CHRIST CHURCH CALLS REV. A. CHAMBERLAINE

Following the regular morning service at Christ Church last Sunday, the Rev. Mr. Alward Chamberlaine, of Easton, formally accepted before the vestrymen, the call of the church to be its pastor.

Originally an Eastern Shore boy, Mr. Chamberlaine grew up in St. Paul's parish, Baltimore, where he was one of the choir boys. For 20 years he acted as archdeacon of Idaho, returning to the Eastern Shore a year and a half ago at the request of Bishop Davenport of this diocese, whom he had known in St. Paul's. In this time he has done splendid work all through the Easton diocese, wherever his help was needed to build up and instil new life. He possesses a very strong personality, is a forceful speaker and one of wide experience. Christ Church is fortunate in securing him as rector.

Early November is the time when Mr. Chamberlaine expects to enter upon his duties here, when, with Mrs. Chamberlaine and his mother, he will take up his residence in the rectory here.

Mr. Chamberlaine will be remembered for his splendid address at the convocation here last October. His sermon last Sunday morning, based on the text "Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's" was full of interest and inspiration. Christ Church is expecting to do great things under his leadership.

MARYLAND BOYS AGAIN WIN NATIONAL HONORS

College Park, Oct.—Invading the great mid-western dairy section of the country and capturing first place in the junior dairy cattle judging contest at the National Dairy Show at St. Paul, Minn., Saturday, October 7, Maryland agricultural club boys have won their second livestock judging contest of national scope and importance within a year.

While a Maryland team was successful in winning the national livestock judging contest at the Southeastern Fair at Atlanta, Ga., last October with its prize trip to Europe, the victory at St. Paul last Saturday is the first which Maryland boys have captured at the National Dairy Show. Two years ago when the Maryland team first made its appearance in the show, the team placed fourth and last year came in fifth.

The Maryland team was composed of Hubert Snodgrass, Richard N. Willis,, and Charles Fendal Cushing, all of Harford County. They were selected to represent the State in the dairy cattle judging contest held at the Timonium State Fair during September. All the boys are members of agricultural clubs in Harford County and received their preliminary training from County Agent B. B. Derrick, Assistant County Agent, G. R. Stuntz and specialists of the University of Maryland Extension Service in preparation for the Timonium contest.

Under the rules governing the contest the boys were required to place in the order of merit four specimens of each of the four dairy breeds-Guernseys, Jerseys, Holsteins and Ayrshires and to give written reasons for their selections.

The team was accompanied by P. W. Chichester, assistant state boys' club agent, and B. B. Derrick, county Agent for Harford County.

The expenses of the team to St. Paul this year were paid by contributions from livestock breeders throughout the State who were interested in the project by Louis McLane Merryman, of Cockeysville, and by the Rockville and Harford County Fair Associations.

C. H. S. Boys and Girls Win

Tuesday afternoon the girls of C. H. S. won over the Greensboro High school in a fast game of volley ball by the score of 22-16.

Following the game by the girls, the boys defeated Greensboro in a hotly contested game of soccer to the tune of 3-0. Our boys surely did keep the visitors moving and kept them from their goal almost the entire game. Denton made one point in the first half and two in the last half of the game.

THREE WEDDINGS THIS WEEK

HUGHES—ROE

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Roe Saturday afternoon, Octobber 14th, at 2 o'clock, when their daughter Helen was united in marriage to Mr. Jonathan L. Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Hughes, of Denton, by the Rev. Mr. Vinal E. Hills, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The bride was attended by Miss Lydia Hughes, sister of the groom, and the best man was Mr. Mark Breeding. The wedding march was played by Mrs. William Denny, of Baltimore.

Miss Roe wore a handsome Harding blue velvet gown, with grey picture hat and carried a bouquet of butterfly roses. Her attendant was attired in a gown of caramel silk crepe and carried pink rosebuds.

Palms, roses and chrysanthemums were used to decorate the home. A reception and colation followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Hughes left for an extended wedding trip.

A surprise awaited the guests, for as the wedding couple were ready to leave, their attendants announced their intention of accompanying them and being married in Chestertown. After the usual jokes, played by the younger guests, the party finally got away amid a shower of rice, and at Chestertown, Mr. and Mrs. Hughes in turn turn attended the wedding of their attendants, as best man and matron of honor.

Mrs. Hughes was one of Caroline High School's most popular teachers. She is a graduate of Goucher College, Baltimore, and following some time teaching in Virginia, came to Caroline as English and French instructor for the past three years.

Mr. Hughes is the agent of the Studebaker Motor Company in this section, with headquarters at Easton. They will reside in Denton for the winter.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were:

Mrs. William P. Draper and son Bateman, Mrs. Clogg and daughter Mary Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cover and Mrs. Caleb Winslow and Mrs. William Denny, all of Baltimore, Md.; Dr. and Mrs. Coble; Preston, Mr. Enoch George, Greensboro, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Roe, Miss Mary Butterworth, Mr. and Mrs. Keene Saulsbury; Brooklyn, N. Y., Mr. G. C. Skirven; Atlantic City, N. J., Mrs. J. G. Emerson; Oxford, Md., Mrs. T. M. Green; Patterson, N. J., Miss Addie Smith and Mrs. Oliver Merrill.

BREEDING—HUGHES

Miss Lydia Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Hughes, of Denton, and Mr. Mark Breeding, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Breeding, of Federalsburg, were united in marriage in Chestertown, Md., Saturday evening, October 14th, at 6 o'clock, by the Rev. Mr. Charles Atwater.

