During the last week the weather was rather cool, which was very noticeable after the very hot weather of the week before. Temperatures this week have been comfortable. With the fall in temperature we also had a little rain with quite a precipitation today, which will greatly increase the yield of the berries as well as help all other growing vegetables. Some peas and cherries are being marketed.

WEATHER REPORT

Clear, sunshiny weather prevailed during the week, with the exception of the 25th and 27th, which were cloudy. The average temperature was normal, though the first half of the week was moderately warm and the second half was cool. Light to moderate showers occurred during the night of the 25-26th over the section west of Chesapeake Bay, and light scattered showers over the entire section on the 27th. The weather of the week was favorable for plant growth and farming operations.

Grains are in good to excellent condition. Wheat has headed. Rye has bloomed and is beginnig to ripen in Queen Anne's County. Oats are growing nicely.

Planting of corn was completed. Some replanting was necessary. Corn that is up is doing nicely; some is being cultivated.

Early potatoes are good to excellent, are well advanced, and are being sprayed. Some are blooming in southern Worcester County.

Gardens and truck are in good condition and are doing well.

Peas are in good condition west of Chesapeake Bay; they are podding in southern and blooming in northern counties. On the Eastern Shore peas are being damaged by lice and dry weather. Picking of peas has begun over the southern section.

Pastures and grasses are good generally.

Picking of strawberries continues on the Eastern Shore and in southern Maryland; elsewhere over the section he crop is ripening. Cherries are being picked. Raspberries and blackberries are blooming. What remains of tree fruit is doing well.

Alfalfa is being cut.

Setting out of tomato, sweet potato, and tobacco plants is in progress.

Rain would be beneficial to all crops.
