Georgetown school boys have formed the first basket ball team ever known in Sussex county.

Milton has opened a new post office and Joshua B. Gray, one of the new rural mail carriers, will use a new automobile in carrying his mail.

Vocal instruction will be introduced into the Georgetown High School, one of the present teachers having volunteered to take charge of the work.

Mrs. Mary B. Lane has presented to the Methodist Church of New Castle, a family bible which has been in the Lane family for 83 years, in memory of her son who died last Christmas in St. Louis.

While the season for shooting rabbits, quail and woodcock does open for a month yet the wild duck season along the coast has opened and sportsmen report fine shooting along the inlets of the bays.

Property in West Seaford has nearly doubled in value in the last year. Lots which were sold last year for $500 cannot be bought today for less than $800. New sewers have been built and a cement pavement laid the entire length of Pennsylvania avenue.

Contractor Coffin, of Dover, had a narrow escape a few days ago when a workman in the second story of a building dropped a sharp chisel which missed his head by only a very narrow margin. The sharp instrument passed through the middle finger of Mr. Coffin's left hand.

The members of Kenton M. E. Church have just completed a number of improvements to their church. The entire church has been repainted inside and out, the ceiling repapered and the benches and other woodwork grained; the auditorium newly carpeted, new choir chairs added, and a new acettal at Salisbury.

The Milford Fire Department has secured the services of an expert fireman of the New York City Department to drill the members of its company in fire fighting. The instructor is confident that in a short time he will have one of the short time he will have one of the best sets of fire fighters in the State, outside of Wilmington.

Roland Stockley, the youth who is charged with having murderously assaulted farmer James Thomas Williams at a church festival near Laurel, two weeks ago, has recovered sufficiently from his wounds to permit of his removal to the to permit o fhis removal to the Sussex county jail. Williams is hovering between life and death in the Peninsula General Hospital, at Salisbury.

The shortest case ever presented in a Sussex county court was given by Caleb Bird, who was ontrial for illegally selling whiskey. Bird conducted his own trial, and when he took the stand in his own behalf summed up his defense in in this one sentence: "I never sold no whiskey" and then sat down. The jury evidently was not impressed with the briefness of his defense, for they found him guilty and the court sentenced him to five months in the workhouse and fined him $150.

Arnold Dorman, a colored youth of Seaford is in a critical condition at the Delaware Hospital as a result of being run over by a train at Seaford last Thursday afternoon. The train, when it passed over the boy's body badly mangled both of his legs at the knees. Dorman stepped from one train directly in front of another coming in an opposite direction. Before he could be warned of his danger the pilot of the engine struck him and knocked him down. He fell on the outside of the track but his legs protruded over the track and were caught under the wheels.

BIG AVIATION MEET IN BALTIMORE CITY

Many Caroline Countains Expected to Enjoy This Unique Spectacle.

Between a temping array of prizes, a large entry list of the most famous fliers of the world and practically perfect arrangements, the avaition meet to be held in Baltimore, November 2 to 8 inclusive, promises to be one of the greatest affairs of its kind ever seen in this country, and second in importance only to the international event at Belmont Park this month. From that meet all the great fliers come directly to Baltimore and a large portion of the throng of spectators also is expected in that city.

So far the schedules for appearance are Glenn H. Curtiss, the international champion, and his corps; the Wright Bros. and their associates; Huburt Latham and the two Counts de Lesseps (Aubrun and Simon); the English team in which is included Bradley, the holder of the world's speed record, and a dozen others of almost equal note. Efforts will be made to secure the presence of Monsieur Garros with his "Demoiselle flier," the smallest machine in existence. This machine also is known as the "humming bird," and weight only 250 pounds.

The course, which was selected by Curtiss and approved by other experts, has been pronounced the finest of its kind in the country, while it is also convenient and easily accessible. The track will be one mile in circumference and 350 feet wide, while hangers and other structures will be provided for the aviators and grandstand and bleechers, with retiring tents and other conveniences for the spectators.

Especially notable will be two innovations in the form of reduced prices and seats for the general admission crowds. Instead of the almost prohibitive prices at other meets, the scale will read: General Admission, $1; with reserved seat in grand stand, $1.50; with seat in second tier box, $2; with seat in first box, $2.50. A "royal" box will be reserved for President Taft and other notables who have signified their intention to be present.

The list of prizes so far announced is as follows: Lord Baltimore prize, $10,000; speed, $5,000; altitude, $5,000; best duration of flight, $3,500; longest distance flown, $3,400; slowest flight, $1,500; best getaway, $200; accuracy, $500; bomb throwing, $3.500. Besides there will be handsome trophies for amateurs, while J. Barry Ryan has offered a magnificent cup to be known as the Commodore Barry Cup, for bomb throwing, this to be open only to members of the Aeronautic Reserve and foreigners.

