in order to prevent any thing of that nature for the future. Mr Lindenberger is the magistrate before whom the mob brought them, not without stuffing that officer and abusing him with the most insulting names litter to him or the nation he belongs to. I can assure your Excelency that that Gentleman who left the french service for that of this country allways bore an Excelent character and is generally esteemed as well for the mildness of his manners as for his military bravery.

I am with the greatest respect

Sir
