DIAMOND STATE TELEPHONE,

Denton, Maryland.

THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 25, 1903.

A DEMOCRATIC paper condemns the President's journey and says he should remain in Washington and earn his salary. That editor's idea of a good time is original.

THE Baltimore Elks are making extensive preparations for the annual reunion of the order, which will take place in that city during the week beginning July 20th Many thousands of Elks from every section of the United States are expected to be present and the hotel men will have their hands full in providing for the throng.

MACHEN, the man who appears to be the head devil in the postoffice scandal in Washington, believes in looking out for his own For a long time he had been carrying his brother on the rolls of the Postoffice Department as "W. A. Clark, mechanic." It does not appear that "Mr. Clark" did any work in the department. All that was required of him was to be on hand when pay-day came around.

WHILE in Washington a few days ago Gen L. Victor Baughman, chairman of the Maryland Commissioners to the St. Louis Exposition, paid a visit to the Agricultural Department where he was informed that more wheat was grown in Maryland two years ago than was raised in the great wheat belt of South Dakota and that there is in Maryland a harvest of some important crop every month in the year.

THE election law passed at the extraordinary session of the Legislature in 1901, and the practice of debauching the electorate by the use of money in elections, will be the principal issues upon which the Republican party will wage it fight for control in the State in case Hon Stevenson A Williams, of Harford county, is nominated as its candidate for Governor. In addition to these two things, upon which vigorous assaults will be made, the voters will be asked to pass upon the relative merits of the administration of Governors Lowndes and Smith, Mr. Williams being a firm believer in the superior excellence of the former, and the willingness of the people to again entrust the party with power upon the record it made in handling the State questions in the years from 1896 to 1900.

THE rapid improvements in our town are noted by every visitor and the place is attracting the attention of strangers in a manner never before known. With all these improvements there is still something lacking. We need a display of public spirit that will attract manufacturers. The town is growing and the people here may be able to find sufficient employment at the present time, but when the building boom begins to wane there must be other sources of employment or we shall come to a stand. The outlook for the balance of the year is excellent. Every workman is employed and in a short time the canneries will open and the usual force of women and girls will be employed. These sources of employment, however, are only periodical, we need something to last from year to year. There is not a single industry in the town but pays a good revenue, and there is no reason why others should not do the same. Let some of our capitalists start something.

DELAWARE has had a lynching, the first since the war. An armed guard and steel doors did not deter the mob in their determination to wreak vengeance upon the wretch whom they sought. The deed was approved by thousands of people, who, by their presence showed that they were in sympathy with the mob. The death meted out was as horrible as could be conceived, the victim being burned alive at the stake. The crime was the most horrible of recent history, and the victim made a full confession. The court had refused to take immediate action and is held to be largely responsible for the disgrace which always follows such unlawful outbreaks. While there was many extenuating circumstances, Delaware cannot escape the censure of all people of sober thought who favor upholding the law and discountenance mob violence. While there is the conviction that the wretch was guilty and deserved swift and severe punishment, there is an element of danger in mob violence which is unsafe in any community, and the country at large will not make an exception of this case.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Special Correspondence.
WASHINGTON, D. C., JUNE 22, 1903.

Washington correspondents are engaged in making slates of the committee chairmen, which of course Uncle Joe Cannon will be compelled to recognize—if he feels like it.

Six weeks more of Post Office investigation is the outlook. In the meantime there is absolutely no predicting what facts may be unearthed or who may be implicated. That some persons of high standing will be, is known. It is stated that the Government has presented thus far fully fifty cases to the Grand Jury and that among them are names that will cause no little surprise if indictments are found.

The President's attitude in the postal investigation is rigid. He has said that he wants every minor irregularity uncovered but does not wish such matters taken up to the prejudice of work on "criminals" in and out of office. The President has not concerned himself with the political effect of the disclosure. Assistant Secretary Bristow is responsible for the statement that when the Post Office officials get through with the investigation there will be nothing for Congress or anybody else to uncover and also that the political effect of the scandal is something that has not been in the least considered.