In anticipation of enormous crowds the railroads and steamboat compapanes are arranging special rates and special trains, and excursions from all sections the East, and also are enlarging their trackage and other facilities at the course.

A large majority of the visitors at the Pimlico race meet also are expected to remain over for the aviation meet.

THE CALL OF THE BLOOD.

for purification finds voice in pimples, boils, sallow complexion, a jaundiced look moth paethes and blotches on the skin—all signs of liver troubles. But Dr. King's New Life Pills make rich red blood; give clear skin rosy cheeks, fine complexion, health. Try them. 25c at all druggists.

Died From Horse's Kick.

Dewey Alexander, eldest son of George Alexander, a farmer living at Wright's Cross Roads, between Hartley and Templeville, died the night of October 8, it was stated, from the kick of a horse. Some neighbors, however, feared that it might have been from other means than an animal's kick.

The case was of an ugly nature, but nothing incriminating was found, and the coroner's jury rendered a verdict that young Alexander came to his death from a horse's kick.

The facts showed that, although injury was inflicted nearly a week ago, no medical aid was called, the reason being given that the boy wanted none and was walking around, although his skull was fractured and the brain exposed.

Report of the Tri-State Packers Shows Marked Falling Off.

Local operators in the New York market have had time to digest the report of the Tri-State Packers' Association covering the 1910 pack of tomatoes in Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey. This report was received in the trade as early as Wednesday, and was given as 62½ per cent. of the total output for the three States mentioned last season. These figures were given officially by the National Canners' Association and are 4,609,000 cases for Maryland, 1,236,000 cases for Delaware and 944000 cases for New Jersey—a total of 6,789,000 cases. Figured out on these reports of the pack the output for the three States this year is figured as 4,220,008 cases, or 2,569,000 cases less than last year. In this connection one of the best posted canned goods operators in the market said:

"The prospects seems to favor a higher market with the opening up of business on a larger scale. A good many contracts, however, will have to be patched up berore jobbers will take hold of stock in excess of actual wants. Packers have been slow in making deliveries on their contracts made at low prices. The fact of the matter is the packers are at fault in this matter, and the trouble that has been caused is not going to make it any easier for the market later on. Based on the prospective output, as indicated by the report of the Tri-State people, I do not believe the total pack of the country will be in excess of 8,700,000 cases. The total pack for the entire country last year was 10,984,000 cases. The prospective supply is not equal to the actual consumption for a year."—New York Commercial.

Kinder, Davis, Noble Reunion.

A notable gathering was held at Old Bethel Church, near Federalsburg, Md., on Wednesday of last week, when over 500 persons, descendents of Joshua Kinder, Edward Davis and Mark Noble, assembled in a quintennial reunion at the historic building.

The exercises comprised a dinner in the grove and services in the church. Addresses were made by Rev. W. W. Sharp, pastor of the circuit, and Rev. E. H. Dashields, of Federalsburg. Miss Maggie Wilson, of Seaford, historian for the Kinders, read an account of the family happenings during the five years since the last reunion, and Charles Davis, of Federalsburg, followed with a history of the Davises for the same period. A similar narative of the Nobles was presented by Isaac Warren, of Seaford.

The Kinders are the most numerous family represented in the gathering, while the Davises are the fewest, but number among them nearly half a score of persons who have reached the octogenarian period and now living in and near Federalsburg.

This reunion gathering was instituted in 1885 by descendants of the three patriarchs who founded and were the first trustees of Old Bethel Church. The gatherings until 1905 were held decennially; at that meeting it was decided to shorten the interval from ten to five years, and last week's reunion was the first to be held in accordance with the new schedule.

Old Bethel Church dates from about 1760, when Joshua Kinder was married at Milford and with his bride made the journey on horseback to Dorchester county, Md., where he took up a large tract of land and settled. Edward Davis and Mark Noble, former neighbors, followed Kinder and took up homesteads adjacent, which was practically the beginning of agriculture in Dorchester county.

These sturdy settlers, feeling the need of a place of worship, founded Old Bethel Church and with the aid of other settlers erected a building which stood, with some repairs and improvements, until 1890, when the present structure was erected on the old site.

Neighborhood courtesy is one of a town's best assets. It is the best land cheapest kind of advertising. For a community, like a business establishment, is best advertised by its loving friends. If as a town we cannot import any manufacturing industries, let us try to cultivate a little neighborly sociability. It might help us more than we think.

