SHALL WE DROP IT ?

Rumors are that the movement on foot for the purchase of grounds suitable for a public playground is being dropped. Considerable interest has been taken along this line of late and the matter should not be dropped at this time. Denton is sorely in need of a public playground and a place suitable for holding the county athletic meet, carnival, chautauqua, etc.

At a recent meeting of the Denton Community Club that organization was asked to donate a large proportion of the money earned at the recent carnival, which was earned for another purpose, to be given to the town as an initial payment on a playground site. The organization turned the proposal down but at the same time said that it would co-operate in securing a playground and would go to work for that particular thing.

Matters of this kind should be gotten behind by this organization and we feel sure that the Community Club will back and work for a movement to secure playgrounds, but it could not take money which was given for one purpose and turn it over for another without the consent of the donors.

With the Community Club behind this project, it should be an easy matter to secure sufficient contributions to purchase the necessary land for a suitable playground. There should be enough public spirited citizens in Denton, who can readily afford it, to put up enough money inside of a day, to secure the necessary grounds.

Federalsburg, Ridgely, Preston and Greensboro in this county and nearly all the towns of the same size as Denton and many smaller on the Eastern Shore have suitable playgrounds which have been secured through public co-operation. Shall the county seat town lag behind ?

Many are confusing the playground proposition with a site for a new school building for Denton. From those who seem to know the lay of the land the prospect of a new high school for Denton is rather far distant—that is, in the neighborhood of six to eight years. Shall the boys and girls suffer for lack of out-door exercise as well as being cramped in a school building far too small ? Let us get the playground NOW. The school site will take care of itself later.

Will the Community Club take up this work and push it to a successful conclusion ?

GREENSBORO

The regular meeting of the Greensboro Community Club was held on Tuesday night. Judge Goldsborough opened the program with a review of current progress in Science and inventions which was most interesting.

Miss Kellog then gave a clever talk on the debatable question, "Does food or clothing make the man?" The conclusion seemed to prove that although clothes are a necessary factor to his well being, it is food that is most essential to his mental, moral and physical development. We were glad to be reassured on this subject-some of us had heard that in this day of grace it is the car he drives that makes the man.)

During the business session it was decided that our next regular meeting, which is to be held on Wednesday evening, November 8th (because of the Election coming on our regular date) should be an open meeting to which all the friends of the club are invited. Each member is urged to come and bring as many guests as possible to this meeting which will be held in the Auditorium of the School.

Mr. Henry P. Hopkins, the Architect of our new building, has generously consented to give a lecture, illustrated with stereoptican views, on the extant Egyptian monuments, the Building Art of Greece and Rome, France and England and some of the recent work in the United States.

Holy Trinity Church

The Reverand Alward E. Chamberlaine of Easton will hold service in the Church of the Holy Trinity on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Gas Oil Is Not Gasoline

Due to the American tendency to abbreviate, gasoline has come to be almost universally known as 'gas' and this has led to some confusion with another product of crude petroleum-oil. There is considerable difference between the two products. Gasoline is principally used as fuel for internal combustion engines. Gas oil is much heavier and is used to enrich the ordinary artificial gas for lighting and heating.

FOUR BARRELS OF CRUDE TO ONE OF GASOLINE

The principal commercial product of crude petroleum is gasoline and the crude oil of the United States and Mexico is produced primarily to meet the demand for this important motor fuel.

Contrary to a very prevalent belief, however, a 42-gallon barrel of crude oil does not refine into 42 gallons of gasoline, nor is all crude suitable for refining.

According to the American Petroleum Institute, it takes about four barrels of crude to make one barrel of gasoline. In other words, gasoline forms only about 25 per cent. of a barrel of crude.

Other products of the barrel are: Kerosene, 10 per cent; fuel and gas oils, 48 per cent; lubricating oil, 4.5 per cent.; wax, coke and asphalt, 2.5 per cent; miscellaneous products, 6 per cent. There is a 4 per cent. loss in refining.
