To The Honorable,

The Board of Police Commissioners.

Gentlemen:-

I beg, respectfully, to forward, herewith, report of Captain Charles M. Cole, Southern District, together with a bill from Dr. Wyeth, ($13.), account of repair teeth of Patrolman J. Leo Knott who was struck in the mouth with a base-ball bat while quelling a riot at Locust Point, June 21st., 1912, during the Stevedore's strike.

In my judgment this injury was received while Patrolman Knott was in discharge of police duty and I would therefore respectfully recommend that Patrolman Knott be reimbursed in the amount paid Dr. Wyeth.

Very respectfully,

THOMAS F. FARNAN, Marshal.

Assault on Boy Witnessed by Congressman James M. Curley.

The Marshal submitted report, as follows:-

"Baltimore, Md., July 15th., 1912.

To, The Honorable,

The Board of Police Commissioners.

Gentlemen:-

Referring to the attached newspaper clipping in respect to Congressman James M. Curley witnessing an attack made by an officer of this department upon a boy while on Baltimore street.

I detailed Detective Oliphant to visit Washington for the purpose of obtaining a detailed statement from Congressman Curley but he was unable to see him in person, he being out of the city, nor would his Secretary make any statement. I then endeavored to obtain a statement from Congressman