Samuel S. Yarrington, aged 20 years, of Wilmington, has invented an aeroplane that is planned to rise from the earth by the action of a fan wheel that will not only form a vacuum, but will prevent the machine from overturning while in the air. T. Coleman du Pont, president of the duPont Powder Company, who is now in Europe for his health, encouraged Yarrington several months ago. He saw the boy's plans and after examining them stated that he was prepared to furnish from $2000 to $4600 to make the venture a success

About 4 o'clock on last Thursday afternoon, Oscar Savage, a negro who had been loafing around the town for some time, entered the pool room of Mat Floyd, in Laurel, and presenting a revolver ordered Floyd to hand over his cash, which order Floyd tremblingly obeyed. The robber then backed out of a side door keeping Floyd and his companions covered with his gun. As soon as he disappeared Floyd ran out of the front door and saw his unwelcome visitor disappearing around the corner of the street toward the river. Floyd at once notified the police, but no trace of the culprit could be found.

The survivors of the First Delaware Regiment, Infantry, held a reunion in Dover on Tuesday.

One of the most remarkable old ladies in Delaware is Mrs. Elizabeth Jester, of Milford Neck, who who a few days ago celebreted her 92d birthday anniversary at the home of her daughter Mrs. Mary Powell, where she has been making her home for some years. She still retains her health and strength, never had to use glasses and sews and knits as well as she did fifty years ago. Mrs. Jester is the mother of 12 children, all of whom are living but one; she has 40 grandchildren and 30 great-grandchildren, nearly all of whom reside near her.

Diphtheria has broken out in the Terrapin Hill neighborhood near Laurel, Del., and has caused general consternation among the residents. Terrapin Hill is a fine farming neighborhood, and it is feared the whole community has been innoculated. The dreaded malady started in the home of Stanford Lecates, a well-to-do farmer and brick manufacturer. The wife of Mr. Lecates was the first to be stricken. A few days later a nearly grown boy contracted the disease, then a grown son, Granville the teacher of a school near Trinity church, became a victim. Granville Lecates taught his school during the day and attended an apple cutting party in the neighborhood the night he was taken sick.

Hint For Denton Business Men.

WELLMAN'S BIG BALLOON STARTS FOR EUROPE

The airship America, which had been preparing for a flight across the Atlantic Ocean under the supervision of Walter Wellman, was taken out of the huge hangar in which it had been housed for months on Saturday morning. The delicate operation of removing the 228-foot long gas bag was performed without mishap. At 8.01 o'clock the great cigar-shaped balloon went up in the air and started seaward. In two minutes, in the dense fog which prevailed, it had disappeared. The heroes of the air waved their goodbye and climbed into the car of the immense gas bag and floated of in the dense fog that enveloped the island.

The trip was scheduled as a mere trial, but the grim statement of Chief Engineer Melvin Vaniman, "we won't come back until we have had a try at Europe," is believed to mean that the men will not return unless some accident befalls the ship or the crew is forced by adverse winds to come back.

When the big airship left the ground Mr. Wellman did not know whether only a test would be made or whether the trip to Europe would be started at once. It depended upon how he found things when he got into the air, he said. When he left it was his intention to go North, following the New Jersey coast as far as New York. If he found that the airship was working to his satisfaction and the conditions remained right, he intended following the route of steamers up to Nantucket and next turn Eastward and follow the tracks of the transatlantic steamers across the ocean. He expected to make every effort to keep in the steamship tracks, so that in case he met with accident he would be close to steamers with wireless, with which the airship also is equipped, and could be quickly rescued if the crew was compelled to take to the lifeboat attached to the America.

There are six men on board the airship, and they have provisions, mostly of the canned variety, sufficient to last a month. The only means of cooking is a small oil stove, but this, Mr. Wellman said, will do all the cooking they require. Each man is provided with two uniforms, the one made of khaki he wore when the airship started and a much heavier suit for use in case extraordinarily cold weather is encountered.

When the airship had sailed 400 feet from the shore it disappeared in the fog. It is estimated that the two engines were pushing the balloon through the air at the rate of 26 miles an hour. With Europe 3,000 miles away, it can readily be calculated how long it will take to reach the other side of the Atlantic Ocean.

A GENEROUS AND CHARITABLE WISH.

Raid Milford Speakeasies.

A wholesale raid was made on the North Milford speakeasies by Officer Latchum and Deputy Sheriff Thomas Kirby on Friday night.

About 12 o'clock the officers started out after all the agents had got in their supply for Saturday's sale, which as a rule are very large. Most of those arrested were the gang known as the "Milford Moonshine Whisky Trust," who make most of their vile stuff from common whisky and drugs.

In the dragnet there were 15 both white and colored, male and female, all agents of the "moonshiners." One of the most important was the wife of Daniel Ennis, who was discharged from Dover jail on the 19th of last month after serving five months for running a wholesale place as a speakeasy, and from whom all the runners obtained their supplies. They were all committed to Dover jail in default of bail.

