THANKSGIVING.

The season of Thanksgiving is again at hand and we wish the readers of THE UNION a most enjoyable occason. The preparation of good things has been going on for several days in the homes, and for all these bounties, as well as health and general prosperity, it is our duty to give thanks to the giver of all good. If there should be those so unfortunate as to be deprived of many of these blessings remember the joy of giving. The pleasure of the day will be wonderfully increased and pleasant incidents will be recalled with pleasure in after years.

As a people no Nation has greater cause for thankfulness. Our happiness and prosperity are the wonder of the world. The cause of Christianity is steadily advancing, and no Nation is progressing more rapidly than we in the arts and sciences. The reasons for Thanksgiving are on every hand, let us not overlook them.

A MAN named John W. Pettit was for several years carried on the rolls of the Baltimore Postoffice without performing any work and in that time drew as salary $5,400. The work of postoffice inspectors brought this state of affairs to light and the Postmaster General has ordered Postmaster Warfield to refund that sum to the Government. A dispatch from Washington says: "Whatever the feeling may be regarding the loss that falls upon Mr. Warfield, there is no possibility of the department changing its decision. The conclusion was reached after mature consideration, and Mr. Warfield's explanation was not satisfactory. Whether Mr. Pettit was forced upon him or not has no relation to the case in its present form. The responsibility has been placed upon him, and the statement was made that Mr. Warfield failed to register any objection to Mr. Pettit, not only to the present administration, but also to the one that preceded it."

SENATOR HANNA, chairman of the Republican National Committee, has issued a call in which he says: "The members of the Republican National Committee are hereby called to meet at the Arlington Hotel, in the city of Washington, D. C., at 12 o'clock noon, Friday, December 11th. It is expected that the session will continue Saturday, December 12th, the business before the committee being to decide the time and place of holding the next Republican National Covention and to transact such other business as may properly come before the meeting."

GORMAN SMILES AND WAITS.

From Collier's Weekly.

Some people say Senator Arthur Pue Gorman, of Maryland, looks like an actor—and he does. Some poeple say he is an actor—and perhaps, he is. Nevertheless, he is the strongest individual force on the Democratic side of the United States Senate, and the man to whom the Democrats look to organize an intelligent opposition to President Roosevelt.

A half hour's conversation with him is a liberal education in suavity and adroitness. "Smooth" describes him. He has an expansive, genial, almost affectionate, smile for allcomers. He shakes hands with a fervor that sends thrills up one's arm, that seems to radicate the electrity of "I am glad to see you." Then he finds out all one knows and tells nothing he knows and sends one away filled with the joy of living.

His face is clean-shaven, finely molded, and ruddy with health. His powerful nose stands out between two twinkling eyes. He smiles with his whole face. His voice is soft and low. His clothes fit his wellfilled figure perfectly. He never seems in a hurry. He always harmonizes with his surroundings. He stage-manages himself admirably.

He has seen much service in the Senate, where he was once a page. He learned his politices in Maryland, where politics is an art. He knows how the great legislative machine of the Government runs, understands every cog, eccentric, and lever. He was a leader there when the Republican landslide retired him six years ago, and he will be the leader there now that he has returned, despite the efforts of Bailey and some of the younger Democrats to displace him.

Gorman's great strength lies in the fact that he knows and can execute. He is a strategist. He unnderstands the value of compromise. He can use the battle axe if necessary, but he is most expert with the flag of truce and the conference. He has been criticised harshly for his stand on many public questions, notably his protectionist ideas, but he has calmly gone along and maintained both his poise and his command.

His resent speech attacking President Roosevelt for his attitude on the race question shows how the wind is blowing. That was a bid for the votes of the South in the next Democratic National Convention. He will make similar attacks in the Senate. His purpose is to discredit the President as much as possible and to draw public attention to himself, which he will do. He will take active charge of the messed and manacled Democracy in the Senate, and will make a good fighting machine out of it to assist in his selection to oppose Mr. Roosevelt next year. If he wins, he will be the last man to get excited about it. If he loses, his smile will not fade.

IS EXPECTED TO PASS LEGISLATURE

Governor is Favorable to a New System of Road Building.

The Baltimore American on last Thursday printed a digest of the new State road law which will be presented to the legislature as soon as the routine work of organizing that body is disposed of. The bill was prepared by a committee, appointed at a meeting of the State Granger interests held at the Carrolton Hotel in August.