Miss Hughes and Mr. Breeding were accompanied by the bride's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan L. Hughes, whose marriage they had attended earlier in the afternoon as maid of honor and best man. Evidently the spirit of the first wedding was catching, for the attendants decided to accompany Mr. and Mrs. Hughes and be married in Chestertown. Following the ceremony the four continued the drive to Philadelphia, where they spent the week end. Mr. and Mrs. Breeding returned to Denton on Monday evening, where they will make their home for the present.

The bride, who is a graduate of Peabody Institute, Baltimore, wore for her wedding gown the caramel silk crepe in which she had appeared as attendant for Mrs. Hughes. Mr. Breeding is a graduate of Washington College and Goldey's Business College, Wilmington. He is connected with the bride's brother, Mr. J. L. Hughes, in the Studebaker agency in Easton.

Mr. and Mrs. Breeding are busy receiving congratulations from their startled friends.

RICHARDSON—HAYMAKER

Miss Helen Lewis Haymaker, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Haymaker, of Denton, and Mr. Neal Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Richardson, also of Denton, were married last Thursday evening, October 12th, at 7 p. m., in the Ridgely Methodist Episcopal Church, by the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Melvin E. Wheatley.

The bride, who was gowned in a becoming navy blue taffeta, with hat to match, and a shower bouquet of yellow dahlias, was given in marriage by her father. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. J. Elmer Anthony, of Centreville, as matron of honor, and Miss Lucile Bailey, of Centreville, as maid of honor. The former wore brown charmeuse with hat to match and carried salmon dahlias, while Miss Bailey was attired in blue georgette and carried variegated dahlias. Mr. J. Elmer Anthony was best man. Wedding music was furnished by Miss Margaret Foard of Havre de Grace.

Immediately after the wedding, to which only the members of the immediate families were invited, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson left for a wedding trip southward, following which they will reside in Denton, where the groom holds a position as clerk in the post office.

Many friends of this young couple, after recovering from the surprise of the wedding, are hastening to extend congratulations and best wishes.

HOME-MADE CANDY TIME COMES AROUND

Cool weather brings with it the delicious home made candies for which the Denton Candy Company was so noted when it opened last year. The heat of the summer made it impossible to do this work successfully, but now all the old favorites are back in stock. It makes little difference whether you prefer peanut brittle or the more expensive nut candies, fondants, mints, caramels or nougatines—you may be sure of pure candy and good candy, all of it homemade.

GREENSBORO FORMALLY OPENED HIGH SCHOOL

The formal opening of the new Greensboro High School building was held Thursday evening. The new spacious auditorium was taxed to its limit with quite an overflow standing on the outside.

The building was thrown open to the public at 7 o'clock for inspection, the boys of the High School, acting as guides. The people of Greensboro and visitors were much pleased with the new building and envied in a way, the privilege of the Greensboro boys and girls of today.

For the past two weeks the building committee has been working indefatigably to have the building in final shape but railroad delays interfered. However, all necessary equipment was ready with the exception of Domestic Science, Manual Training and Laboratory rooms, which will be complete within the next ten days.

At 8 o'clock the exercises began in the auditorium. The stage was tastefully decorated by ladies of the Civic Club with cut and potted flowers. A huge American flag formed the background of the myriads of colors.

Superintendent E. M. Noble presided and at the beginning announced that he would turn over the music to Mrs. Paul C. Phillips, who has had much experience in directing community singing. The audience sang "America." At the close of each address, the school, led by Mrs. Phillips, sang patriotic songs.

The first address of the evening was delivered by Dr. M. Bates Stephens, a native Carolinean, who was formerly a principal of Greensboro school and state superintendent of education. Dr. Stephens, in an interesting way contrasted the public school of his regime with the present modern building and congratulated the people of Greensboro on their new acquisition.

The next speaker was Mr. Hopkins, the architect, who recited in his humorous manner, the various obstacles that stood in the way of the building committee. Mr. Hopkins explained various points of construction from the standpoint of school architecture.

At this point Superintendent Noble gave a talk on general problems which confronted the building committee and spoke in glowing terms of the members of this committee who gave so much of their time and energy. He also expressed the sentiment of the audience when he expressed the regret of Mr. Clinton Jarman, chairman of the building committee that he was not able to be present because of bereavement in the family.

Superintendent of Education, Albert S. Cook, was the next speaker. He was introduced by ex-Superintendent, M. Bates Stephens, his predecessor in office. As his theme for the evening, Dr. Cook took the question of teacher's salary schedule, worked out last year. He showed in a clear and lucid manner how necessary it was for the teacher to be paid a decent living wage. He proved that by raising salaries of teachers of Maryland, the efficiency of Maryland schools has been increased.

Dr. Cook also discussed the general trend of education and gave his views in a forceful manner on the question of charging tuition in the high schools of the state. He explained that this sporadic talk came from the politicians.

The last speaker of the evening was Professor Paul C. Phillips, principal of the Greensboro High School. He expressed on behalf of the faculty their appreciation of Greensboro providing such a splendid building. Prof. Phillips also expressed his pleasure in being the head of such a fine body of students and gave some statistics in regard to enrollment of various classes

The exercises closed with the "Star Spangled Banner" after which many of the audience inspected the building. The people of Greensboro are proud of their new building which stands as a monument to their progress.
