Messages to Seekers of Success

Luck and Lack

Don't trust to luck. Luck is untrustworthy. Systematic, scientific striving for any goal is far more likely to bring you success than any mere faith in your success.

Just as changing a single letter changes "Luck" to "Lack," so will the reverses of a single day change plenty to want. But you can insure yourself against this by building your success on the habit of saving.

Save and Win

Be well dressed. Make friends. Increase your influence in your community. Enjoy the respect of all your associates.

These things do not come to those who trust to luck for them. Systematic saving will win them for you. Systematic saving will accumulate for you a small fortune that can safely and readily be expanded to a large one.

CIVILIAN TRAINING CAMP WILL OPEN JULY 27TH

Civilian Training camps will again be held this year by the government and for the state of Maryland each congressional district is allowed 42 men or boys. The time for these camps has been set for July 27th.

Camp Meade, Md., will deal with infantry, cavalry, eld artillery and medical corps; Fort Monroe, Va., will handle coast artillery; Langley field, Va., will handle air service; Camp Holabird, Md., motor transportation; Camp A. A. Humphreys, Va., engineers. The camps will last one month.

Almost any average young man can meet the physical requirements for the red course. Candidates must have not less than two inches chest expansion and weigh not less than one hundred pounds stripped. Heart, eyes and ears must be good and teeth serviceable. Minimum physical requirements for the white and blue course applicants are practically the same as for the red, but slightly higher. A certificate as to moral character given by a teacher, clergyman, priest, officer army, navy, marine corps or reserve corps will be required.

No applicant will be admitted to any camp unless he has taken the required vaccination against smallpox and the regular anti-typhoid-paratyphoid prophylaxis prior to his arrival thereat. Graduates of the 1921 citizen's military training camps are not required to take the prophylaxis again Applicants who did not attend the camps last year but who hold certificates showing that they have been vaccinated should forward such certificates with their applications.

No applicant should be vaccinated or inoculated with a view to attending the 1922 camp until he has been notified that he has been tentatively accepted for admission to a camp. With such notification of acceptance will be sent specific instructions as to how the vaccination and inoculation may be accomplished, usually without expense to the applicant.

Transportation is arranged for to and from the camp.

Address all communications and forward applications to: Officer in charge C. M. T. C., headquarters third corps area, Baltimore, Md.

For further information write to the above or see Dr. P. R. Fisher, Denton, who is locally in charge of this matter.

SEN. FRANCE'S SPEECH LEGISLATIVE GUIDE

Washington, D. C., June 6—Senator Capper, of Kansas, leader of the Agricultural Bloc, in commenting on the proposed Tariff Bill as it relates to the farmers of the country said today: "Senator France of Maryland has delivered one of the most interesting speeches made in the Senate on the subject of legislation for the protection of American agriculture. The speech shows that the Senator from Maryland has made an exhaustive study of the subject and that he earnestly desires that the farmers of the country shall be given fair and just treatment. The speech is one that shows a close and intimate study of the subject and his analysis of conditions is an able one. Senator France by reason of his extensive studies of conditions in foreign lands was able to discuss the question from personal knowledge of the problems of the farmers both here and abroad."

Government experts have been greatly impressed by the speech delivered by Senator France and it is more than probable that portions of his speech, if not all of it, will be looked upon as a guide for legislation in succeeding sessions of congress. The senator has urged that a reduction in the rates for transportation on the railroads for agricultural products be had in order that the farmer may be enabled to sell his products at such a price as will give him a profit and at the same time enable the consumer to buy at an equitable price. Accompanying the speech were numerous tables describing the agricultural wealth and production of Maryland. It is more than probable that if the tariff bill is passed and goes to conference that the Maryland senator's study of the situation will be used, in part at least as a guide by the conferees.

"COLD IN THE HEAD"
is an acute attack of Nasal Catarrh.
Those subject to frequent "colds in the head" will find that the use of HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE will build up the System and render them less liable to colds. Repeated attacks of Acute Catarrh may lead to Chronic Catarrh.
HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is taken internally and acts through the Blood on the Mucous surfaces of the System, thus reducing the inflammation and assisting Nature in restoring normal conditions.

There are two kinds of friends—the kind that says "I sympathize with you," and the kind that says "I'll help you."

The average family man has nodifficulty in keeping up with his bills. His trouble is to prevent his bills from keeping up with him.

A man is known by the money he saves.

HOMEY PHILOSOPHY FOR 1922

Every now an' then we hark back to the old copy book and remember the lines on the top. Who forgets "Example is Better Than Precept" which means "Teach by doin' things, not by saying things?" Here's a whole bunch of us actin' as wise owls teaching the young what to do, tellin' 'em all sorts of things they don't believe because they see we're not carryin' 'em out ourselves. The reason we don't carry 'em out is because we've grown old and that's the greatest crime of all. Every man seems to wish he could start out in life with the knowledge and experience of middle age. Why not? We can't get the experience of age in child life but we can drag back the simplicity an' truth of child life in the middle age. Mohamet can always go to the mountain.

Uncle John's Poem—

SEASONABLE STUFF

The season for vacations is upon us once again. . . . The business, shot to pieces, has produced an extry strain. . . . A feller's got to get away to rest awhile, you know, so the most important question is, where's he goin' to go? With Europe shot to pieces, an' her scenery gone to smash—besides, the rumpus didn't leave an overplus of cash. . . There ain't the old inducements for to breast the ocean's foam, an' it realy ain't desirable to go so fur from home. . . The question grows perplexin' as they often will, ye know—the hour keeps drawin' nigher, but —where are you goin' to go?

Well—there's the Rocky Mountains, fairy ladders to the skies—or, the Northern Lakes is callin' from a perfect paradise. . . . You can rest in Eden's Gvarden on our whole Atlantic coast, or journey to the Sunny South, the land I love the most. . . . Go where the Old Pacific cools the Californy Belle—or, drift around the Yallerstone, where heaven flirts with hell. . . Yosemite, the fairyland, or Florida, the Queen . . . or up among the Catskills to a place you never seen. . . . You can tackle Arizony where the Canyon splits the earth—and none of 'em will cost ye more'n a tenth of what it's worth. Huh—talk about vacations—it drives me to despair, when I think about the idiots that's allers askin' "where?"