A quiet canvas of the members of the new Legislature has been made, and it is certain that a good roads bill will be passed without any serious objection. Its sponsors do not anticipate any opposition when the bill is introduced, and Governor Warfield has announced that he favors a new system of road-building, so that it is pretty sure to receive the approval of the new Governor and become a law early in the session.

The bill, which has the approval of the farmers, is described as an act for the improvement of the public highways of the State and to require the State Geological and Economic Survey to perform certain additional duties. All net revenues which may hereafter be derived from the sale, lease or other disposition of the oyster grounds of the State shall be applied to reduce the amount appropriated, but nothing is to be interprited as restricting the amount which may become available for highway construction for the sale, lease or other disposition of the oyster grounds.

The proposed bill provides that whenever any board of county commissioners shall have declared their intention to cause any particular road or section thereof to be built or improved under provisions of this act, such board shall notify the State Geological and Economic Survey, through its superintendent, in writing, on or before the first day of March in each year, and shall request of said survey, plans and specifications and an estimate of the cost of the proper performance of the work according to these plans and specifications; and whenever there shall be presented to the board of County Commissioners of any county, a petition signed by the owners of at least two-thirds of the lands and real estate fronting or bordering on any public road or section of road in such county, not being less than one mile in length, or the continuation of a road already properly improved, and setting forth that they are willing to be assessed an amount equal to 10 per cent. of the entire cost of the improvement, it shall be the duty of the Board of County Commissioners, if they decide to make any application under this act, to include such road in their request to the State Geological and economic Survey, as hereinbefore set forth, and the said 10 per cent. of the cost shall be assessed on and collected from the petitioners as any other county taxes are.

If the survey decides that the said road will be an improvement, and if a sufficient amount is appropriated, the survey shall have made the necessary surveys and shall cause to be drawn up the plans and specifications for the work. Upon the order of the survey the Board of County Commissioners so requesting plans and specifications shall pay the cost of surveying, mapping, etc., out of the county funds, provided the expense is not greater than $50 per mile.

Sealed bids for such work will be received up to a certain date, the board reserving the right to reject all bids. When the work has been completed in any instance the survey shall report the same to the comptroller, who shall pay to the Board of County Commissioners one-half of the total cost.

Any road constructed in this manner will forever thereafter be a county road, and the duty of keeping it in repair will devolve upon the county.

Uniformed Officials

An order has issued by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company that after January 1st next, all ticket agents and station agents shall wear a regulation uniform, consisting of blue cap, coat and trousers. A special from Norwood, Pa., says: "It is becoming a question for public speculation in Norwood, whether Miss Fannie Miller, the only woman station agent on the line of the P. B. & W. railroad, will don the apparel named in the circular or send in her resignation to the company, or as another alternative whether the Pennsy will overlook a violation of the rules and allow its only woman ticket agent to remain in her position if she does not wear the uniform."

Rheumacide

Continues to make Miraculous Cures

READ THIS LETTER:
ALMOST A MIRACLE.

DILLON, S. C., Aug. 18th, 1902.

Gentlemen:—In September, 1899, I took rheumatism in a very bad form. In a month after the disease started I had to give up my work and go to bed. It continued to grow worse until my arms and hands were badly drawn, so much so that I could not use them. My legs were drawn back until my feet touched my hips. I was as helpless as a baby for nearly twelve months. The muscles of my arms and legs were hard and shriveled up. I suffered death many times over. Was treated by six different physicians in McColl, Dillon and Marion, but none of them could do me any good, until Dr. J. P. Ewing, of Dillon, came to see me. He told me to try your "RHEUMACIDE." He gave me one bottle of the medicine and I began to take it and before the first bottle was used up I began to get better. I used five and a half bottles and was completely cured. That was two years ago, and my health has been excellent ever since. Have had no symptoms of rheumatism. I regard "RHEUMACIDE" as by far the best remedy for rheumatism on the market. I cannot say too much for it. I have recommended it to others since and it has cured them.

Will say further, that I began to walk in about six days after I began to take "RHEUMACIDE," with the aid of crutches; in about three months after I began to take it, I could walk as good as anybody, and went back to work again.

Very truly, JAMES WILKES.
