In the name of God, Amen. I Absalom Ridgely of the City of Annapolis in the State of Maryland being sick and weak in body but of sound disposing mind memory and understanding, considering the certainty of death, and the uncertainty of the time thereof, and being desirous to settle my worldly affairs, and thereby be the better prepared to leave this world when it shall please God to call me hence, do therefore make and publish this my last Will and Testament in manner and form following that is to say. First and principally I commit my Soul unto the hands of almighty God, and my body to the earth to be decently buried at the discretion of my Executors hereinafter named, and after my just Debts and funeral charges are paid I devise and bequeath as follows. Item. I give devise and bequeath unto my dear Wife Ann Ridgely and her heirs the House in which we now live, with all the furniture and provisions which may be therein at the time of my decease, Also my horse and carriage and cow, also my servants during the period they may respectively have to serve; Also all that portion of the Garden attached to the House, which is included by running a line from the South East corner to the North East corner of the House now occupied by my Son John Ridgely and then with a straight line touching the West side of the large apple tree and then running to the bottom of the Garden. Item. I also give devise and bequeath to my said Wife Ann Ridgely during her life the Dividends which may accrue or become due on one hundred Shares of Stock standing in my name on the Books of the Farmers Bank of Maryland, And I also bequeath to my said Wife if she should survive me the sum of Six hundred Dollars, to be paid to her by my Executors hereafter