The Commissioner General of Immigration, F. P. Sargent, who has been in Hawaii investigating the labor question, says that the planters in the island have made experiments with Portuguese, Porto Ricans and negroes, but all have proved unsatisfactory, and that the native labor is almost useless. The only solution seems to lie in the "heathen Chinee," but the Chinese are now excluded from the island. Unless Congress makes some modification of the exclusion act with reference to Hawaii, the planters assert that instead of bettering their condition by annexation they have been crippled in their industries.

The National Capital proposes to have a "rational" Fourth of July celebration. A patriotic programme is being mapped out and a campaign of education promulgated which will substitute for the boisterous, noisy and hideous Fourth, an observance or celebration of the day which will inspire the people to a closer study of our history and a better knowledge of the work and sacrifice of the men who founded the Republic. It is not hoped to change the desires of the small boy from gun-powder explosions to patriotic reflection in a single year or even two or three years, but the innovation is along the right lines. The programme will include a parade of all the government troops stationed near Washington and the entire National Guard; also a series of patriotic addresses in the White House grounds by national characters. Aerial fire works, which can be seen from all parts of the city will complete the programme after dark.

There is an interesting controversy between the State and National authorities in Virginia. The Trig Ship Company, at Richmond, is in the hands of a receiver who has essayed to prevent the launching of the United States Gunboat Galveston, and has gotten an injunction from the Richmond Court to that effect. The opinion of the Attorney General at Washington, however, states that the Government has the right to take the vessel and can enforce that right. The Government is not disposed to act harshly and has no objection to the creditors of the Trig Company proceeding in the courts, but it takes the position that work on a war ship is too important to the Nation to be delayed while private firms are adjusting their financial difficulties. When the Galveston is launched a gunboat will probably be sent to accompany her to Norfolk although not the slightest trouble is anticipated by the Department.

Liquor Mandamus Case in Court.

As a step toward getting to an issue the mandamus case of the liquor dealers against the county commissioners of Wicomico county to compel them to grant licenses to sell liquor, the court on Thursday last, heard counsel on the exceptions filed by Alonzo L. Miles to the answer of the commissioners resisting the mandamus.

The commissioners' answer claimed that they had exercised the discretion given them by law in refusing the applications for licenses. Counsel for the liquor dealers insisted that the commissioners had refused the licenses asked for because they had decided as a matter of policy to grant licenses to no one to sell liquor in the town of Salisbury.

Judges Page, Holland and Lloyd were on the bench, and the argument of Mr. Miles for the liquor dealers and Messrs. Ellegood, Walton and Bailey for the commissioners lasted all day. At its conclusion Judge Page, speaking for the court, said that without in any way intimating what the final decision in the case would be, the court had decided that if the commissioners submitted to answer the allegations as to their having decided to grant no licenses as a matter of policy they could not plead the discretion given them in the law, but must state to the court just what they had done in order that the court may determine from the pleadings and the facts which may be brought before it whether they had attempted legislative powers or not in refusing the licenses asked for. The court then laid a rule on the commissioners requiring them to answer further in five days.

The result of this legal battle, while not in any way determining the final outcome of the case, points strongly toward an ultimate decision in favor of the liquor dealers. It was an open and acknowledged fact that the commissioners did, when passing upon the applications, refuse to grant them because they determined to grant no more licenses for Salisbury.

Rheumacide

Is a new and scientific compound made from roots, herbs and barks—contains neither opiates nor poisons. It purifies the blood and removes the causes of rheumatism and all blood diseases. Anyone can take RHEUMACIDE with absolute safety. Does not injure the digestive organs.

TWO CURES.

FLORENCE, S. C., Aug. 16, 1902.
Gentlemen:—I began to suffer from rheumatism about three years ago, and had it very bad in my limbs. At times I could hardly walk. Was treated by a physician without benefit. More than a year ago, Mr. George Wilson, an engineer on the Coast Line, living in Florence, told me that "RHEUMACIDE" cured him. I got a bottle and it benefited me. I took five bottles and am now as well as I ever was in my life. I regard "RHEUMACIDE" as a great medicine. I know of others it has cured.
Truly,
S. T. BURCH.

