literary matter, style of embellishments, appearance, and mechanical execution, Arthur's Magazine will be unsurpassed by any other similar publication. This is not mere idle boast, and vain pretension. No one who has taken the work through the first and second volumes will so deem it.

SIZE OF THE WORK.—"Arthur's Magazine" will contain 48 pages of reading matter, the same quantity that is given by the three dollar Magazines, and give two Steel Engravings in each number, while the price is only $2.00 per annum, payable in advance.

☞ We would particularly call the attention of our friends, the Post Masters, to the above Prospectus, and also, suggest to all persons who intend taking our work, to do so as early as possible, in order to secure the January and February numbers, and thereby have their Shakspeare Gallery complete; and also, the New Noval by the Editor.
