Has Five Wives and 42 Children.

In an interview recently President Joseph F. Smith, head of the Mormon Church spoke very freely of the position of the Morman Church on the question of poligamy and on other matters connected with the church. He said:

"I have five wives and five families, aggregating forty-two children, twenty-one sons and twenty-one daughters. I am living with one wife; my home is with her. I visit the others occasionally and support them and their children. I do not believe there is anyone in the whole country country who would have any regard for any man in my position who would cast his wives and children aside and not care for them.

"In 1890, at the time of President Woodruff's manifesto suspending plural marriages, there were 2451 polygamic families, members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in the United States. On May 1, 1901, it was ascertained that the original number had been reduced by 1564, or 63 per cent., leaving only 897, and that the great majority are of advanced age.

"The number of polygamists living in Utah on May 4, 1902, was 756. It is safe to estimate that this number has been reduced during the last year at least 5 per cent., so that now there should not exceed 718 men in Utah having plural wives.

"We have no desire to pose as martyrs. Some of our people have been hindered in the exercise of their convictions of what is right, but not in their sincere belief, which is free and cannot be infringed. The church submits to the law of the land, and this undoubtedly requires some individual sacrifises.

"We believe in plural marriages and believe they are in accord with a direct mandate from God, but the church has bowed to the law in good faith."

A Blessing, but not in Disguise.

Sometimes, so our preachers say, sorrow and adversity are blessings in disguise. Few people fully appreciate this, however. In sickness, whether blessing or not, we want the best medicine obtainable; and especially if baby is sick. Mrs. Emma Hocket, Newtonville, Ohio, writes: "For a long time we thought baby would not live, but on using your Victor Infants Relief we found it did more good than any other medicine we ever used. It proved quite a blessing." Your Merchant or Druggist sells it at 25 cents.

—The marriage of Edward Coffin and Miss Daisy M. Steele, two well-known young people of Henderson, which occurred about a year ago, has just been announced. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. S. Dulaney, in Wilmington, on April 1, 1902, and has been kept a secret by the young couple during that time. It was not suspected by their many friends, as the couple returned to the homes of their respective parents.

—Edward L. Gooden, of near Henderson, is the owner of a hen that has become something of a curiosity, because of the kind of eggs she lays. Recently an egg found in her nest, upon being opened was found to contained another perfectly formed egg. Her latest freak consists of two eggs joined together by a cord three-eighths of an inch in diameter and one inch long. They were both soft shells and of usual size.

Maryland Agricultural College.

The work and general condition of the Maryland Agricultural College for the past year has been examined and reported on by a committee appointed for that purpose, which has rendered the report given below.

In accordance with the instructions of the delegates assembled your committee begs to submit the following report and recommendations:

We find the work of the College progressing. The number of students has increased nearly thirty per cent. over last year. The past few years have shown a marked increase in the number taking the Mechanical, Agricultural and Scientific branches, and a steady decrease in the number taking the Classical Course, now but seven percent. of the enrollment; showing conclusively that the work of this Institution is more and more appreciated by the farmers of our State, and should be supported by them in a determined effort to secure additional appropriations from the State, as they may be needed. And, we should not hesitate to ask for what our interests require, and insist upon receiving it.

The appearance of the students, their carriage and general bearing, are a credit to their training.

The grounds and lands show a continued improvement, and remembering the original poverty of this soil, the results are remarkable.

We notice the commencement of the new dormitory and executive building partially provided for by least year's appropriation. This building cannot be finished without additional legislation.

Regarding the particular needs of the College, we think it wise to state that we believe, in a few years, the continued increase in the number of students will exceed the capacity of the buildings before they are completed. The fact is that the College and Experiment Station have at all times been hampered by the lack of funds at their disposal, every department suffers from this stinting. We believe they have not been curtailed purposely by the people of the State, but rather owing to the fact that so few realize the amount of work being done here, and the benefit that is derived by the agricultural interests and the State generally from this work.

The farmers are to be congratulated on the spirit of the faculty of the College and the officers of the Experiment Station, and also on the total absence of any political influence.

And further in the fact of added difficulties and embarrassments, they continue to obtain results in research which are national in reputation, and specific in benefits conferred to every man who tills a farm in the State of Maryland.

Mrs. Fred Unrath,
President Country Club, Benton Harbor, Mich.

"After my first baby was born I did not seem to regain my strength although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband insisted that I take Wine of Cardui for a week and see what it would do for me. I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength and health slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

Wine of Cardui reinforces the organs of generation for the ordeal of pregnancy and childbirth. It prevents miscarriage. No woman who takes Wine of Cardui need fear the coming of her child. If Mrs. Unrath had taken Wine of Cardui before her baby came she would not have been weakened as she was. Her rapid recovery should commend this great remedy to every expectant mother. Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow.