DARLINGTON, S. C., Aug. 19th, 1902.
Gentlemen:—About two years ago I had a very severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I suffered great pain and was confined to my bed for five weeks. During the time I was treated by two Physicians without permanent relief. Capt. Harker, a conductor on the Atlantic Coast Line heard of my condition and sent me two bottles of "RHEUMACIDE." I began to take it and in a week I got up and walked on crutches. After taking three bottles of the remedy I got entirely well and went back to my business.
I personally know of a number of other bad cases that were cured by the use of your medicine, in this town and vicinity. It is all that you claim for it.
Truly, J. L. SESKRON.

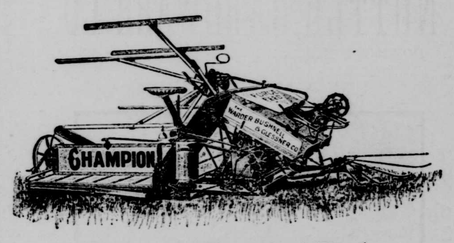
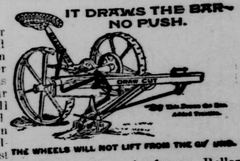
HARVESTING MACHINERY!

Our new building is completed and we now have over 7,000 square feet of floor space, all occupied with everything for the farmer.

A CARLOAD OF CHAMPION HARVESTING MACHINES



THE DRAW CUT PRINCIPLE



Gives the Champion the cutting power and durability of the rear cut, combined with the convenience of the modern front-cut mower. It is safer than other front cut mowers, because the bar is pulled, not pushed, and when the bar strikes an obstruction the wheels will not lift, but stick closer to the ground This principle gives increased traction in difficult cutting where power needed, and makes the Champion the most powerful cutter of all front-cut mowers. Substantial main frame. Roller bearings on main axle. Ball bearing on bevel gear shaft. Three pawls in each master wheel, insuring that the knife will begin moving the instant the wheels start forward.

Champion Force-feed Binder.

The great force-feed principle is the most pronounced improvement and success in harvesting machines that has been made in 20 years. It has been still further improved by the addition of an extra roller at the top of the lower elevator On the old style of elevator that is still used on all other machines, a great deal of grain is wasted between the binder table and the upper end of the lower elevator canvas With our new principle of the force feed elevator we guarantee that this difficulty is entirely overcome. The third roller in the upper elevator permits the lower ply of the canvas to deflect upwards, changing the direction of the grain, and, aided by the extra roller at the top of the lower elevator, forces the grain positively to the binder.

LARGE STOCK OF BINDER TWINE AT LOWEST PRICES.

New Champion Lock Lever Hay Rake.

ALL STEEL HAND AND SELF-DUMP HAY RAKES.

We haven't room to tell you about the many features of this rake, but simply ask you to come and see them and thus be your own judge. They are world beaters, that's all.

GRADUAL DECLINE

This is the fate of sufferers from Kidney trouble, as the disease is so insiduous that often people have serious Kidney trouble without knowing the real cause of their illness, as diseased kidneys allow the impurities to stay in the system and attack the other organs. This accounts for the many different symptoms of Kidney Disease.

You begin to feel better at once when taking as it stimulates the heart, increases the circulation and invigorates the whole system. It strengthens the urinary organs and gives you new life and vigor.

TWO SIZES 50c and $1.00

Chicago Business Man Cured

Foley & Co., Chicago, Gentlemen:—About a year ago my health began to fail, I lost flesh and never felt well. The doctor thought I had stomach and liver trouble, but I became convinced that my kidneys were the cause of my ill health and commenced taking FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE. It increased my appetite and made me feel stronger, and the annoying symptoms disappeared. I am now sound and well.—J. K. Horn, 1354 Diversey Blvd., Chicago. June 11, 1902.

Cured His Wife

E. C. Watkins, sexton of the Methodist Church, Springfield, Pa., writes: "My wife has been very bad with kidney trouble and tried several doctors without benefit. After taking one bottle of FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE was much better, and was completely cured after taking four bottles."

One Bottle Cured Him

A. H. Davis, Mt. Sterling, Ia., writes: "I was troubled with kidney complaint for about two years, but a one-dollar bottle of FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE effected a permanent cure."