A GOOD POSITION

can be had by ambitious young men or ladies in the field of "wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official Institutes in America, under supervision of R. R., and Wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., or Philadelphia, Pa.

DOVER'S BIG CARNIVAL.

Dover's big carnival, preparations for which have been in progress for some time, began yesterday, October 19, and will continue three interesting days. The U. S. Artilery Band of Fort DuPont led the parade, the largest ever attempted at the State capital. The band will also give concerts at the aviation field during the performances of the Strobel airships and the flying of Captain Jack Dallas. This fine musical organization will again be heard in concert in the evening on the plaza in front of the Hotel Richardson. Under the direction of Governor Pennewill, Secretary of State Smithers and State Librarian H. Ridgely Harrington, the property of the State, the old and new State capital buildings, were beautifully decorated for the big functional occasion. On the lofty cupola is erected what is probably the tallest flag staff in the State. Kent county Court House and the county's public buildings were decorated under the direction of Levycourtman Benjamin Donoho, who is a decorator of ability. Other public buildings, the old and the temporary new station of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Diamond State (Bell) Telephone Building, Senator Richardson's Priscilla Block, the Delaware Produce Exchange, U. S. Federal Building, the Dover Opera House and the Peoples Church and other large buildings were lavishly decorated. Decorators from New York had been wiring for the privilege of coming with their own designs and some of the prize-winning emblems at the Hudson-Fulton celebration. The Board of Trade's carnival committee has offered prizes of cash and special gifts amounting to nearly $200 for the best decorated houses, floats, automobiles and for the mummers and degree teams of lodges. An effort was made to get the Philadelphia mummers' societies and clubs to be represented in line and to get some of Wilmington's crack degree teams of lodges and uniform rank lodges to march in the parade. Two Dover Bands, the Greensboro Band, the Delaware College Cadet Band and the Lewes Boys' Band are being arranged for by the committee and there will be plenty of music with the side shows. The Scotch Lassie Band is one of the attractions with the Subley Street Shows with which the committee has been in correspondence.

Murder in Dover.

Another murder was added to the list of crimes becoming all too common among Dover's colored population, on Wednesday night of last week. After a quarrel on the street between John Curry and his common law wife, Hattie Reese, the latter went to her home on New Street, and procuring an old shot gun, which was heavily loaded, proceeded on a hunt for Curry.

She found him on Loockerman Street just below the Rink, and, it is said, without a word of warning to her victim shot him down in cold blood, the load from the gun tearing away nearly half of his head and killing him instantly.

At the time the street was crowded with persons who had been following Robbins' Circus paraphernalia to the depot, and there was intense excitement. The dead man lay on the pavement a ghastly sight for over an hour, until Special Officer Murphy gathered up the mangled corpse and removed it to the morgue.

After firing the fatal shot the woman threw the gun into the street and disappeared. After disposing of the corpse Officer Murphy went in search of her and found her hiding behind a tree on New Street and placed her under arrest.

She admitted the shooting, it is stated, but claimed in defense that Curry had beaten her early in the evening, and had threatened to beat her again.

The coroner held an inquest on the body Thursday morning and the jury returned a verdict of willful murder against the woman, who was later given a hearing and committed to jail for court.

"IT BEATS ALL"

This is quoted from a letter of M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo. "I recently used Foley's Honey and Tar for the first time. To say I am pleased does not half express my feelings. It beats alithe remedies I ever used. I contrtaced a bad cold and was threatened with pneumonia. The first dose gave great relief and one bottle completely cured me." Contains no opiates. Sold by C. How To Cure Rheumatism.

The cause of Rheumatism and kindred diseases is an excess of uric acid in the blood. To cure this terrible disease this acid must be expelled and the system so regulated that no more acid will be formed in excessive quantities. Rheumatism is an internal disease and requires an internal remedy. Rubbing with Oils and Liniments will not cure, affords only temporary relief at best, causes you to delay the proper treatment, and allows the malady to get a firmer hold on you. Liniments may ease the pain, but they will no more cure Rheumatism than paint will change the fibre of rotten wood.
Science has at last discovered a perfect and complete cure, which is called "Rheumacide." Tested in hundreds of cases, it has effected the most marvelous cures; we believe it will cure you. Rheumacide "gets at the joints from the inside" sweeps the poisons out of the system, tones up the stomach, regulates the liver and kidneys, and makes you well all over. Rheumacide "strikes the roots of the disease and removes its cause." This splendid remedy is sold by druggists and dealers generally at 50c and $1.00 a bottle. In tablet form at 25c and 50c a package. Trial bottle of tablets sent by mail on receipt of price 25c. Booklet free. Write to Bobbitt Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md.
